No, let all men who have eyes to see withal or hearts to lose set great store by the pains bestowed set great store by the pains bestowed on pretty dressing; but if one may speak and live, the art-should be stud-ied with subtlet tact that is sometimes seen. It should be better concealed. It is distressing to see a young wo-man's eyes wandering over the dress of her with whom she is talking, for if the mind be engaged in taking note of the mind be engaged in taking note of external detail, conversation ceases to be intercourse, and becomes the crackling of thorns under the pot.

NEEDLEWORK FOR THE GIRLS. Mothers who wish to teach their little daughters needlework thoroughly and systematically will perhaps like to know something of the modern school matheds for delay the work, which make it both interesting and easy, as they proceed in a scientific and carely thought out fashion, step by arep from the simple to the more difficult. In one training school the lessons are given on material known as railroad canvas, and on it the little pupils are taught to take the days proceed. take the even length stitch in which just s many threads are taken up as are left; s many threads are taken up as are left; the basting stitch, which makes an even line as a mark or gulde for other stitches; then the even back stitch, overhand stitch, and hemming. When this much can be done with accuracy and neatness, the pupil next works on a linen canvas that is finer and softer than the first and though like that:

than the first, and though, like that, it is woven in squares that are easily seen and that make a guide for the stitches, the stitches already learned are repeated-on this, and in addition hemstitching, catsttching, buttonhole stitching, and feather stitching are taught. These pretty stitches taken with reserved. These pretty stitches taken with gay thread on eeru canvas make an all over design, and when completed is made into a pretty bag, of which the child is justly proud. Next simple cutting

After that comes the darning of stockings and linen, and a little more adlags and men, and a factor motor wanced cutting. A very large doll is used as the model in learning to cut and fit clothes for little children. Patching comes quite late in the course.

I found that every one of the ingredients was put in for some special purpose, and was good for the purpose intended. I have as much confidence in Ripans Tabules as I have in anything I ever wrote about. I take them myself when I have eaten a little too much or feel nauses or symptoms of headache coming on, and I find them quicker to act than any medicine I ever took. I know some people who think they can't possibly get along without them. My wife went to call one day on some friends she had known always. She found they swore by Ripans Tabules. They did not know that she knew anything about them or that I had written anything for them. By the way, if you swallow them properly, you don't taste anything in the mouth. Swallow them quickly and you are in the stomach almost immediately; a very pleasant sensation,"
