VF'FR.D().WFI

A Romance of the Panama Canal REX BEACH

Padden, the proprietor, came toward

"Glad you dropped in," Mr. Padden

Ringold rose. "I'm going to dance.

fellows," he announced, and his companions followed him, with the excep-time for the frivolous and weak.

tion of the cadaverous Higgins, who

When they returned to their table they found a stranger was seated with him, who rose as Higgins made him

The college men treated this new re-which he responded with the air of

"Not at all!" be was assured

"Oh, come now." Anthony struck in.

with us if you like, but we can't let declined to dance, preferring to remain

"I was at the game this afternoon," was prejudiced against a certain Adel-) PROLOGUE. from Alaska to the tropics to closer acquaintance proved him wholly tell about a young American and unmoral and rattle brained. his friends and foes in the zone. The hero of this tale is the sort after the "cripples" had deserted and . of fellow you like to read about— the supper party had dwindled to perhaps a half dozen, proposed to make a one who has the hard luck to get night of it, beginning with a visit to into all kinds of scrapes and the the Austrian Village. The college men nerve and courage and wit to get | selected a table and, shouldering the himself out of them. And the occupants aside without ceremony. heroine—there are two of her. seated themselves and pounded for a One's an American, and the them, and, after greeting Anthony and haughty family of the upper na- | Higgins by a shake of his left hand. tive classes of the canal zone. | ducked his round gray head in ac-

Both are worth reading about. Of course the other characters help along the yarn. If you have assured them. "Anything you boys paid any sort of attention to the want and can't get let me know." story of the digging of the "big | When he had gone Higgins averred: | "There's a fine man-peaceful, refined ditch" you will recognize some -got a lovely character too. Let's be gentlemen while we're in his place."

CHAPTER I.

The artificial brilliance of maintained that dancing was a pasglorious moonlit sky. From the city's canyons came an incessant clanging roar. In the lobby of one of the playhouses known. a woman paused to adjust her wraps. | "Boys, meet my old friend, Mr. Jefand, hearing the cries of the newsboys. | ferson Locke of St. Louis. | He's all petulantly exclaimed: That performance during the third act | cruit with a bilarious cordiality. was enough to disgust one." Her escort smiled. "Oh, you take it one quite accustomed to such reunions.

"Those boys den't mean anything. That was mere | he explained when the greetings were i some place for a stranger. Hope you' way rocking with the tumult. All the | don't mind my joining you."

ed the restaurant than the diners rose | displayed a roll of yellow backed bills | own resemblance to the Missourian that | to wave napkins or to cheer. One said | that caused Anthony to caution him. | led to this confusion; but; in fact, while | to his companions: "That is Anthony—the big chap. | where this came from. However, that's | closely compared, they were of a simi-He's Darwin K. Anthony's son. You've | one reason I'd like to stick around | lar size and coloring, and the same [beard about the Anthony bill at Al- | with you fellows. I have an idea I've | general description would have fitted in was a game." when the squad had disappeared up

"Just a rich man's son, that's all. He's twenty-six." "Didn't I read that he had been sent to jail recently?"

with Higgins in their inconspicuous

"Anthony? Yes, he looks it."

kerved it. For three years before his | man has plenty of coin, hasn't he?" "Yes, and lie'il keep it too. Hearted them, preferring the life of an the table at the moment and Ringold out of you." athletic trainer to the career his father | anggested loudly: "I'm hungry. Let's | Jefferson Locke broke in excitedly: to see me on had offered him. And be had done his leat again.'

| private room upstairs," Antholey said. | God's sake. don't let him go!" the day's game against great odds. "All the cafes are closed now, and and when the final whistle blew for this is the best place in town for chick- | gle his victim beyond a certain point

-Accordingly be led the way, and the and nodding to Ringold to do like bomage to Kirk Anthony, the coach rest filed out after him. But as they wise, took the fellow's wrists himself, home," Higgins insisted. "Besides, before. His head was splitting, he tel, but"- however, to notice this bypisy even rest this"-

"He-he's alone, you say?"

