How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, "How's your liver?" correct, or is it without a healthy liver? When the liver is torpid the bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy. NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for dyspepsia, torpid liver, constipation, etc., I hardly ever see anything else, and have never been disappointed in the cure produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the stomach and bowels.

Probyterian Progress.
 Last Sunday the pastor of the Presbyterian church, Rev. G. M. Jones, preached his fifth anniversary sermon, from which we make the following quotations:

"Five years ago there were upon the records of this church just 80 names. In the time that has since passed 70 have been added, of whom 17 were by letter and 53 on the profession of their faith. In the same time 19 have been dismissed by letter and four have died, leaving a total present membership of 188."

"Five years ago there was no organization connected with the church except the Sabbath School. For over four years we have had a flourishing Society of Christian Endeavor and a Woman's Missionary Society, and within the last year a Ladies' Aid Society. The first has given us increased spiritual life and membership, and has prepared an unusually promising class of young people for participation in church work as they could not possibly have been prepared in the same length of time in any other way. The second, while not as large in numbers as we could wish, has been most faithfully administered, and who shall say how many of the heathen, in the Day of Judgment, will rise up and call them blessed? The third, the Aid Society, although having had a separate existence only during the past year, has in fact, in connection with the Missionary Society, been doing very efficient work for the entire time. It has steadily reduced indebtedness, it has added many conveniences about church and parsonage, and it has always extended a liberal hand where other means failed. As many another pastor has said and felt, in similar circumstances, 'I say and feel, God bless those women!'"

"Financially, also, the church has done finely. Five years ago there was an indebtedness of between $500 and $600, and it has all been paid. Besides this, the church has been singing and during the past year over $2,000 has been paid for the parsonage. It looks a credit to the society that the funds for the parsonage were contributed wholly by our people, with the exception of $150. One hundred dollars was received from Mr. Love of Philadelphia and fifty from Mr. Albro Newton of Brooklyn, whose kindness and generosity will ever be remembered."

"Looking back upon these five successful years, let us thank God and take courage. Let it be said of us, as was said of those ancient people, 'we had a mind to work!'"

Business is Business.

The above saying was demonstrated in a real estate transaction in this place recently, and as the News had a hand in, we wish to show the people that an advertisement in these columns always brings something to pass. In this case, Mr. A. M. Burrows advertised his house on Church street for sale. The notice was read in the State of Massachusetts within forty-eight hours. Mr. Burrows was asked, by letter, to give terms of sale, which proved satisfactory; the property changed hands, and Andover will receive an addition to her citizenship that will do her credit. Again we say, if you have anything for sale and want to sell it, advertise in the News.

Cuba Fair and Races.

The dates of the Cuba Fair and Races this year, are Sept. 11-12-13 and 14, following Wellsville. The exhibit this year is sure to eclipse all previous efforts of who attend the Cuba Fair and Races secured that they will see a big exhibition each and every department. This is accounted for by the fact that this association allows an exhibitor to place an entry in each and every division for two dollars and give the tickets to the other exhibitors. This year will be one of the most successful in the history of the association, and all for three and four months of fair success.

Teachers' Training Class.

Andover Union School and Academy has been designated by State Superintendent Crooker to instruct a Teachers' Training Class during the coming school year. The Superintendent prescribes the conditions of admission and the rules and regulations under which said instruction shall be given. There must be at least ten scholars in the class who shall continue under instruction not less than sixteen weeks as expected the class will be organized during the month of September.

Qualifications for admission are as follows:

1. Candidate must have attained the age of sixteen years.
2. They must subscribe, in good faith, to the declaration that they intend to teach in the schools of New York State.
3. Before admission they must pass the examination for at least a third-grade certificate under the State uniform system; or hold a Regents' preliminary certificate and pass-card in Physiology.

Condensed Milk Industry.

The Elgin, Ill., factory of the Chicago Condensed Milk Company, which contained some interesting facts relating to the condensed milk industry of this State, was mentioned in last week's News. If the factory in the surrounding county could be producing milk in winter, and also keep the number of cows that would be required, there seems no reason to believe that a condenser could be built here. It is worth while to agitate the matter, at least. Much good may come of it. We take the following extracts from the paper mentioned above:

"Few manufacturing enterprises have a more prosperous past or a brighter future than the condensed milk industry in this city. Its business seems to be of that class which succeeds in the midst of failures all about it. Its management is ever on the alert to grasp ways and means of prosperity."

"The volume of business done by the New York Condensed Milk Company, of which our Gail Borden factory here is a part, is immense, and there seems to be no limit to the demand for the output. Sales are made almost as rapidly as the product can be manufactured, and although the company over extends its capacity by establishing new factories, still the demand exceeds the supply. Its market is the market of the world, for foreign countries have already learned how desirable an article the condensed milk is."

"On Monday about noon a special train of twenty cars, loaded with Eagle brand condensed milk, will leave Elgin for San Francisco, consigned to the Johnson-Locke mercantile company. The train will contain 432,240 cans of condensed milk. Only about 1 year ago, 200,000 cans were consigned to the same market. Within the present week, the Elgin factory, and above mentioned, two have been sent to Oregon and Washington, and New York, and to Utah, and to the Hawaiian Islands. These twenty-seven car loads are one of the largest ever sent from one factory of any business in New York. Condensed milk business is the volume of business conducted annually by this industry."
