

THE ANDOVER NEWS

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

HAMILTON C. NORRIS, EDITOR

ANDOVER, N. Y., Dec. 5, 1894.

The populist vote of '94 was nearly 600,000 more than it was in '92, but it was more scattered.

Mr. Corbett might be out-fought, but it is not probable that he will be out-talked for a long time to come.

The Standard Oil Company will probably just turn on the grease and try to slide through those Texas indictments.

The thrifty fellow who always wants to vote with the winning party, so that he may hold office, has no "cinch" these days.

Attention, first class in finance. Why was one-tenth of all the money in circulation in the United States offered in exchange for bonds bearing interest at 3 per cent. or less?

The New York banks may not "have money to burn," but it is evident that several of them had money to be stolen; and, as usual, the thieving employe was on hand to steal it.

Even an experienced pedagogue like Mr. Thomas B. Reed will have his hands full in breaking the raw material elected to the next House to the rules of the Congressional school.

Last summer during the strike the railroad companies sent in great haste to President Cleveland for United States troops to suppress the rioters. They were sent. Now the railroad companies present bills for transporting the troops to protect their own property. Uncle Sam ought to send in as an offset a bill for the services of his boys while they were defending the railroads.

Gov. elect Morton's desire is that his inauguration shall be accompanied with just as little fuss and feathers as is possible. Capt. John Palmer, Secretary of State, has taken charge of the arrangements. All the services will be within doors, there will be no large parade of military and the only display will be when the 10th Battalion escorts Mr. Morton from the executive mansion to the Capitol.

Every fall there is a row of more or less account in various cities over vaccination. In these days when the good effects of vaccination are so well known it seems strange that there should be any objection by parents when an effort is made to inoculate all children in the public schools. But at the best we are careless and would rather "take chances" than to take medicine when the need for it is not made apparent by a procession of funerals.

A law passed last May, and which will go into effect January 1, abolishes the three days of grace that have, since the earliest times, been granted on all notes, drafts, checks of acceptance, bills of exchange, bonds, and other evidences of indebtedness. This law will not affect obligations made before the first of next year, even though the same do not come of force until late in 1895. On notes and other obligations undertaken after January 1, 1895, however, the three days of grace will not be allowed.

"The exhibition was indeed the most wonderful and novel that ever visited this city."—The York Gazette.

Now, while the leaves are off the trees, is a good time to have your surveying done. For a careful and correct survey call on S. M. Proper, Andover, N. Y.

Anyone who has children will rejoice with L. B. Mulford, of Plainfield, N. J. His little boy, five years of age, was sick with croup. For two days he tried various remedies recommended by friends and neighbors. He says: "I thought sure I would lose him. I had seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised and thought I would try it as a last hope and am happy to say that after two doses he slept until morning. I gave it to him next day and a cure was effected. I keep this remedy in the house now and as soon as any of my children show signs of croup I give it to them and that is the last of it." For sale by L. A. Burrows.
