MEMORIAL DAY IN ANDOVER

Decorations Day Was Very Successful With Interesting Program and a Patriotic Address by Rev. J. W. Sanborn

The Sunday evening Memorial Service by Pastor W. H. Rankin was one of the best ever held in Andover. Many words of commendation were heard by those in attendance, and the Rev. Ladies of the Relief Corps, Sons of Veterans fully appreciated the address and the words of the speaker. The weather man was sure to the "Old Veterans" and friends—among whom every woman and child in the city are counted—by ringing in their most beautiful Memorial Day last Monday morning.

The morning hours were devoted by most people and the plans in marking and decorating the graves of departed comrades and friends. Andover cemeteries were never more beautiful than they were this year. After a touch of the deft fingers that had beautiful and loving traces on the last resting places of those who had preceded them in spirit land.

At 1:30 o'clock the line of march was formed at G. A. R. headquarters by the Andover G. A. R. and the Sons of Veterans. The G. A. R. and the Sons of Veterans, and flower and school children contributed to the solemn occasion. It was impressive and inspiring.

After the services at Hillsbury the line was reforming and marched to The Auditorium where was rendered an unusually interesting program. The children, lead by the Rev. L. C. Sterner, sang the Star Spangled Banner. V. L. Eggleston offered the Clarence Hardy reading of the Gettysburg Address. J. Jones, presiding over the services, introduced the speaker, J. W. Sanborn of Friends.

Sanborn spoke for over fifteen minutes and the subject in a thoroughly satisfactory manner. He was paid Andover a high compliment for beauty and presence in civic affairs, and her people great credit for having built such a splendid Auditorium.

The speaker expressed his sentiments regarding the European war in very vehement words. He first of the great price for which the veterans of the Civil war a few of who were left, and contrasted the motives of that war with the spirit of the war now being fought all over Europe. He emphasized the present conflict as being but a big family row on the "Lords of Creation" on the other side of the Atlantic. He said that the war was not any reason, but the greed of personal ambition and gain of wealth.

Sanborn won his audience, and his touching reference to the love of American for the dear old flag drew many an eye in the Auditorium. His entire address was with intensely patriotic fervor.

After the services at The Auditorium the G. A. R. and Sons of Veterans were served dinner at the home of Mrs. J. W. Sanborn. Ladies of the Relief Corps, A. R. Hall.
