McCULLOCK

the first comptroller of the currency, addressing the national banks, once said:

"Do nothing to foster and encourage speculation. Give facilities only to legitimate and prudent transactions. Distribute your loans rather than concentrate them in a few hands. Pursue a straightforward, upright, legitimate banking business. Treat your customers liberally, bearing in mind that the bank prospers as its customers prosper "

This bank has endeavored to follow the advice of this great financier in the conduct of its every day business. As to our consistency in so doing, we refer you to those with whom we transact business; as to the success which this policy has attained, we refer you to our published