Anthony caught a glimpse of Locke's, eyes and inquired in surprise:

fellows I'd been followed this evening | deluge of ice water. Remember? Well, there's a man down stairs who has given the waiter $10 to tered can come in here. I think it's part of way! He's hurt!" plan to rob me."

"Give that chap your coat and | apron." he ordered when the attendant | Padden " He stepped to the door and bert Higgins, who, of course, was his answered, "and when I ring next send signaled a passing waiter. A moment great canal we all know about, abettor. This young gentleman was a the others not to notice any little dist gold admitted him.

the exception of Jefferson Locke, who when the bartender had deserted the became calmer than at any time since | piano he spoke to Anthony: "Keep it | the waiter had first whispered into his up, old man. You're doing fine."

doubt as to which was his quarry. And the bundle he held. When he came to pay the waiter he thony did not dream that it was his "Here! It may cost you somethin, Locke only laughed. "There's more he and Locke were totally unlike when been followed, and I don't care to be both. "Yes, and I saw this fellow play tapped on the bead. If you will let Having allowed the intruder a mo sectball four years ago. Say! That | me trail along I'll foot the bills. That's | ment in which to take in the room,) Kirk leaned back in his chair and nodded for him to approach. "Are you Mr. Locke, sir?" inquired | "Yes," said Kirk.

' festive spirit, showed a certain reserve. Locke." the waiter muttered. "They're

"Oh. will you?" Kirk Anthony's marked, following his best friend's fig- man uttered a startled gasp. but "He's got just two faults, I always watching the struggle and crowding bodily fatigue, while Anthony also "All the way from St. Louis for a sufficiently for one night and intende. | his thumbs into the stranger's throat: \ then, as the man's face grew black edged. The dancers came crowding up to "We're going to make a good waiter "Choke him good! Choke him! That's "'S'right, fellows," Higgins joined

He relaxed his grip after a moment l

"I tell you I'm-an officer. I ar | singly substituted water for giv each | dwelk come his turn to dripk Dawn found them in an east side stomach? The words were cut off abruptly by a loud exclamation from Higgins and | a crash of glass. Kirk Anthony's face | the lowest classes. Ringold was slumbartender and was seated at a batter-that entered made him quake.

"What the devil"- Then the dead l Locke shook his head. "I told you weight in his arms sobered him like a ! "You've done it this time," he' mut-let him have his coat and apron so he "Good God!" Locke cried. "Let's get "Here, you!" Anthony shot a com-Kirk Anthony rose suddenly, moving mand at the speaker that checked him , as lightly upon his feet as a dancer, half way across the room. "Ringold. take the door and don't let anylaidy in the wors' of it."

or out. We're in bad now. I want I've got a ticket for Central America ' Let's send him down there." son's boon companion, admirer, aid and him up. Pass the word to Padden and later the proprietor knocked and Rin-"To make a man of him. We'll go The white faced Locke sank back sight of the motionless figure on the through his clothes, and when he lands he'll be broke. He'll have to work. quick examination, while Anthony ex-"He don't want to go to Central Amer-sort of thing and neither can l. I've Within ten minutes after Kirk And by this time."

minate his connection with his college. as big Marty Ringold had done earlier in the day, and begin to pack his belongings. Partly out of deference to the frantic appeals of his widowed mother, partly owing to the telephoned 'advice of Mr. Michael Padden of Sixth ! avenue, who said the injured man had ' recognized one of his assailants. he i booked passage to Japan by the next steamer out of Vancouver.

Strictly speaking, Kirk Anthony did not awake to a realization of his surroundings, but became conscious of them through a long process of dull, dreamy speculation. He said to him-

Ringold was very drunk. Good! Ev-! erything is clear so far. Next you were playing a plane with yellow teeth vor tonight," said Locke a little later. while somebody sang something about the masquerader by the throat. The when he and his companions were safe. a 'Little Brown Cot' After thature with his eyes, when he and Locke multaneously the iron grip of Marty won't forget it either. Now, let's fin- Well, let's run through it again."

