The Advantages of Prepared Mince Meat
It should be honestly considered by every housewife. It has great advantages, as one trial will prove. You will find that it is clean—it could not be more so; that it is convenient—always ready and never spoils on the shelf; that it is economical—a 10c. package makes two large pies, fruit pudding, or delicious fruit cake. Get the genuine—take no substitutes.
Send your address, naming this paper, and we will send you free a book, "Mrs. Popkins' Thanksgiving Dinner," by one of the most popular and humorous writers of the day.

Death of John Henry Rogers.

Last Wednesday forenoon John Henry, son of Jeremiah Rogers, of Greenwood, was engaged in cradling oats on his father's farm. He sat down occasionally, an unusual thing with him, and his father, who was in the field with him, asked him if he was tired. No, he wasn't tired, and soon resumed work; but was unable to continue long before stopping and sitting down again. Upon inquiry from his father if he were sick, the young man said he had a dreadful headache. Mr. Rogers advised his son to discontinue work and go to the house. The young man did so. Going to the house about an hour before noon, he laid down upon a couch in the parlor. His father, with no idea that the boy was fatally or even seriously ill, came to this village where business detained him until late in the afternoon. Some member of the family heard a noise as of some object falling, and entered the room to find John upon the floor. He was insensible and remained so from that time until his death, which occurred about one o'clock Thursday morning. There seems little reason to doubt that the young man died from sunstroke. He was 17 years of age and was the eldest of three sons of Jeremiah and Alice Rogers. He stood high in the estimation of all who knew him, notably among the young people of the community.

The funeral services were held on Friday, and rarely in rural neighborhoods, even upon funeral occasions, do people gather in such numbers as thronged about the casket containing the remains of the loved and respected young man. And still more rarely are flowers in greater profusion brought by loving and sympathizing friends to show their tribute of respect to the dead. The casket was literally covered with flowers in every conceivable form of funeral emblem, and many of the flowers could find place only in groups on the floor surrounding the casket. The interment was at West Union. In common with all the friends and neighbors of the sorrowing family, the NEWS extends to the stricken ones its condolence and sympathy.

Oil business is moving slowly but surely. Phillips Bros. well on lot 91, Wellsville, is a good one. This company has a rig a little south from lot 91. Appar & Co. have a drilling well on lot 108, Wellsville, a rig up on lot 25, Andover, and timber for another on lot 48, Andover. Several parties have been looking the ground over with a view to starting work. The Torrey Oil Company of Wellsville is negotiating for some leases east from Appar's work, and expect to commence work next week. There is no chance for a doubt but that there is a nice oil field here and that it will be opened and pipe line communications secured in the near future.
Crops of all kinds are good. Oat harvest well under way. Apple orchards are breaking under their load of fruit. Potatoes are growing well, and Mr. Editor, give us McKinley for President and thus restore the confidence of business men and protection to home industries, and we will have a lively market, and everybody will wear their old-time look of contentment.
When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.
Additional Locals.
The martial band left this morning for Franklinville to play at a soldiers' reunion.
Next Sunday morning, in the M. E. church, the pastor will speak on "Family Religion, Baptism and Reception of Members."
Fred Buckley, the Olean carpenter who recently fell a distance of 95 feet, sustaining terrible injuries, not only lives but is in a fair way to recover.
Fifteen tramps were in town one night last week at a time, seven of whom were arrested by Deputy Sheriff C. J. O'Donnell and put in the lock-up. Next morning they were brought before Justice Kinney, who gave them just time enough to get out of town. They got.
The Wellsville Reporter says: Phillips Bros. well on lot 91, Wellsville, completed and shot a few days ago, now doing over 10 barrels daily. It is by far the best strike in the month where it was drilled and will settle certainly a four and probably a barrel producer.
Lost—A Navy blue mackintosh between John Pardon's farm and village. Under please return to office.
