CHANGES IN THE LEAGUE

Gets to the Silk Mill For a Victory. The Team Escapes From Hill By One Score.

Cutlery took a freak half from the Silk Mill Saturday by a score of 15. The Silk Mill team started like a bunch of old veterans to the 8th inning where they stood 12 to 4 in favor of the Silk Mill. Then something happened. Kaufman was the one to get up in the 8th, and he hit out a single. Church then hit a home run and hit Libb, thus filling the bases. Then we got a hit and about the whole Silk Mill team and all took a joy ride and four hits, three base hits, and two errors coupled three hit batsman resulted in seven runs for the Cutlery. The Silk Mill only got one run on a first base.

The tailenders got tired around the bases last Saturday the Silk Mill team and that they were too fast for Andover teams any more they withdrew from the league and are going to play their own teams. Their place will be filled by another team in the near future.

Town Team and South Hill was a good evenly matched game, each team having one run in the 6th and South Hill four runs in the 8th.

MRS. MARY A. KEMP

The people of Andover, and especially the host of friends of Mrs. Mary Kemp were greatly shocked and saddened at the word last Sunday morning that she had passed away very suddenly of heart trouble the evening before. For many months Mrs. Kemp had been in poor health. She appeared, however, to be gaining until on Saturday evening her heart stopped beating without a moments warning. Her husband being the only one with her at the time.

Mrs. Kemp was born in Hornell, N. Y., on Jan. 13, 1890, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Teeter of that city. A few years ago she came to Andover and found employment in one of the industries here. On April 6, 1912 she was married to Earl Kemp of Andover. They have made their home with Mr. Kemp's parents or in the nearby cottage where they were happily situated.

Of quiet and rather retiring disposition Mrs. Kemp found a large circle of friends among the people of Andover who esteemed her highly and were attracted by the constant brightness of her spirit. Mr. and Mrs. Kemp were associated along church lines with the Methodist church of Andover. Soon after the revival conducted by the Genesee Conference Quartette two years ago they were both baptized and received into church membership. Regular in attendance upon divine worship and greatly interested in the Brotherhood and Philathea Classes of the Sunday School their presence and support of these institutions became of mutual benefit in every way.

In addition to the husband and the father and mother of Mrs. Kemp four brothers and two sisters are left to share the burden of affliction. Glenn Teeter of St. Marie, Mich., Edward, John and Ernest of Hornell, N. Y., Mrs. George McGee and Miss Ruth Teeter of Hornell.

The funeral service was held on Tuesday, June 15th, at her late home on the Wellsville road. Rev. F. M. Baker officiating. A quartette from the Methodist church rendered several comforting selections. Interment was in the cemetery at Hornell.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thus express our thanks to all for their kind words and deeds of sympathy in our time of sorrow. Also the donors of the beautiful flowers and those who furnished music.

Earl E. Kemp
 Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Teeter and family
 Mr. and Mrs. Ira Kemp and family

CARD OF THANKS

The undersigned wish to thank the members of the Andover Fire Department and all others who worked so valiantly in protecting my property or assisted in any way at the time of the burning of my barn.

Odd Fellows Honor Their Dead

Memorial Services Held in the Baptist Church Sunday---Pastor Randall Gives Address.

Andover Lodge No. 786 I. O. O. F. held their annual memorial services last Sunday morning and paid tribute to their departed brethren, decorating their graves with flowers and I. O. O. F. flags.

At the morning hour of service nearly forty members of the local Lodge marched in a body to the Baptist church and listened to an able address by Rev. W. H. Randall.

Following are among the good things said by Pastor Randay: Taking as his text, 2 Kings 2:12-13.

"And Elisha saw it, and he cried, My father, my father, the chariot of Israel and the horsemen thereof! And he saw him no more: and he took off his own clothes, and rent them in two pieces. He took up also the mantle of Elijah that fell from him, and went back and stood by the bank of Jordan."

Elijah had been long a leader and an adviser and a worker in Israel. The real interests of the people lay upon his heart, and much time and thought, prayer and effort had been given to aid and strengthen Israel along the lines of true nationality.

