Petitions have been presented to the officers of the Hornellville & Canisteo Street Railway by the several churches of Hornellville and Canisteo, requesting them to run no Sunday excursions to Glenwood. If their request is refused they will not patronize either the road or the park for any picnic purposes whatever, as a Sunday School, Young People's Society or any other organization connected with the church or as private families during the week. The petitions were signed by a good many people in both places.

Last Friday, Mrs. Rosina Ellison, widow of James Ellison, who resides at Phillips Creek, was thrown from a wagon and instantly killed. She had been to the farm of a neighbor to gather strawberries, and when she was ready to return, the neighbor hitched up his horses to carry her home, and drove up to his door. He left the team without tying while he went into the house for a moment. While he was gone Mrs. Ellison climbed into the carriage. The horses took fright, ran away, and threw her to the ground. Her skull was fractured and death was almost instantaneous. Mrs. Ellison was about 60 years of age, and had lived at Phillips Creek for many years.

Plans for the Hornellville armory have been received by Capt. McDougall of the 47th Separate company. The building will have a frontage on Seneca street of 176 feet and on Washington street of 92 feet. The Administration building will be 75 by 90, two stories high with a tower at the corner and smaller ones at the northeast and southwest corners. The drill shed will be 75 by 120. The officers' room is to be in the left of the main entrance. The non-commissioned officers' room will be in the rear of the building. The second floor of the building includes a reception room, balcony, reading room, officers room, general parlor, and laboratories. The company is now at Peckskill camp. The membership is over 70.

Better Than Cousin.
The complaint paid a certain Andover merchant by the Wellsville Democrat in a recent issue on his hustling qualities and his free use of printer's ink was well put. If we were to guess as to who was meant, the Democrat giving no names, we should say it must be first cousin to the Andover citizen who is trying to boom his town by getting a handsome bonus, parse ready to offer some manufacturing institution, by making a good subscription himself. How near have we hit our man, neighbor? Maybe the "news men" can help us out.—Cuba Patriot.

The Patriot has made a fairly good guess, but will have to try once more before hitting the mark in exactly the right spot. Instead of saying first cousin, the Patriot should say that the man who offered the cash bonus will take the money out of the pocket in the clothes worn by the man who uses printers' ink so freely. The fact that printers' ink had a good deal to do with putting the money in the pocket, and the use of the same stuff will be the means of taking it out again to help build up this town, if his offer shall be taken advantage of, is another illustration of the axiom that judicious advertising is a great motive power. Certainly, whether the result aimed at by this gentleman in making his offer is ever realized or not, it has already had the effect of giving himself and the town in which he lives considerable prominence throughout this section, if we may judge by the handsome notices appearing in nearly all the papers published within a radius of fifty miles from here.

NOW IS THE TIME.

Andover Can Secure an Important Manufacturing Plant, if the People Act Promptly.

In the issue of June 13th, the News contained the following item:

"There are good prospects that a manufacturing plant may soon be established in this place which will give employment to twenty or thirty men at the start, with favorable chances for a steady growth of the business. The matter is now being agitated, and it is hoped the project will prove sufficiently attractive to warrant the establishment of the plant."

It is now an assured fact that the industry referred to may be established here if the people of this place will do their share. It will require no gift of money, land or anything else, and the requirements from our people are almost insignificant in comparison to the benefits that will result. The iron is hot, and now is the time to strike!

Granite State Provident Association.

A branch of the Granite State Provident Association, of Manchester, N. H., was organized in this place last Saturday evening, through the efforts of its energetic agent, Mr. C. A. Larned.

About $14,000 worth of stock was represented. The officers for the ensuing year are as follows: President, John Prest; Vice President, T. H. Ross; Secretary, O. E. Vars; Treasurer, Erwin D. Baker; Attorney, Crayton L. Early; Appraisal committee, John Prest, J. J. Warfield, O. E. Vars. This Association is one of the largest in the United States, and is prominently recognized as a solid institution. Andover welcomes its coming, for through it at least a dozen buildings will be erected.

INDEPENDENCE NEWS.

If I say "Uly one, is it calling you a liar!"

The gas pipe is being laid through this place as fast as possible.

The S. D. B. Ladies' Aid will meet with Mrs. O. G. Clark on the afternoon and evening of the 11th inst.

The hay crop promises to be quite heavy, as Gump had some cut in his door yard recently that was nearly five feet high.

Mrs. Chester Forsyth is enjoying a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Potter of Alfred.

The acreage sown to buckwheat in this town is very large and a good crop may be expected, unless the heat of the summer solstice should blast it.

In last week's News you say: "Mr. A. C. Frisbey has ripe tomatoes on his own vines in his own garden." Pshaw! that's nothing; I had ripe tomatoes on my own vines in my own garden as long ago as last September.

Say, Norris, a person's stomach being a "receptacle," how are people outside of Andover who go there to trade, to quench their thirst, unless they induce some of your citizens to evade the cast iron rules of the Water Commissioners, and present them a "glass that cheers but not inebriates?" [Well, Gumption, if a glass of water is all you take in the line of liquid refreshments, when you come to Andover, we'll see that you don't leave town dry.]

Among the visitors at church here last Seventh day were the following: A Mr. and Mrs. Stearns of Coudersport, Pa., Mrs. Densy Eaton, mother of Dr. Dell Eaton, of Lewisville, Pa., and Mrs. C. H. Austin and daughter, of Spring Mills.

Comrade and Mrs. L. E. Livermore of Alfred were guests of your correspondent's family from Wednesday till Thursday of last week, and made calls among friends and relatives whom his bride had never seen.
