The words in quotations are Mr. Wana-A statement like this from a man like this gives food for much thought.

The benefits of good advertising can not be advertising can not be measured. Yet every man who gives some thought to the subject can share in these benefits and realize these Young men in particular should burn this magic word of advertising on their memories so that it will never be forgotten. He who plans to build a business structure without advertising is he who plans to build without a comer-stone. Look around.
