One Minute Cough Cure. It stops the cough in 10 minutes if you are coughing.

Miss Owen's funeral was in town Monday.

Hiram D. Smith of Andover was in town Tuesday.—Alfred Sun.

Mrs. H. F. Wilcox has been ill for a few days past, but is now improving. Corporation election next Tuesday. Polls open from 1 o'clock p. m., till sunset.

Mrs. W. Oatley was called to Canaseraga Sunday by the serious illness of her father.

George W. Crandall of Almond, the Standard Dictionary man, was in town yesterday.

W. H. Church is home from the Hornellville sanitarium, and does not expect to return there.

Wm. A. Barney, who holds a position on the B. & S. railroad at Gold, Pa., was in town Sunday.

Mrs. Russell Langworthy of Lanphear Valley returned yesterday from a visit at Dr. W. W. Crandall's in Wellsville.

County Clerk Green was in town yesterday. Judging by his appearance his trip to Mt. Clemens has done him a "world of good."

Mrs. James Owen went to York, Livingston county, yesterday, being called there by the illness of her mother, Mrs. Wm. Gilmore, who recently sustained a bad fall.

Several members of Andover Lodge, No. 558, F. & A. M., visited Wellsville Lodge last Thursday evening, to witness work in the third degree. The visitors report a most enjoyable time.

Wm. Swain has moved from Alfred to the farm of Mrs. Robert Parshall in this town. H. W. Boyd, who formerly lived on this place, has moved to the farm of W. E. Green.

Tressie Gillin, daughter of Mrs. Jane O'Connor, died at her home in this village on Saturday, March 7, of consumption. Her age was 21 years. The funeral was held Monday at the Catholic church.

Miss Maude Ross entertained last evening in honor of her cousin, Miss Hattie Mead, of Andover. Music and games were the principal features of the evening's entertainment.—Hornellville Herald.

Our friend T. A. Burdick of Lanphear Valley is evidently popular with the Republicans of Alfred. He was nominated this spring for a third term as collector of that town, and received the highest majority on the ticket. He and "Doll" Howland of Elm Valley make a good running team.

The George Washington revival business is having good results. A Dr. Fish is reported by the Almond True Issue as having talked three and a half hours to a spellbound Richburg audience, "and every word of his speech was truth." If this isn't a fish story, or if the audience wasn't asleep, the doctor is a veritable spellbinder.

County Clerk Geo. A. Green, accompanied by Mrs. Green and daughter were in Wellsville this morning on their way home from Mt. Clemens, Mich. The treatment at that place has greatly benefited Mr. Green, who was suffering from kidney trouble, and the genial county clerk feels quite like himself again.—Friday's Wellsville Reporter.

When a graduate of Andover Union School and Academy meets with great and continued success as a teacher, Andover people are justified in being proud of it. We are intensely loyal to the school which has put so many excellent teachers into the field. Among them is Miss Minnie Hall, who on Friday closed her second term of school at Lanphear Valley, with creditable literary exercises. The patrons of the school are a unit in the admiration of her methods of teaching and their results.

Seaman Post No. 481, G. A. R., of this place, has invited Rev. J. J. Dealy of Belmont to deliver the Memorial Day oration here on May 30th, and the invitation has been accepted. Rev. Father Dealy is the rector of St. Mary's Church in Belmont, and is well known throughout this section as an eloquent speaker. The people of this place and vicinity have a rare treat in store for them, and doubtless a large number of people will take advantage of the opportunity that will be afforded for hearing Father Dealy.

The emblem adopted by the committee from the citizens' caucus, for use on the ballots to be used at the corporation election next Tuesday, is a out of the Statue of Liberty. And we take the liberty of enlightening the members of the non-voting sex upon one point: there'll be a woman's picture on every ballot. Maybe the men won't have the courage to look her in the face. In Miss Fannie Spaulding and her aunt, Mrs. Richmond, were in Hornellville yesterday.

There will be no preaching service in the M. E. church next Sunday evening. Epworth League at 8 o'clock p. m.

The Mutual Gas Company finished its well on M. H. Harman's farm last week, and on Thursday the well was shot. It is a fair gasser.

Charles Krusen, whose illness was mentioned last week, does not improve as it was hoped he would, and his condition is serious.

W. H. Phillips is moving into his house on Church street, which he recently purchased from Ward Oatley. Mr. Oatley has moved to his new place on Chestnut street.

Mrs. M. H. Harman returned from the Hornellville sanitarium last Saturday. She reports Mr. Harman as being much improved in general health, his sight better and his hearing somewhat improved; all of which it is needless to say, will be good news to our readers.

Brown's Comedians were billed to appear at Prest's opera house on Monday evening, at the same hour at which the caucus was called. After John Prest had been nominated for village President he was so pleased with the honor conferred that he made arrangements with the manager of the troupe to admit everybody free for that evening. The result was a full house, cheers for Mr. Prest and an enjoyable entertainment.

The C. L. S. C. will meet with Mrs. Bradley, Monday evening, March 23d. The following will be the program: Quotations from Mark Twain; one fact about Mark Twain; one fact on current events; one fact either from the books or Chautauquan. Table talk—favorite receipts; selections from Mark Twain by Mrs. Wagoner. A vote was taken by the Circle, and it was decided that the members count their individual credits, instead of choosing sides. Those joining later will be credited in proportion to their work.
