Burdick, on the last day f school, issued condemnation papers condemning the school building of District No. 1, in this town. This! action on the part of the state wil necessitate the taxpayers in the dis trict building a new school house run the risk of settling the bill of the running expenses of the district without the aid of the public money, which is usually at least one-half of the whole amount. While the law that permits the state to thus arbitrarily compel a district to provide a building that comes within its idea of hold public school seems a little hard on the poor taxpayer, it is perfectly just and proper when we take into consideration the fact that the same law gives to the state power to comple the children of school years attend public school, whether the parents are willing or not. If state is to say that our children must ttend school, it should also have power to see that the school building is one constructed with proper sanitary regulations for the accommodation of the sobolars. There is as yet no opposition expressed against the action of Commissioner Burdick any man or woman who have children in school, and but little by taxpayers who have no children in school. has long been an admitted fact that the building was poorly lighted and
