The Amendment.

The Constitutional Amendment of ing before the people last week Tuesday was so little understood by the masses that in the rural districts es- home in Stanards. pecially the majority expressed their disapproval. There were as many pinions in regard to it as there were individuals. Many voters cast their ballot against the amendment because others thinking they saw evil in it, seemed to add a spirit of devotion voted against it. It was thought by our services. many that if the amendment carried, The new Bible and table on the a tax would be imposed upon all platform presented by the "Ladies"
