FURNITURE

When you buy furniture there are three essential things to be considered—workmanship, style and price.

Workmanship is essential in any piece, no matter how plain or how tancy. Furniture must be made well and put together right or it is a poor piece of property at any price.

Style—the style of furniture adds a great deal to its attractiveness and very often to its usefulness. If proper selections are made you will not have to pay any more for the beautiful, attractive kind than you would for the ordinary, every day kind.

Price—this is very often the place "where the shoe pinches" and has caused many unscrupulous dealers to place inferior goods on the market. Goods that will not stand the test of time. Goods that are shoddy in every respect, but that "look right" when they

Now in regard to our Furniture Department-we are the furniture store of Hornell and we want YOU to realize this fact. With two big floors devoted entirely to furniture we can show you a larger stock than any other two concerns put together.

Every piece of furniture that comes on to our floor must have the above three "essentials." We absolutely will have no shoddy furniture If it is solid mahogany it will be solid, not veneer; if upholstered in leather it will be leather, not imitation, and so on all the way through--every piece must be right. In regard to price, for equal qualities we undersell every competitor We buy for less on a cash basis and we sell for less. Come here for furniture and let us convince you that this is the place where you should buy.
