We Give The Limit.

It's a long reach to the end of possibility, but there's where we place buyers of our Men's and Boys' Suits and Overcoats this week—it is impossible to find better values anywhere—the absolute reliability of materials and make, coupled with the prices, make it an inducement competition cannot overcome.

Children's Suits.

We've created a cute little suit which has pleased us so, that we have dubbed it "The Little Prince," and a princely suit it is. The fabrics are those fine imported Cheviots, in blue and medium light colorings, with deep collars and rolling lapels; with a cute little peaked Vest to fasten around the waist. You'll acknowledge when these suits are shown to you, that they're the prettiest styles you have ever laid your eyes upon. They'll be shown for the first time Monday.

Telescope Bags.

The cavernous fellows that hold a handful, or an armful, or almost a little roomful, and are never overcrowded. Light, strong, and the handiest of all the Traveling Bag brotherhood.

14 inch	70c
18 inch	80c
20 inch	$1.00

Shawl straps,
Tourist's straps,
Trunk straps.

Custom Tailoring.

Made right—as we insist on doing it—$30 is a modest price for a REAL Clay Serge Suit. Standard of workmanship is just the same in the $25, $30 and $35 grades, standard stuffs, that are now going at $20 and $25. Trousers, $5 to $10 the pair, very special values. We will NOT sell TRASH! Not a "shoddy" shall find a place on our shelves to defame our reputation or detract from the merits of our merchandise.

The counties of Allegany, Broome, Chemung, Steuben, Schuyler, Tioga and Tompkins constitute group number 3 of this Association, and it was a meeting of this group that was held in Elmira Saturday. Several other banks in this county were also represented.

J. HARRIS & SONS.
New Cloaks.

No store in this section of New York state shows a line of cloaks, wraps, furs, etc., with the extent and variety to surpass ours. Late things in cloth coats of all kinds. Diagonals, beavers, kerseys, miltons, wales, chevots, chevrons, chinchillas, friezes, boucles, plushes, etc. Military and golf capes of single or double texture materials, and with fancy silk linings. Cloak prices are in every instance in keeping with other lines—lower than same grades were last season. Fur capes of all kinds show a marked reduction from last season's fur prices. All kinds of furs areshown—hare,oney, electric seal, martens, sables, beavers, astrachan, wool seal, Persian lamb, in full lengths running from $5 upwards.

There's a long length fine Astrachan cape, full satin-lined, at $15, we want you to see. If you can't come, write for information.

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW.

To Speak Briefly in Andover Thursday, Nov. 1st.

Hon. Chauncey M. Depew will pass through Andover Thursday, Nov. 1, and the Republican State Committee has arranged for the train to stop ten minutes at Andover station, allowing Mr. Depew to make a brief address to the people of this place and vicinity.

We cannot now state the exact time of day when Mr. Depew's train will reach this station, but it will probably be very soon after noon. Further announcements concerning this will probably be made.

In the meantime let everybody prepare to come and hear Mr. Depew speak. A ten minutes' speech from him is worth that many hours' talk from some men, and will be worth going a long distance to hear.

Mr. Depew will address a meeting in Wellsville in the afternoon of the same day.

The Euterpe Club at Wellsville.

Last Wednesday evening the Euterpe Club of this place assisted in pleasing a Wellsville audience at a concert given in that place.

The Club drove from here and were entertained at the home of William Duke. An elaborate dinner was served, with Miss Reba Duke as hostess, at which several Wellsville guests were also present. After the concert a reception was given, at the home of James Thornton, to those who took part, and nothing but the highest praise is adequate in describing the handsome entertainment given the members of the Club, both at the dinner and the reception.

Concerning the concert itself, the following appeared in the Wellsville Reporter the following day:

Arthur Sheffer, Leo Merriman and Michael Hickey, Jr., rendered several charming selections on the violin, piano and clarinet.

The Euterpe Glee Club of Andover captured the house. The eight boys in full dress, made a stunning appearance. Their voices blended exquisitely, and when the rollicking medley of college songs, in which mirth provoking ditties followed melodies of rare pathos, was rendered, the audience went fairly wild in demonstrating its appreciation. Each of the Club's three numbers on the program was heartily encored. Andover is congratulated on being the home of the finest chorus of male voices in South Western New York. The Euterpe Club is made up as follows: Will Cannon, Miles Herrick, Earl Richardson, James Cannon, Thomas Regan, John Cannon, Frank Burrows, Arthur Burrows.

A feature of the program that the audience thoroughly appreciated was the artistic rendition of "The Ruggles' Dinner Party," by Miss Mary Lee Cottrell of Alfred, and the dialogue between "Papa and the Boy," with which Miss Emily Barney of West Union charmed her hearers. Miss Barney and Miss Cottrell both kindly responded to encores which the people requested with applause renewed again and again.

YOU ECONOMIZERS!
MONEY AIN'T SO PLENTIFUL

In these piping times of peace, that people care to waste it. When one reflects how many hours of labor, how many sacrifices and denials are inclosed within the disc of that shining bit of metal we call a "dollar," what wonder people hesitate to part with it except for value received.

NOW FOR IT!
Quite a number of last season's cloaks are still with us (to your profit); they comprise cloaks of all kinds, coats, capes, Newmarkets, etc., and we've given them a separate department on a different floor from this season's wraps—while the prices! They've been cut way, way down, so that you can buy a coat for $1, $1.50, $2, $2.50, $3, $3.50, $4 and $5—that were any number of times those prices; cloths they're made from are all good. But, remember! We only sell them for what they are—"left overs." In another column you can read about the new ones.

The X. Y. Z Society of the Presbyterian Church will meet Saturday Oct. 23d, at 2 o'clock P. M., with Mrs. Anna Brundage. All members are requested to attend. —JENNIE OWEN, Sec.

Dr. Comstock removed an eye from LeRoy Deming last Friday. Mr. Deming's eyesight has failed rapidly of late, until he had become almost blind, and this operation was performed in the hope of saving the little sight yet left in the other eye.

Fassett to Speak at Cuba.

J. Sloat Fassett will speak at the opera house in Cuba on Wednesday evening, Oct. 31st. The Republican Club of that place is making arrangements for a grand demonstration.

We Don't Exaggerate.

The following is from a News subscriber, who resided a number of years in Andover, and is well acquainted with the town and its people. He does not now live here:

"Glad you are doing all you can to boom the town. You have a good basis from which to work, and no one will find the town less than you represent it to be. I think you might 'toot' a little louder and stronger and still keep inside the lines of fact and truth."

The Gulch Cheese Factory Burned.

The cheese factory located near the residence of James Guinn, about four miles from this village, in the town of Greenwood, was burned last Thursday morning about nine o'clock. The factory was owned by William Conley. It is thought the flames originated from a fire built in the factory early in the morning. The factory contained about 250 cheese, of which 78 were removed. There was an insurance of $400 on building, $400 on vats, heaters, etc., and $1,000 on cheese.

Go to Mrs. Mourhess' for your fine millinery.

If you have weak eyes or your eyes water, if you see double objects at a distance, if you see dots or marks floating, don't fail to call on Liberman, the regular visiting optician, at the American house, Andover, Nov. 3rd to 6th. All errors of the eyes corrected with proper glasses, where glasses will correct.