Ringold or Higgins must have risen learly, leaving him to finish his sleep. why you mustn't leave me. I just That was considerate, of course, but-Good heavens, it must be late! And back with a cry as if an unseen hand "The boys will think I'm lost | had smitten him. He chapped both never did such a thing before." "It's a breach of hospitality to go was unlike anything be had ever felt on't know. It's a nice little "Doctor, you shouldn't make fun of

Again Anthony pressed his throbbine (Continued on next page.)

"No. sir. I'm the steward."

give me a good room? This is tierce." It is one of the best on the line." "Line?" Kirk grunted. "So this caused him to start, every stranger, to get out-understand? Hand me my trousers and I'll slip you a quarter." gins was saying for the hundredth time. "Got two faults. Anthony: be's, blind search showed the pockets to he modesht an' be's lazy-be won't work. "You and he are good friends, eb?"

"Would you like to play a joke on _ sicker every minute." guy ever. I've tried it an' always get

"Joke? Can't be done He's wises

"I'll tell you how we can work .

"No." Anthony's friend did not see.

"Here in the hotel?" "This is a ship" "A-what?" Anthony raised himself and stared at the white clad figure over Locke kept his temper with an effort.

"This is a ship, sir." "You get out of here!" yelled the infuriated young man. The steward totreated hastily to the door. "I beg pardon, sir. I will send the ica," he argued. "He's got a new au- | doctor at once." "Must think I'm still drunk," mum-"But suppose we got him soused, bled Anthony dazedly as be once more went through his pockets and then put laid his head upon his pillow with a the time he woke up. He couldn't | When his dizziness had diminished uation finally dawned upon Higgins' stateroom he had ever seen; it was more like a lady's boudoir. To be "I'll get him full if you'll help man sure, he felt a sickening surge and roll age it." Locke went on. "And here's now and then, but at other times the whole room made a complete revolution, which was manifestly contrary to

"I'm sick—awful sick, doctor." For some moments he talked earnest- | Anthony's cheek. observed the transfer of another of "That explains everything. How Strangely enough, Mr. Jefferson night." "These boys can't stand this Locke's plan worked without a hitch | "Night? It must be nearly daylight "Looks to me like you've croaked he declared himself sleepy and rose "Not midnight? Why, I didn't turn

"It's all right." Locke told his drunk- all day?"

E. D. SNOW, Prin. Maple City Business School.

tions are sufficient.

Our Mational Capital

News Special Correspondent, J. E. Jones

remembered that at the time the passage of the Sherwood the effect that the added cost would be seventy-five million dollars a year; 'and so well grounded was this belief, that it was published in some of the leading magazines and periodicals of AND INSURANCE the day. Now General Sherwood taking occasion to remind the pro-

INCREASE IN PENSION

phots that they were wrong. says that in advocating the passage of his bill that he stated on the floor of Congress that the increase of penisions would not be more than $21,000. U ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR 1. the bill has carried less than $21,000,-1 dreams is apparent. One of the big-|legislation. gest appropriations ever made for an investigation of any kind will be asked in order that the Bureau Corporations, of which Joseph E. Davlies is the head, may solve the trust problem. The President has a way of | las partly measures. It is known that there is to be a thorough overhauling _ Next Date at Whiteville Jan 2 of the anti-trust laws, yet it seeems . Dec. 31 probable only two or three bills will |. Sutfin Block, Wellsville, Mon- be passed this winter, and that the ANDOVER FREE LIBRARY tion by the Commissioner of Corpora-Will be opened for the loaning of tions and other government agents. books every Tuesday evening from It is semi-officially declared "that the ...

7 to 9; Thursday afternoons from 3 President is not opposed to big busito 5; and Saturday evenings from 7 ness, but that he wants to remove by law the restrictions now imposed, in order that both may be included. laws fair to all."

