

THE ANDOVER NEWS

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

HAMILTON C. NORRIS, EDITOR

ANDOVER, N. Y., April 18, 1894.

Senator Hill's position on the tariff question is much easier to locate as his position on the silver question.

Congress is in one respect like the machinery of a crank's head; its wheels go round but "it cuts no ice."

Those who believe that the Ohio man is to have another turn at the helm of the Ship of State cannot be classed as Reed men.

The North Carolina man who sheds his skin every year or two is away ahead of the fellow who sheds his opinion just as often.

Rev. Sam Small, the Georgia Oklahoma editor-preacher, intimates that Bob Ingersoll wouldn't know a scheme of salvation if he met it on the road.

According to Senator Brice, President Cleveland is opposed to the income tax. Who was it that said Brice wasn't on good terms with Mr. Cleveland?

Perhaps some of the Senators think it necessary to surround themselves with a cloud of uncertainty, in order to prevent the public losing interest in them.

This is the season to pass by on the other side when some professional philanthropist offers to sell your stock in a fabulously rich gold mine at a nominal price.

In Italy colleges are closing on account of the "hard times." The Italians that Americans know most about have never been patrons of colleges in any sort of times.

Germany is one ahead of us. She has broken up a notorious gang of green goods men, while numerous gangs of them are working without hindrance in the United States.

The train-robber who escaped from the Mississippi penitentiary the other day, carrying one of the guards off with him, must be a very strong man, or the guard was a very weak man.

There is no discount on the "hard times" when manufacturers of printing ink go into the hands of a receiver. Certainly no purchaser of printing inks was prepared for such a shock.

If any kind of money is taxable all kinds should be. That's why the bills, now pending in Congress, repealing the law which exempts greenbacks from taxation ought to go through with a whirl.

Dr. Hammond, of Washington, who would if he were an Indian be called Talk-a-beap, says the so-called "elixir of life" discovered by the late Dr. Brown-Sequard was not a failure. How comes it then that Dr. Brown-Sequard is dead?

Strange things happen in politics. It is said the opinion of the tariff expressed by Senator Hill in his speech comes very near to being the same that is held by President Cleveland. It is possible that they both get their inspiration from the same quarter.

A majority of the Senate is today either opposed to or in favor of the tariff bill, and no amount of talk is likely to change a single vote. These facts being admitted, the question naturally follows, why not vote and either pass or defeat the bill at once.

Every office-seeker will endorse that portion of the red-hot address issued by the Democratic Association of Minnesota which says that the battle must be continued "until every citizen of our Republic shall be secure in the untrammelled right to what he will." But how can we all hold offices?

The example of Congressman Henderson, of Iowa, in telling fish stories to get a bill passed is worthy of being followed, not only because it was successful, but because his fish stories were more interesting than the talk of the average member of the House on more serious subjects.

It would be worth while for the ladies to bear in mind that if they take a gentle course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla in the spring, they will have no trouble with prickly heat, hives, sties, boils or black heads, when summer comes. Prevention is better than cure.

A man was arrested in Fredonia last week for resisting the Board of Health when they endeavored to quarantine his house on account of diphtheria.

"For Years,"

Says LARRIE E. STOCKWELL, of Chesterfield, N. H., "I was afflicted with an extremely severe pain in the lower part of the chest. The feeling was as if a ton weight was laid on a spot the size of my hand. During the attacks, the perspiration would stand in drops on my face, and it was agony for me to make sufficient effort even to whisper. They came suddenly, at any hour of the day or night, lasting from thirty minutes to half a day, leaving as suddenly; but, for several days after, I was quite prostrated and sore. Sometimes the attacks were almost daily, then less frequent. After about four years of this suffering, I was taken down with bilious typhoid fever, and when I began to recover, I had the worst attack of my old trouble I ever experienced. At the first of the fever, my mother gave me Ayer's Pills, my doctor recommending them as being better than anything he could prepare. I continued taking these Pills, and so great was the benefit derived that during nearly thirty years I have had but one attack of my former trouble, which yielded readily to the same remedy."
