President Ingalis on Mergers. President Ingalls of the Big Four A great deal of grain has been sown, the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis railway) is evidently out of harmony with certain powerful railroad magnates. He is reported as a saying that the merger principle has been carried far enough and that it i time a halt was called.

President Ingalls believes in the group system and in legalized pooling and sees serious objections in the merger plan as exemplified by the Rev. S. D. Pickett and wife called Northern Securities company. "Merger," he says, "will remedy no present evils and will bring us new ones." He adds this striking remark: "If this . thing of merging railroads keeps up and the logical end is reached, would necessitate the government buy Frank Slocum, of the O'Leary ing out the roads, and government) ownership, in my opinion, would be a | calamity." With his conclusion that | economists will take issue.
