A telegram received on Monday announced the death of Lowell, son of Erwin D. and Mary Hayes Baker, of Ellenville, N. Y. Few people have left more friends in Andover upon their departure from it than did Mr. and Mrs. Baker and all those friends, the News being among them, deeply sympathize with them in their hour of affliction.
Wm. E. Greene contemplates moving to Hornellsville in the near future, to keep a boarding house for Dr. J. D. Mitchell's patients. Mr. Greene has had considerable experience in that line, and will, without doubt, make a success of the undertaking. He has been a resident of Andover for a number of years, and what will be Andover's loss will be Hornellsville's gain.
R. Marshall started out on the road, Monday morning, with his very attractive and neat bread wagon to supply his customers, as promised last week. Mr. Frank Palmiter held the reins, and, in his gentlemanly manner, delivered his goods, and, knowing the craving appetite of the printer between the hours of breakfast and dinner, left a sample of his cakes and cookies with us, which we readily devoured, wishing the baker success in his new enterprise.
Let poets sing of nectar,
Quaffed from cups of gold so bright;
We can sing of something better—
'Tis delicious "Heart's Delight."