> Ex-President's Club Opposes Harmon That the "get together" ambitions

WETTLIN. The Florist,

As "one wedge drives another," so | According to Miss Alice Paul, Chair | material for forest planting. continued publication of real estate man of the Congressional Committee for sale ad will surely bring a buyer- of the National Woman's Suffrage As although, naually, a very few publica- sociation in Washington, the Democrats will lack the support of the wo- the News office.

Own Life for Unknown Reason ber everything by and by." (Special to the Advertiser) Bath, Dec. 14.--James Smith suich and the councils of the Republican Party, Good night. land among the well known men of you sleep."

saluted Mr. Smith and informed him dressed himself and went on deck. loffice and its accounts. Mr. Smith re I plied to Mr. Johnson that it would L I necessary for him to go to his house manufactures in the same way that office books and accounts there. Mr. his life's pattern.

Autos and all kinds of Casualty Risks discrepancy between the prophets and ings held by Committees of Congress Smith. The Postmaster asked John- by to the fact that there were a thouthe statistics compiled by the govern-on bills to bar from Interstate Com-son to step out of the office through sand things that needed doing a thou-- ment itself. "That $54,000,000 dollar merce misbranded adulterated articles the front door while he locked the sand people who needed to know his San Francisco Bay, and from Put-in-Campbell of Kansas, who is one of out of a rear door. Johnson did 80, stance, there was his brand new Bay, in Lake Erie, to Gulfport, on the the most alert and skilled of the and Smith, after fastening the door, French car, standing with motor blank. great Gulf, for over a year, and this Legislators in Washington, declare entered a cloak room off from the eted beside the Forty-fifth street curb. is the first opportunity I have had to that "no manufacturer has the right main office. As Mr. Johnson waited What had happened to it and to the to filch from the public on an article outside he thought he heard a door cial record of the Pension Office that which is not what it purports to be." slam, but gave it no further thought owed $1,000 on its purchase, which he He further declares that "a reputable until ten minutes had passed and Mr.) ijust in the nick of time. Suddenly he estimate that the Committee on Pen- on an adulterated product." Mr. cloak room. Mr. Johnson then sum- recalled placing the check in his bill sions made at the time the bill was Campbell has produced for his col-moned several bystanders and the case, and he searched himself diligent. leagues in Congress a quantity of party entered the office by the rear ly, but found nothing. It was simply shoes which he says are not made of door. Inside the cloak room Mr. Smith imperative that he get some word

Wanted: Laws That Are Fair to All pure leather. Other articles of merch- was found, dead, a revolver beside ashore andise have likewise been brought him. A Coroner was called and he He let his eyes rove over the ship in desperation. Then a happy thought bad forward showing the need for this will issue the certificate of death. Mr Johnson at once summoned the bonds "The wireless!" be said aloud. "Bonemen for Mr. Smith and they were in head! Why didn't you think of that conference the remainder of the day. long ago?" A glance at the rigging Nothing reached the public from the showed blm that the Santa Cruz was

'The Spoilers,"

"The Silver Horde," Etc.

CHAPTER III.

Pamana Next Stop.

'to help him down the gangway."

the Addison High School, and a son, ator's door. I "I want to send a message right at present in attendance at St. John's

"|away!" he cried excitedly. But the | "We're installing a new system. The

'it's being changed throughout. "Then you—you can't send a message "Nothing doing until the next trip."

houghts. He recalled the incidents a disquieting doubt. Did that chance emerged from the deckhouse ahead of meeting with the chap from St. Louis him, whose appearance was sufficient-I have anything to do with his presence ' here, or had be really decided in some foolish, drunken whim to take a trip to '| Central America? He recollected the Jefferson Locke had not impressed him very favorably at the start. The sound of a bugle, which Kirk

'ished, and he lost no time in going below. Upon his appearance the stewtreatment. Kirk was placed at

" "Now, I know you are wrong, doc- i or, and fil tell you why. You see, my 1 be name isn't Locke. It's Anthony. Locke

New York, understand? Well, he's the fellow you're talking to, and I'm list said"usleep somewhere down around the, "That was a mistake." "My name is Stein. May I ask "Nevertheless this is a ship," the distinguished you're on it. and I'm talking to you. ' remember hearing something about, la Panama canal. Is that where it is?"

