NONE SUCH MINCE MEAT

"ONE MORE UNFORTUNATE."
 Early Sunday morning Erie workmen who went to clear up the wreckage caused by the ditching of several cars at the tannery curve on Dyke street, Wellsville, found the dead body of a man lying beside the track near bridge No. 9. The body was frightfully mutilated, everything going to show that the man was killed by being run over by a train. Coroner Burdick, of this village, was at once summoned, and investigation readily established his identity.

It's a labor-saver—a woman-saver. Without the long and wearying peeling, chopping, boiling, seeding and mixing, a woman can quickly make mince pie, fruit pudding or fruit cake that will be the delight of her household. Since None Such is sold everywhere there is no more need of making your own mince meat than of making your own yeast. Try one package—10 cents. Take no substitutes. Send your address, naming this paper, & we will send you free a book, "Mrs. Popple's Thanksgiving," by one of the most popular humorous writers of the day. MERRILL-SOTLE CO., Syracuse, N. Y.

The remains proved to be those of Harry Van Patten, of 190 Third street, Olean. Among the papers found on his person was a discharge from the United States army, showing that he had enlisted therein, March 22, 1890, and was discharged at Columbus Barracks on June 19th of the same year, on a surgeon's certificate of disability. He had also been a member of the Knights of Labor, Assembly No. 1,607, East Syracuse. He had also been a member of the American Railway Union. His card of membership is signed by Eugene V. Debs; he is therein named as a switchman, his Local Union was No. 264. Among his belongings were a leaf from an autograph album on one page of which was the name, "Miss Libbie Ayers;" a letter of recommendation from R. M. Whitney, wagon hub manufacturer, Olean, in which high tribute was paid to the bearer, who had been five years in the service of the writer; a similar letter from J. W. Alexander, Superintendent for A. W. Morris, Bowers, Texas; still another from C. D. Pierce, coal dealer, Olean; several answers to applications for employment, one letter from a personal friend, who seemed to have lost track of Van Patten for a long time, congratulating him upon his marriage, and a brakeman's pass on the W. N. Y. & P. Railroad.
