That's All Right!

Many readers of the News will re member the interest attaching to the contest of the will of Abbie, widow of John B. Cole, of Cuba. W. J. Penny is one of the Executors of the will, which, after making several bequests, among them $1,000 to the Baptist Church at Friendship, and $500 to the Cuba Cemetery, says: The residue of my estate I give and bequeath to my executors in trust for the following purposes: To pay such debts of my stepson, Sanford S. Cole, as remain unpaid which he owed at the time he made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors in January, 1878, to be paid in full after deduction all payments theretofore made, whether barred by statute of limitations or not, the debts with simple interest at six per cent., but not to pay any costs or expenses whatever; and I prefer that such persons and cheese factories be paid first as made my husband, John B. Cole, the least trouble at the time of of Sanford's assignment and settle-

Among the cheese factories whos patrons were creditors of Cole, and who by the provisions of the will would be its beneficiaries, Independence Willing and Krusen's Corners factories may be named. The case was argued April 21st, of this year, before James Waring, of Olean, referde. Last week news reached here that the case had been decided in favor of the patrons. This is certainly good news as the amount, principal and interest to be the patrons of the three factories named, still holding claims against the estate, this office.
will reach $5,500.

County Court.

County Court proceedings were inter esting as far as they went, but they did not go very far. On Monday the case of the People against Joseph Loia was called. The defendant was an import ation from the land of music and the Mafia, and was indicted for the alleged felonious abstraction of 8236 which, as salesman of the cheese factory at which he was maker he collected and did not turn over to the treasurer. Much inter est attached to this case from the fact that District Attorney Brown did foren-sic battle with John Palmieri, of New York an Italian lawyer young in years. but a man of considerable legal attain ments and great promise. He conducted the case very any, made friends all around, and secured a verdict of not guilty for his client.

Burt Savage, of Belvidere, must suf-fer fifty days abridgment of his per sonal liberty under the supervision of Under Sheriff Hodnett, for illegal liquor selling.

The case of Dr. F. E. Comstock against Benjamin Green, which was the first on the calendar, did not come off.

Court adjourned on Tuesday until November 30th.

" Back To The Old Home."

Sarah Lake was arrested on Tuesday by Deputy Sheriff Clarence J. O'Don-nell on a warrent sworn out by Mrs. Charlott Hoagland, on a charge of vagrancy. On arraignment before Justice Kinney, the prisoner averred that she had a home in Wellsville to which she would go if permitted to do so. The magistrate thereupon dis-charged the young woman with the ex-press understanding should she return to this town, she would be committed to the penitentiary. Miss Lake during her stay in Andover made a somewhat unsavory record. She was temporarily in charge of Officer Nobles during fair week at Wellsville. The Tan-Bark City is welcome to her straying dove. Andover don't want her.

Mutual Gas Company's Operations.

On Wednesday of last week the Mutual Gas Company shot two wells— one on the Homer Mallory farm and the other on the Randall Pease farm The wells are daisies, good for ten barrels each at a low estimate.

The well on the Widow Hyland's farm lot 50. Greenwood, is nearly completed. There is a rig up on George Rosebush's farm nearly ready for the drillers. The well on Wm. Hunt's is still doing ten barrels a day.