"Oh. I've heard it mentioned."

"That was Higgins, all right. Now, Cubs." "What?" Kirk's eyes opened wide | troduced Kirk.

and a bath at the holel at $15 a day." . "By the way, we're getting up a perbeavily, but I guess you will remem-

"Yes, indeed. I'm for anything 😘

That capsule will make I lamely: "Come to think about it, I believe I'll When the officer had gone Kirk turn stay out. I never gamble." Chancing ed over and fell asleep. Morning to giance up at the moment he found He was alone in the Postoffice Sat-showed him the truth of the doctor's Mr. Cortlandt's eyes fixed upon him urday morning when Inspector John-information. He awoke early, and, at with a peculiarly amused took and a son alighted from an Erie train, near-though his head still behaved queerly few minutes later he followed Mr. He and he had moments of nauses, he Stein to the deck shove. Once in his own stateroom search showed Kirk that even his watch A limitless, olly sea stretched out i before his bewildered eyes. He touch | gone and that his only asset, evidentis the rail, with his bands to verify his overlooked by the hilarlous Higgins He felt as if he were walking and his co-partner in crime. was in his sleep. He realized that a great | modest three stone finger ring. He had That the government will restrict first, as he had left certain of the fragment had suddenly dropped out of neither baggage nor money. He was regarding his ring speculatively when

Although Anthony was a youth of the purser knocked, then entered at bis were bound to go wrong. For in insist your name is something else. "That's right. My name is Anthony. "Then how did I get this ticket?" "I'm sure I don't know."

"Have you any bagyage?" "I don't know." "What is your destination?" "I don't know. You'll pardon 🗪 limited vocabulary?" "But I don't understand."

"If you are not Mr. Locke the ticket

"Certainly not," returned the ether.

"I need all I have. I'll have a look for your baggage, Mr.-Anthony. and I'il see the captain about this ticket l also. I'll look you up later." ' He departed, shaking his head as 🕊 old apparatus wasn't satisfactory, and this were a form of insanity he later Kirk followed him and made a l round of the deck, staring at each man he met and mentally estimating the Kirk strode forward and stared dis- girth of his neck. Then he made bis consolately down upon the freight deck way toward the smoking room, deterin a vain endeavor to collect his mined to enlist the help of his new Midway aft he paused. A girl had ly striking to divert him, momentarity at least, from his quest. She was well above the usual height, quite slender. yet of an exquisite rounded fullness. while her snug fitting tailor made gown showed the marks of taste. Kirk let his eyes follow her, then retraced his way around the deck in the hope of ' meeting her face to face. But when they had met and passed be went his way vaguely disappointed. Instead of a girl, as the first sight of

She was certainly not so bandtance. Yet the face was attractive. The eyes were wide set, gray and very clear, the mouth large enough to be ex-' pressive. Her hair shone in the morn-'ing sun with a delicate bronze luster like that of a turkey's wing.

He dismissed her from his thoughts and continued his search for a number seventeen shirt and collar to match. But he did not fare well. He found Mr. Stein in the smoking room, but discovered that his size was fifteen said a haif, and there was no one else 💝 🗀

For a second time Stein importance him to buy a chance on the ship's rea. and failing in this, suggested that ther have a drink together. Had not Kirk "That's the place," Stein replied realized in time his inability to reciprocate be would have accepted excerts.

More than 800,000 horsepower has that he takes these affairs too ser-Over in a corner, propped against the "I mean the Cortlandts of Washing- leather upholstery, was Mr. Cortlandi, argument that this is a ship and that | ton. They're swell people society as pale, as reserved and as eaturnine --I am Jefferson Locke, when is your | folks and all that"— He broke off to as at breakfast. He was sipping bow effusively to the late comer, who | Scotch and soda, and in all the time seated himself opposite. Then he in- I that Anthony remained he did not

"I can't stay here a Mr. Cortlandt impressed Anthony as not shift his position save to beckon a cold blooded, highly schooled person. for another drink. Something about "But I tell you I can't-I just can't | seemed by no means effendate, yet he | pleased the onlooker, who shortly re-[bought a new car the other day, and | was one of those immaculate beings | turned to the deck.