Such men ever have been and ever will be needed to lay the foundations and help build up the super-structure of true manhood, and of patriotic citizenship. Such leaders are unselfish, forgetting themselves. They expend themselves, giving all that they have, that they may help and bless their brothers. They want right and justice to prevail, friendship and co-operation to be the companions of their fellows. They want every one to have a chance to fill the place, do the work and reap the harvest of their sowing, for none of us can reap any other. Such men want their brethren to know the truth, that truth that sets us free so that we may become rightly started, so that we may not fall by the way, so we may accomplish the work that is ours to do, yes; that we may carry on and complete the work that these noble leaders, these self-sacrificing Elijahs have begun and committed to our care.

But as they walk and talk Elisha's heart grows heavier at the thought that soon the parting will come. Then there is a great commotion in the clouds, and the chariot and horsemen of heaven appear and the old soldier is lifted up out of his sight. Is it any wonder that Elisha became sorrowful and even rent his clothes? Can we not see the friend who highly valued the services of the departed and felt that none could fill the vacant place. Little did he think, at the moment, that he himself would be called upon to take up the mantle of his leader and go on with the work.

During the past year two have been taken out of our Lodge, brothers Snyder and Porter. We all know the friendliness of our brother and the many friends he made and how much of sadness came to our town when our brother was removed from our midst.

In our midst we have had quite a number of our brethren called to the lodge that is on high. Many of these have been brothers who have held important positions; been in the order for a long time and served the interests of their brethren most zealously and untriflingly for many years. Among them are such men as Brother J. H. Bennett, Grand Patriarch of the Grand Encampment of our State; brother Philip Block P. G. P.

 Henry C. Hedges, once the lawyer partner of Senator John Sherman; he was a man of great intellectual ability and an eloquent speaker. He was active in the service of his brethren for their highest good. For 62 years he served faithfully, holding up the real, true and moral side of our order.

We have just received word that Grand Sire Robert T. Daniel had just been called from the good work that he has been doing for us to his reward.

We might go on brothers and extend this roll for I see that many of our truest members, best councilors, hardest workers, and safest leaders, some occupying the most important positions and who for 30 to 60 years have contributed much to the work and success of the order, have met the horsemen and the chariots.

Yes, we feel our loss and a sense of weakness may come to us as to Elisha. We are impressed with a sense of thankfulness that these brothers have been so long our leaders, thankful for their noble characters and loving true service. But how shall we honor best their memories? By holding this service here today in which a mention is made of their untiring and unselfish labors is made and then turn aside to forget them and their works forever? Shall we stand gazing into the heavens, or shedding a few emotional tears?

Did not Elisha do right when he tried to make the name of old Elijah immortal among the people by keeping alive the work that he had been doing? Elisha went to work at once and still he never put out of mind the man who dropt the mantle. It is our privilege and duty to remember the men who have stood for the highest principles of manhood, who have been the world's truest friends, and have served the truest interests of their brothers. In the past the names of men like Moses, Joshua, David, Washington and Grant, Ridgely, Thomas, Wildey and others.

Elisha had something else to do than simply to remember all that Elijah had been to Israel and himself. More than just to remind the people of this great man and the great things he had done. Too often as we stand by the graves of our great leaders we say "We shall never see their like again." No one can fill the vacant place. Who then is left only Elisha, so little known. Well, has God used many an unknown? I do not know what else you could say of Grant when he first entered his country's service, but he proved himself to be the man his country needed. It was not the men who stood nearest to the King who say the need of the poor, hard working, and least considered man. No it was one whose heart was full of love and composition, and who wanted to see a better social condition brought about. One who wanted to see a right condition, a true brotherly spirit and a friendly co-operation between all classes of mankind. It was one who loved the great Friend of Man, Christ Jesus, and he felt the same brotherly spirit the Man of Galilee did. So he was not only trying to keep in mind your great friend and mine, but he was carrying on His work. He called these men together, and it may be that he found a few kindred spirits like

HOLSTEINS ARE MOST AFFECTED

Serious Blow to Raising of This Breed of Cattle Is Found in Recent Ruling of Milk Buyers.

