Hope and Reason. For the Andover News. -Blinded by the day's bright light-We often miss our mark; Groping in the gloom of night, We stumble in the dark.

Losing faith by each misstep, We trust ourselves no more, But follow after some blind guide And stumble as before.

We are told that Derfect faith Will lead our steps aright. But as we go and hear and see That which appalls our sight, We hear the groans of famished ones Fainting by the way;

We see the many fatal wrecks Of crime and misery. What hope then is there for men If this indeed be so,—

Nor light nor dark nor faith may serve To guide us as we go? The star of hope grows dim and pale, And seems at times gone out,

In the chill and misty gloom

Of ever-present doubt! Shine on, blest Star of Hope, for all, We know 'twas Reason gave thee birth, And though Darkness casts her pall, Thy star forever lights the Earth.

Take heart, O man, nor faint nor fall, I hear the voice of Reason call.— " My star, too, shines day and night. To guide thy wandering ship aright." BAYARD TAYLOR CHAFFEE.

No kitchen is kept cleaner than the premises devoted to the manufacture of NONE SUCH Mince Meat. No housewife can be more fastidious in the matter of preparing food than we are in the selection and preparation of the materials of which it is made. The cleaning of the currants (for one thing) is more thoroughly done by means of perfected appliances, than it would be possible to do it by hand.

Its cleanliness, purity, wholesomeness and deliciousness are good reasons for using NONE SUCH Mince Meat. The best reason is its saving—of time, of hard work, of money. A ten cent package affords you two large pies, withdout trouble to you beyond the making of the crust. Makes just as good fruit cake and fruit pudding as it does mince pie. Sold everywhere.
