to that allowed in the town of Milford, Mass., in 1911, those amounts being in June 1912, when he married Miss. Mrs. G. Society of Andover, who has residence there in his declining years and during ten weeks of illness preceding his death. Two brothers live in Brattleboro, Vt., his native place.

Mr. Robbins was a member of the First Baptist church of Bushfield, N.Y. The greater part of his life was passed in the State of Massachusetts, where he engaged in the work of Andover, as he has since living in Andover. A student of nature, he possessed the knowledge and faculty required for the successful culture and rearing of plant life, and his gardens and flowers were his especial pride and care.

Mr. Robbins was a man of strong convictions and outspoken frankness who was held in high esteem by those who knew him intimately in social or business life.

Funeral services were conducted from the Seventh-day Baptist church Saturday morning at 10:30, by the pastor, Mr. Clyde Erhart, assisted by Rev. W. H. Randall of the first Baptist church. Burial was in Hillside Cemetery.

HAS DIAMOND CUT FROM ARM

San Bernardino, Cal., Dec. 26.—A man who gave his name as Hitchcock had a diamond weighing a carat and a half cut out of the flesh of his arm yesterday. He said that the gem was sewed in his flesh in South Africa. Hitchcock asked the surgeon to do the job in a hurry because he wanted to give the diamond to his wife for Christmas. Hitchcock refused to give his reason for having the gem imbedded in his flesh.

the editor, however, was not so fortunate, as he had no money to pay his expenses. The editor carried with it all the sentiment and good cheer that accompanies the more expensive gifts.

Among the many Christmas remembrances the editor received this year none were more welcome than were the Christmas greetings sent us in this form.

Some are born with an intuition of just what to do or say at the opportune time. Others seem to have little talent in doing of the proper things at the proper time. There is a young man down at Wellsville, however, J. Jay Fuller, who is always Johnny on the spot in doing these nice little things, he is always found in class No. one in these matters. This Christmas time, he sent out very attractive Christmas folder bearing the following trite sentiment: "Being that you're next to this Christmas idea, I'm sending a wish that yours will be a Merry Christmas. Sometime during a year just passed we have met, perhaps, and whether we've agreed or not, both have very kindly kept still about it (to each other) and this being one essential to friendship, allow me to express a desire that you've a Happy All Next Year."

The editor is in receipt of a very pretty Christmas card from the general treasurer of Scoville, Brown & Co. of Wellsville, Edwin Earl Stone, expressing a beautiful original Christmas sentiment that cannot help but warm the cockles of the hearts of its recipients.

Rev. H. B. Williams, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Andover, gave as a greeting to his congregation the Sunday before Christmas and to a number of his personal friends, the News editor among others, a beautiful book containing one of his timely poems, "The House of the Up-roads," which we prize very highly as one of the best of our Christmas greetings. We published the poem in our last issue. If you have not already read it, it will pay you to do so now.

The Progressive Printing Company of Wellsville have recently sent out a very attractive 1913 calendar. It is a large "Bull Moose" head printed on an imitation of burned leather back ground and the coloring is in elegant harmony. Our friends did not forget the News, the Allegany County Progressive newspaper, as they knew full well that any kind of a "Bull Moose" looked good to us. It is the best calendar we have yet received, and our office is chuck full of beautiful calendars.

The News was not forgotten when Governor Elect, Sulzer sent out the invitations to the newspaper fraternity to attend his inauguration last Wednesday. Sorry Governor that it was impossible for us to attend, but from the acknowledgements in our exchanges we do not believe the Governor was lonesome.