HOME LIFE FARM LIFE

GREEN'S FRUIT GROWER.

white of a sort to worry any observant ! Is particular Anthony septor | wasty tipped spoke to him quietly. His thief.

H's by Rex Beach, who jumps than once led strangers to mistake into his chair, while Anthony directed floor and, kneeling beside it, made a "Now, gentlemen, be seated. Here. Locke, your back to the door; your It was Higgins this evening who.

"Is he badly hurt?" queried Locke. bending a pale face upon them. "Huh! I guess be's due for the bostrying to turn a trick in my place. I get back. He'd have to work. Don't sufficiently to permit him to open his a stranger." With nimble fingers he ed and have to rustle money to get carefully. There were unfamiliar featran through the fellow's pockets, then | back with. I think it's an awful funny | ures about this place. While it was the police"- He stopped abruptly once ! mind. the ticket." He tapped his pocket.

into which he flung himself beavily. "It's worth $1.000 to me not to miss, en companion. "I've got a taxi wait-'ing. We'll leave. Ringold where he is." youth—irrepressible youth—on a over, "and recognized you chaps when face looks like a chalk mine. Therei the unconscious man's pockets, among you came in. I'm a football fan my. Now don't be so nervous; we'll cure this other things of some telegrams and a Higgins undertook to recall what had one of these capsules. It will settle

The doors belched forth the football self. I just got into town this morn- fellow's ambition as a gin slinger. I'll legally folded paper. The latter be happened to him after he ieft Muller's vour stomach." I change names with you for a minute." opened and scanned swiftly, then turn- place on East Fourteenth street, but "Better give me something to settle couldn't catch a boat today, so I'm He pushed the button twice, and a ed his little eyes upon Locke without a his memory was tricky. He recollected my bill if I've been here that long. I'm moment later the door opened quietly word, whereupon that gentleman, with a vaguely humorous discussion of some broke again." to admit a medium sized man in white equal silence, took from his inside sort with a stranger, the details pocket a wallet and selected a bill, the | which were almost entirely missing. The man allowed his eyes to shift und denomination of which he displayed to

"Will he die?" asked Ringold fearful-, his back still against the door. "Not a chance. But if he does he'l. never know who hit him. You see, we)

When the music again struck up he holding the wire outside. I'll show "It happens right along in this part of "You chaps have done me a big fa- h tie champagne, pername, to settle your ballad: Higgins and Locke were talk- the name of it?"

Office Main and Center

Andover, N. Y.

GENERAL PRACTITIONER.

Andover, N. Y.

J. LOUGHLEN, M. D.

Office and Residence, Center 5.

MHARLES M. LASH,

ATTORNEY, REAT ESTATE

tion given all legal business.

NGELO O. TUCKER.

CRAYTON L. EARLEY,

GENERAL INSURANCE

AT LAW

Money Loaned on Good Real

Estate Security

Andover, N. Y.

GENERAL AUCTIONEER.

Andover, N. T.

PRICES RIGHT

and See Better

rul answer all country cails,

"Suit A is considered very good, sir some dead line dump. Well, I'm going "Give me the coat and vest." But here again Kirk found nothing and was forced to apologize. "I'm getting

"Is there a good one handy?"

the foot of his little brass bed.

be called loudly for the singer. Then | "I am the doctor." The stranger pulled up a stool, seat-

it | those vellow bills of which he seemed | are the other boys coming on?" "Everybody is laid out. It's a bad

Finest Equipment Skilled Service not meet with the approval of former isn. LOWERS OCCASIONS PUNERAL DESIGNS

