BRIEF BUSINESS BRINGERS

If you wish to realize what success to you means you should go to Italy. All over the south of Italy ice is eaten to an extent of which we do not dream, but in Sicily and Palermo in particular the custom has attained amazing proportions. Ice is eaten by people of all ranks and ages from morning to night. Where a true Briton would demand a glass of beer the Italian asks for an ice. Morning, noon and night the consumption of ice goes on. They are in wonderful variety and cheap. The stranger in that beautiful country finds the cafes invaded between 4 and 5 by ice eaters. He sees officers and men of the army, merchants and work people, the rich and the poor of both sexes consuming ice with gusto. No one evades this pleasant duty. Lines of carriages draw up at the side of the pavement before the cafes, the occupants, the coachman and the footman all with their favorite delicacy. At first the stranger wonders: then he falls a victim.—London Chronicle.

Answering the Critics. Some members of the congregation of the late Dr. Joseph Brown of Glasgow objected to his frequent absence from home and complained of it—some of them to him personally and more of them behind his back. When he thought he had heard enough of it he addressed his congregation one Sunday thus:

"With regard to objection concerning my absence, I have to say, first, when I am out of the pulpit I am usually in some other body's pulpit. When you are not in your own pew, are you in some other body's pew? Second, when I am out of my pulpit I put some other body into it. When you are out of your pew, do you put some other body into it? Third, when I am out of my pulpit I sometimes get better men than myself to fill it, and you have a chance of hearing the leading preachers in the church, and sometimes I get worse men than myself to fill it, and the chance of hearing them ought to make you thankful for your mercies."

His Standing. "That young fellow seems to have made himself solid at your house." "Yes; I judge he has. Ma is looking up his family, while pa is investigating his commercial rating."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Spirit of the Times. It is an age of artificial devices. Rare, indeed, is the man and rarer still the woman in whose physical makeup there is not something false, either eyes or teeth or hair.—Atlantic.

It is easy to make acquaintances, but difficult to shake them off.—Washington.

A Watch That Won't Lie

Job's patience could never have stood the test of an erratic watch. When a person pulls a watch out of his pocket there is all kinds of satisfaction in knowing that when he looks at it he sees an honest face that will tell him the truth. But the other sort of a watch—well there needn't BE any other sort. Because— you or anyone else can unload all your time troubles here. You can get rid of them quick, and at a cost not worth mentioning. Interview our repair department.
