NEAR-BY NEWS.

S. G. S. Rowley, believed to have been the oldest Mason in the world, died at Port Allegany, Pa., last week, aged 95 years. He was born in Otego, N. Y., in 1799, and in 1852 he organized Macedonia Lodge, No. 223, of Bolivar, N. Y., which he served as worshipful master several terms, and was chaplain for a quarter of a century.

A hall large enough to hold 8,000 people is being erected at Calerop on Chautauqua Lake. It is intended to use this large auditorium for roller skating and other amusements. Exchange. The term "other amusements" means the mirth indulged in by the spectators every time a skater tries to stop himself from falling by throwing his weight on his heels.

D. S. Powers, who kept a small store near Swains, on the Buffalo division of the Erie railroad, was murdered one day recently by two tramps, who threw his body in a brush heap and took possession of the store. Powers' absence from the store caused suspicion and the tramps told such a queer story that they were suspected, arrested and locked up. It was several days before the body was found. LATER.—The report that Powers was murdered and his body found, proves to be untrue. He appeared in Buffalo last Saturday and tells a thrilling story. The two tramps had assaulted and injured him and he fled to the woods. He roamed about a number of days in a semi-unconscious condition. Finally a farmer carried him in his wagon to Tonawanda and putting him on the electric cars, sent him to Buffalo. His appearance indicated that he had undergone great hardship.

The general term of Supreme Court handed down a decision October 19th that is of great importance to the people of Steuben and other counties. In 1892, the people of Addison and Lindley made extensive expenditures in repairing and building public bridges. Last November these towns presented to the Board of Supervisors of Steuben county a claim for part of this money so paid out as a county charge for which the county should contribute. The counsel for the Board of Supervisors advised the Board not to pay the claims. The towns of Addison and Lindley applied to Judge Rumsey for mandamus compelling the Board to pay the amount demanded. Judge Rumsey granted the mandamus from which order the county appealed to the general term. The case was argued last June at General term in Buffalo. The General term affirmed the decision of Judge Rumsey and sustained the order. This case is one of great importance throughout the state generally as many such cases are pending. It was not thought that the county will appeal to the court of appeals and that this decision will settle the matter for all time. Many towns in that county including Bath will now by virtue of this decision receive large sums of money from the county.

Allegany County Historical Society. The Allegany County Historical Society held a meeting at the Court House in Belmont last week Tuesday evening. It was well attended, quite a number of leading citizens from different parts of the county being present.

President, Jno. S. Minard gave a brief history of the effort in the way of organizing a County Historical Society. W. A. Ferguson of Boston read a paper which had been prepared by Dr. E. E. Hyde of Belmont, which treated of reminiscences of the pioneer periods of this county.

H. D. Kingsbury of Livonia, Livingston county, presented a paper upon "The Importance of Local History." The subject of the proposed Centennial Celebration was then taken up. The President stated that he was requested by a Wellsville party to say that the subject had been somewhat discussed by leading citizens of that place and they would offer to raise at least $500 for defraying the expenses attendant upon the enterprise.

It was finally voted that the Chair appoint a committee of five to whom the time and place of Centennial observances should be left, and direct them to report at the next meeting of the Society which is to be held at Belmont on the 2d Wednesday of January next. The Chair reserved the appointment of such committee.

It was also voted that the Chair appoint a committee of one for each town in the county whose duty it shall be to solicit membership.

A committee consisting of Prof. Crissey and W. J. Richardson, to act with the President in preparing a program for the next meeting was appointed and the meeting adjourned.