'ated the equal suffragists of America suffrage. Miss Paul states Misbranded Merchandise has been accomplished by the pure Johnson who knew Smith well, and Village Property, Live Stock, and here is what he thinks of the food laws, is indicated by the hear-quiesced and said he would accompany few responsibilities, he awoke sudden- call. lie has traveled from Cape Cod to of every description. Representative door on the inside, and let himself) '00, verifying within about $185,000 the manufacturer would not put his name Smith had failed to come out of the when pension legislation passes the vist House of Representatives with only conference. Mr. Smith leaves his equipped with a plant, and a moment wife, a daughter, who is a pupil in later he was hammering at the opertwenty-five of thirty dissenting votes, ' to note the nature of the opposition. and while Mr. Davies will conduct As an illustration the article of Rep. Military School. Mr. Smith was Secresentative Callaway of Texas, is in retary of Cameron Mills Lodge, No.1. keeping in close touch with the Whit bor bill was up and we were making) | was a pork barrel bill, the gentleman | from Wyoming, who thinks that the House would never yield to a politica 1. pressure, assaulted the river and harthe machinery in the respective dis-1. tricts. Does the gentleman think) influenced by a pork-barrel bill

According to Representative Treadf some of the Republican leaders do way of Massachusetts, his_State is "isupporting an educational plan along), President Taft has been emphasized vocational and agricultural lines and vecational and president Taft has been emphasized vocational and agricultural lines and vecational and president taft has been emphasized vocational and agricultural lines and vecational and president taft has been emphasized vocational and agricultural lines and vecational and president taft has been emphasized vocational and agricultural lines and vecational and president taft has been emphasized vocational and agricultural lines and vecational and president taft has been emphasized vocational and agricultural lines and vecational and president taft has been emphasized vocational and agricultural lines and vecational and vecational and president taft has been emphasized vocational and agricultural lines and vecational and vecational and by his reference to the Progressive the work has been very successful... movement as the result of "hysteria" Mr. Treadway expresses the senti-temples with both bot hands and so and "self intoxication.." With ex-Pres ment of Massachusetts as favorable strove to collect his whirling wits. dent Roosevelt declaring from the to further extensions of this work, mouth of South American jungles that but he believes that it should if done by the States, and that the went away on a ship, but I stayed in there is to be any getting-together," part of the government should be conit is clear that the two champions of fined to federal aid.

The President's Wrath

anything wonderful in the way of pro

last year's campaigns are not doing

The members of the President's physician patiently explained. "and 'Cabinet and many statesmen, claimed that they had the What is more, you have not exchanged 1 Lobsters For the Pacific The first shipment has been made "time of their lives" at the Caraboa Hornell, N. Y. of Maine lobsters to the Puget Sound dinner, until President Wilson shower region in furtherance of the plan his anger over the fun poked at his which is ardently supported by Secre-Philippine policy. And then the head tary of Commerce Redfield; and a of the nation arose in splendid wrath) systematic campaign has been opened the songs that had been sung to establish the Eastern lobster on fourteen years lost their "punch.", beautifully written on one dozen cab the Pacific coast. A number of prev- President Wilson's health prevented again without delay. "If body thinks or talks or dreams about ships are alike. We have to talk about ing cards if you will send me the lous attempts along this same line his attendance at the Gridiron dinner, this is a ship I must have come aboard. names of two young people who are have been made, but the present when his administration was the sub- How did I do it? When? Where?" plan differs from its predecessors in ject of caricature and good-natured "You came on with two men. that there has been a special selectiests on the part of the newspaper rather, between two men, about tion of waters in which it is hoped man of the Capital.. And now critics this morning. They put you > been developed from streams on natiously and that even as President ulation. This represents the output joke" along with the rest of his gov- loctor, granting just for the sake of The gathering and selling of acorns. lis a new industry, in Arkansas, supply Eastern nursery firms wh

"You will have to."

14We are 150 miles out of New York WOMAN'S WORLD diderably intoxicated when Jrising and closing his watch with "I of me co," the stranger gasped little while, Mr. Locke. Ttake you all in. I'm an officer." "-it's a Her shouted Locks "He's a of a remarkably steady head had to