The most serious blow that has ever threatened the Holstein-Friesian industry in this county or in the State is impending as the result of a clause in the contracts recently submitted to milk producers in Central New York and this vicinity by New York supply companies.

These contracts offer producers established prices for their milk, but provided that three cents a hundred pounds shall be deducted from the price for every tenth of one per cent, that the milk tests belong 3.8 in the butter-fat tests. Dairymen say it is impossible to provide Holstein-Friesian milk testing higher than 3.5 per cent, a hundred pounds. If this ruling is enforced, it is said that it will cost the dairymen of the state $6,000,000 a year.

The center of the storm at present is at Apulia Station, where there are 30 producers drawing milk to the distributing stations of New York and New Jersey syndicates.

These 30 dairymen have herds that produce milk of an average of 2.8 per cent a hundred pounds in the butter fat tests. This means that after they are docked three cents per every tenth of a per cent below the impossible standard set, they stand to lose 15 cents a hundred pounds. Their average production is 100,000 individual average decrease in pounds a year, which makes the income $150 a year, or half the annual wages of the one hired hand most of them keep.

Same Answer From All

They sell their milk to the Borden Company, the Sheffield Farms Company, the Alexander Campbell company, the Levy Dairy Company and Tiesten Brothers. When contracts were submitted the dairymen went from their former distributors to representatives of some other metropolitan or New Jersey syndicate. Everywhere they met the same answer, that the ruling held for all.

So the dairymen are in a dilemma. They can either manage their herds for love of the business, or weed out the Holstein-Friesian, and replace them with Guernseys or Jerseys, which yield a higher testing butter-fat milk. This some of them have already begun to do. In this compromising step lies the danger to the Holstein-Friesian industry. The dairymen, depending on the sale of milk, for a living buy pure-breds to sire their herds, and the fanciers are in a large measure dependent on them for a continued income. If the dairymen substitute pure-bred Jerseys or Guernseys, the fanciers will

AN EXPERIMENT

Home Enterprise to See if Andover Will Appreciate Worth While Pictures

Actuated by the same "good of the town" spirit that prompted its ninety stockholders to put up their good money that Andover might have its beautiful Auditorium for the entertainment of her people, Home Enterprise Company is to try out the experiment of giving the famous "Paramount Pictures," which means the very best plays, by the most distinguished authors, featuring America's greatest stars. Tomorrow (Saturday) night, "Where the Trail Divides" in five parts will be given, with the eminent actor, Robert Edson, in the leading role. Wednesday evening, "Wildflower" will follow with the lovely Marguerite Clark in the role that made her famous.

Paramount Pictures is an expensive experiment and appeal is made to our best people to patronize them that they may be made a permanent feature of our community life and that the other kind may be excluded hereafter from the Auditorium program. If the attendance warrants the continuance of "Paramount Pictures, such plays as "The County Chairman" with Maclyn Arbuckle, "The Man From Mexico," with John Barrymore, and other equally famous New York success will soon be seen here. The price of admission for "Paramount Pictures" will be 5 and 10c as usual.

BOY DROWNED IN BENNETTS CREEK

Joseph, the eleven year old son of Mrs. Elizabeth Davis of Depot street, met with a sad and sudden death on Sunday June 13, about five o'clock in the afternoon. He was wading in the creek with a playmate in seemingly shallow water. The creek was of clay bottom, making the water unclear and Joseph was unable to see his danger upon approaching a deep step-off of about ten feet. Venturing a little farther he took the fatal step and plunged head-long into the treacherous, unseen hole. His companion immediately ran for help but it was some time before the body was finally located, and at this time, all signs of life had fled.

Joseph was an affectionate, bright and promising boy and won the friendship and trust of all with whom he was acquainted. The cruel severing of the ties which bound him to mother, sisters and brother has left aching hearts and the burden of grief seems hard to endure.

The funeral will be held from 10 to 11 o'clock at the home of Mrs. P. J. Dailey of Andover.

lose their business outlet, and the black and white industry will decay

The problem will be put up to the New York State Holstein-Friesian Breeders' Club of the Apulia dairymen
