Andover sets a good copy. The Alfred Star calls upon its readers to organize a Board of Trade.

Chauncey M. Depew will make a brief speech in Andover on Thursday, Nov. 1st. See notice elsewhere.

The work of laying the large gas line began yesterday morning, and will be pushed rapidly forward.

The supper given by the Woman's Relief Corps Saturday evening was well patronized, the receipts being about $18.

Congressman Dolliver, of Iowa, an eloquent and devoted advocate of Republican principles, will speak at Alfred, Tuesday evening, Oct. 30th.

H. W. Cook yesterday brought us a White Star potato raised by him, that weighed when dug a trifle over four pounds and three ounces. It beats the record, so far as we know.

For a disregard of the rights of property-holders, or in other words, for the felonious abstraction of other peoples' goods, Ellery Crandall of Alfred will rest from his labors for one year in the Erie county penitentiary.

The north side of Elm street is being greatly improved by the laying of new five-foot stone sidewalks in continuous line before the residences of F. S. Clark, Jesse Snyder and James Owen. Mr. Owen's sidewalk also extends out on Church street.

Rev. A. W. Cummings, D. D., L. L. D., was stricken with paralysis on Friday. The old gentleman has been in failing health for several years and recently has become quite feeble. At this writing he is very low and probably will not recover. — Wellsville Reporter.

Last week the Bolivar Breeze issued as a supplement a handsome half tone engraving of County Clerk George A. Green. It was "handsome" in more ways than one: Firstly, because it looked like George; secondly, because it was neatly printed; and thirdly, because its publication was a handsome compliment to a popular official.

Are you interested in football? If so, go up to the school ground any afternoon at four o'clock. A number of the "boys" have purchased a ball, and a practice game is played every day at the place named above. An effort will be made to organize a football team here, and everybody interested in the game is invited to join the ranks of players, from whom a team will be selected.

The Enterpe Club intends giving an entertainment in this place about the middle of November. The Club will be assisted by some of the very best talent in this section, and the entertainment will be as enjoyable a one as could be wished for. Further announcements will be made, and in the meantime we advise our readers to raise their expectations to a high point. They will not be disappointed.

As will be seen by an ad. on this page, S. J. Fowler has concluded to offer his services to the public as auctioneer, and is prepared to make dates for selling any kind of property indoors or outside. Previous to coming to Andover Mr. Fowler had experience as an auctioneer, and we are confident he will fill the bill in every respect. If you are going to have an auction consult him before engaging an auctioneer.

There is some talk of making an effort to establish a milk shipping station in Andover, for the purpose of shipping milk daily to New York. Milk has been shipped from Hornellsville for some time, and is taken to that place from points as far west as Alfred. It has been stated on good authority that a station could be established here provided the farmers desired it and would ship their milk in sufficient quantity, fulfilling also other necessary conditions which could easily be done. It is said the price paid for milk is high enough to make it an object for the farmers to ship milk. We hope the matter will be agitated, and if the plan proves feasible, that a station will be established here.

It will be seen by referring to our advertising columns, that Andover has a new law firm, not composed however of new comers. At Rochester last week, Jesse S. Phillips took an examination for admission to the bar, received his diploma, and has formed a partnership with L. C. Van Fleet under the firm name of Van Fleet & Phillips. We congratulate Mr. Phillips on his success in passing the examination, and are still more pleased to know that he will remain in Andover, where his sterling qualities are well known and will doubtless be appreciated. The firm of Van Fleet & Phillips will at once take a prominent position in legal circles, and we trust will achieve the success merited by the ability of its members.

Levi Baker has moved the barn from his premises on First street to the lot occupied by Daniel Baker's machine shop, and the barn will be fitted up for use as a blacksmith shop to be run in connection with the business.

Mrs. J. G. Burdick of New York City, who conducts the New Misspah Mission, non-sectarian institution for the benefit of sailors, will speak on her work at Seventh Day Baptist church this evening. No admission price will be demanded. All are cordially invited.

The C. L. S. C. will meet with Miss Fannie Spaulding Oct. 29.
