Is Life Worth Living?

That depends upon the Liver. If the Liver is inactive the whole system is out of order—the breath is bad, digestion poor, head dull or aching, energy and hopefulness gone, the spirit is depressed, a heavy weight exists after eating, with general despondency and the blues. The Liver is the housekeeper of the health; and a harmless, simple remedy that acts like Nature, does not constipate afterwards or require constant taking, does not interfere with business or pleasure during its use, makes Simmons Liver Regulator a medical perfection.

I have tested its virtues personally, and know that for Dyspepsia, Biliousness, and Throbbing Headache, it is the best medicine the world ever saw. Have tried forty other remedies before Simmons Liver Regulator, and none of them gave more than temporary relief, but the Regulator not only relieved but cured.
H. H. Jones, M.D.

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of Information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and thus are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Sample copies sent free. Building Edition, monthly, $1 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Something to Interest Property Owners of Andover.

If you will lay a first-class stone walk you will be allowed 50 per cent. of the cost on street or highway taxes, which is more than some towns allow. Mr. O. P. Crandall has had about nineteen years experience in the business, and in that time has tried to find the best quality of stone, also has first-class workmen prepared to cut and lay walks on short notice. I am using sawed stone or Eastern blue stone, as people may prefer. I have one kind of sawed stone that will wear equal to the Medina stone for walks, horse-blocks, door sills, or any other place it is used, and is as free from spots as any stone in the market, and never scales. Leave your orders at my house in Andover, or in the postoffice, and I will give you bottom prices.
O. P. CRANDALL.

Our readers will find Simmons Liver Regulator advertised in these columns. We advertise it, and use it, and we commend it as a safe and excellent medicine. We became acquainted with it in Georgia where it is a standard family medicine. We do not deny the merits of other preparations but simply state that this one commands confidence. From the Journal, Lancaster, Minn.

Death of Mrs. Jason Hunt.

Fannie F., relict of the late Jason Hunt, died at her home in this village, Thursday, July 5, 1894. She was in her 84th year. She had been confined to her bed continuously for the past five years, and also the greater part of the time previously, after the death of her husband which occurred Oct. 21, 1888.

Mrs. Hunt was born in Vermont, and had lived in Andover 63 years. Her maiden name was Amidon, and she was married to Jason Hunt in 1850. She leaves one son and five daughters, namely: J. A. Hunt, Mrs. L. M. Dickinson and Mrs. Alice Barnard of Andover, and Mrs. J. Loxley, Mrs. D. M. Metzger and Mrs. S. T. Vantgorder, of Elmira.

The funeral services were held at the house Sunday afternoon, and were conducted by Rev. E. A. Rice of Wellsville, assisted by Rev. J. M. Leach of Andover.

Water is Abundant Now.

For two or three weeks past there has been a shortage in the supply of water through the mains in the village. The springs did not furnish enough water for daily consumption, and the supply in the reservoir became as low as was safe for the public welfare. Investigation showed that the springs were supplying as much water as ever, but very little of it was running into the pipes, indicating an obstruction at some point on the route between the springs and the village. There is a low spot in the pipe about a mile from Main street, where the line crosses a gully, and it was thought that here would be found the seat of the difficulty. Accordingly the earth was removed, the pipe cut, and a few lengths taken up, when the cause of the trouble was found. Sticks, stones, gravel, pieces of fence rails, and almost everything else small enough to go into the pipe, were found clogged in to as small a space as possible, and the wonder is that any water could get through the pipe. These were removed, the pipe thoroughly cleaned and replaced, and the supply of water is more abundant than ever. The water commissioners spent many hours of valuable time in remedying what can be called nothing else than defective work done by the contractor. Mr. Charles Simons of Wellsville had charge of the job of removing and replacing the pipe.

Remedy for Milk Fever.

In the first place I would prevent, by not having cows calve in the months of June, July and August; but in case I had one calve in either of these months I would keep her in the barn and milk every day for at least one week before she calved. One or two days before calving give one pound Epsom salts; after calving give one pound salts and one handful salt. Then if she should have milk fever, give 25 to 30 drops of the tincture of aconite in a pint of thin gruel every three or four hours until 120 to 130 drops have been taken. In the meantime give physic, say a pound of Epsom salts, with the same quantity of common salt, dissolved in about three quarts of water, sweetened with molasses, with an ounce of ginger; this is to be given to open the bowels, and is to be repeated in two or three hours if necessary, with injections of soap and warm water. Broken ice, in a cloth bag, is applied to the head, and friction to the limbs.

ANOTHER REMEDY.

1st, give one and one-half pounds Epsom salts and one ounce powdered ginger in one-half gallon of water.
2d, mix together ten ounces aromatic spirits ammonia and twenty ounces spirits of nitrous ether, and immediately after giving the first, give three ounces at a dose in a pint of cold water and continue every half hour until five doses are given, then give three ounces every hour until balance of medicine is used. Also take one pound ground mustard, mix with hot water and rub in well along the back; cover well to keep up the heat. When mustard is dry it will rub off.
J. CLARKE.

A line of light and heavy wagons at D. J. Constock's for sale. Call and see them.

No man can afford to lay stone walks cheaper than O. P. Crandall does, and use good stone.

There will be another tie-up in Chicago this week Friday. Prendergast, the murderer of Mayor Harrison, will be hanged.

SPRING MILLS NEWS.

There seems to be a sort of epidemic—grip or something—hovering around Spring Mills. It attacks the young people mostly, though some older ones here seem to be in danger. And what seems strange is that those who have suffered from it do not try to avoid taking it again. They seem perfectly reckless about it. Persons attacked have restless, feverish symptoms and are troubled with sleeplessness, especially Saturday and Sunday nights. Some of the patients are taken suddenly, others linger along some time, but before recovering they usually have to get a prescription from a minister or Justice of the Peace.

A couple from away came to Herbert Smith's on a visit. They were taken with the above-named disease, and Herb. came for B. H. Robbins, who soon pronounced them husband and wife, and also gave them a license to raise Beans.

Here is another case: Married, at the home of the bride, on the evening of July 3d, Mr. Frank Snyder of North Fork and Miss Myrtle Owen of Spring Mills.

We have seen running, pacing and trotting horses on our streets lately; have seen a newly wedded couple try to start out on their bridal trip and the horse refuse to go, etc.,

But the sight that called attention, and deserves our special mention, was four young misses from Ullyses, riding gracefully on wheels.

Mr. Frank Brown of Lewisburg, Pa., has been in town a few days.

Miss Emma Haar of New York city came home with Mrs. Lewis for a visit.

Several other visitors were at church Sunday, besides a bride and groom.

A storm of wind, rain and hail visited this place Friday evening, not doing much damage, but making things lively while it lasted. We hope potato bugs were the worst sufferers.

Who Can Beat This?

S. G. Waffle of Elm Valley has a herd of fourteen native cows, that have made two records at the factory this season of 540 pounds of milk. These cows came in very early, two of them are 16 years old and one has lost an udder.

Racing Circuit Formed.

Representatives of racing associations of Dansville, Hornellsville, Elmira, Wellsville and Bath, met at Hornellsville last Friday evening for the purpose of forming a racing circuit. The following dates for holding the races were agreed upon: Dansville, August 21-24; Hornellsville, August 27th to September 1st; Wellsville, September 2-7; Corning, September 12-14; Elmira, September 17-24; Bath, September 25-28.

You can see in a few days a sample of one kind of sawed flaggging stone I use, which I shall lay for A. M. Burrows on Center street. O. P. CRANDALL.
