Our National Capital

Events of Interest from the Seat of Government by the News Special Correspondent, J. E. Jones

OUR GRIEVANCE AGAINST GERMANY

Washington, D. C., June 12.—The strained relations between Germany and the United States continues to form the principal topic of discussion in official circles at Washington. Some of the correspondents at the Capital have been comparing notes among themselves, trying to figure out the hairsplitting process of diplomatic exchanges, whereby days and weeks are consumed in getting out a letter of the length that a good newspaper writer can put "on the wires" in a couple of hours.

Washington is the "melting pot" for the nation's opinions, and it has been brought home to the Capital that the man in the street, the laborer, the farmer at his plow, the business man and capitalist revolts at the suggestion of the "jingo" who would pile American soldiers into the hungry trenches to imitate the performances of Europeans.

Germany's first note fell pretty flat when it reached Washington, and it evoked some uncomplimentary remarks. But, outside of the first few days following the destruction of the Lusitania, there has been no war sentiment in Washington, or the country. In 1898 when we had our little "brush" with Spain there was a far different feeling from that which now prevails. It is certain that the American Government will find and honorable way of adjusting the present difficulties without making a plunge into the maelstrom.

The Resignation of Mr. Bryan

The resignation of Mr. Bryan came to the country like a bolt out of a clear sky. And Washington itself was hardly prepared for what happened, though for several days the best informed men confided "that they did not see how Mr. Bryan could sign the President's note to Germany." The future of the Democratic Party, now facing new conditions, is of the utmost concern to the country. With Mr. Bryan on the outside the opposition to President Wilson will no longer seek to hide itself. Bryan is a spectacular figure in the eyes of the world to-day—and no man can foretell how future events may shape, or revolve around his star of destiny. His enemies hope that he will be a "dead one," but they know he never will be. From a political standpoint the rejoicing is among the Republicans. As to how Bryan's resignation will affect the nation and its affairs, only time can decide.

Another Chapter on Mexico

The Mexicans appear to have united in a demand to restore the governmental policies of Madero, and President Wilson has told the bluffers to "do it now," intimating that in case of delay, that he will take a hand in affairs. Heretofore any pressure from Washington has provoked angry retorts—but this time the Mexicans have all responded in sweet and lovely phrases. Just what President Wilson proposes to do in Mexico is not clear, but it is certain that he has worked out a definite policy that will call for drastic interference in the affairs of the alleged Republic at our southern border.

Sizing Up Whitman

As a result of the last election Governor Whitman became a "Presidential possibility." And now Whitman has chased the bee

Who's Running This Country?

Less than a dozen years ago men of "big business" were accustomed to defy the subpoena of government commissions and committees of Congress. The last man to "get away" with anything of the kind was Paul Warburg, who declined to be investigated by the Senate as to his specifications to serve on the Federal Reserve Board. And Warburg got away with it, since he hung up the Senate until he was assured that no embarrassing questions would be asked. The Warburg case is an exception to the common rule and helps prove that the Government is supreme. Recently the Federal Trade Commission held hearings in Boston and New York and the mighty millionaire managers who once thought they owned the country, came meekly to the front to tell their plain unvarnished story, and to impress upon the Commissioners the necessity of telling them just what they should do, and should not do, to avoid being prosecuted as trusts. Big business has ceased to mount back yard fences, and cry "creek-a-candle-doo," but is perfectly willing to admit that the legalized Government of the people has at last proven itself competent to run the country.

The Yankee Abroad

The Chinese Ambassador has given the American people some good advice. He remarks: "You may think that we need a great many pairs of shoes in China. We do, but if you want to sell us those shoes you should offer us the kind of shoes we want and not the kind you think we ought to want. You should study Chinese customs. I would suggest studying the language, so you can trade direct with our merchants. At present you have to use a sort of middleman-comprador, we call him. He is the go-between, and he makes money both ways, from us and from you."

Perhaps Chinaman is not as stupid as a citizen of the United States might suppose. Anyhow, he has tipped off the principal reason why Germany and England have gobbled the world's foreign commerce. The Chinese Minister has put his finger on our weak spot as traders. We do not study our foreign customers. We take a chance of their liking what we make rather than make what they unquestionably want. Instead of overcoming our national diffidence and learning to talk to them face to face, we let professional exploiters take their orders and place our goods—the surest way to start misunderstanding and loss business.

Schwab, Crack Salesman

A little item in the newspapers recently told the story that the Cramp Ship and Engine Building Company plant at Philadelphia was working only half time, and practically the same condition existed at the Fore River Ship Building Company's plant at Quincy, Massachusetts. If the report that Charles M. Schwab has bought these plants, is true, the people dependent upon the activities of the institutions should feel gratified. Schwab controls a lot of big enterprises, and he is doubling and redoubling their capacity, all because he is the greatest little war supply manufacturer in the world. He has sold so much stuff, personally to Europe, that unless the fighting stops soon, Schwab will have the monarchs picking the diamond settings out of their crowns to pay the bills they have contracted. But Schwab beat the whole world to it in salesmanship, so why shouldn't his institutions have the benefits?

The Spread of Tuberculosis

The United States Public Health Service has given wide distribution to a report covering "The Spread of Tuberculosis," by Dr. H. G. Lampson of the Minnesota State Department of Health. The report covers a large part of five counties in Minnesota, and shows "that 79 per cent of the individuals fully exposed for a long period of time to open cases of tuberculosis became infected. A much smaller percentage, 28 per cent, of those partially exposed or exposed for a short period of time became infected." The report further States that the percentage of infection from casual exposure, "such as everyone encounters" was eight per cent. The survey made by Dr. Lampson is like his other reports that have been put out by the government—in language easily understandable by the ordinary layman. It may be obtained at a cost of five cents a copy from the Government Printing Office.

Among the Suffragists

Yes, Vermont did pass a law requiring seats for women clerks. The Legislature talked about giving mothers pensions and giving a divorce to a woman whose husband was an habitual drunkard, but decided that it better not. It did not even discuss the question of taking away from the husband the right to trustee his wife's wages and to go off with the baby.

Vermont is a stable, conservative State where, according to historic precedent, the men run the government.

Woman suffrage is distrusted by vice and crime and ignorance. It is the chosen companion of social progress and intelligence. Why not judge a cause as you do a person—by the company it keeps?

Denmark, one of the best educated nations in the world where, according to a report made by the U. S. Bureau of Education, parents will go to any extremity in order to keep their children in school, Denmark granted woman suffrage on June 5.

"It is not understandable to me," said City Chamberlain Bruere in welcoming the convention of the National Woman's Trade Union League to New York City, "that there should be any wish to postpone the entrance of women into political life. We cannot afford not to have the full power that is at our command."

If you think that woman suffrage will cause women to rush en masse into politics, the report of the California State Federation of Women's Clubs in session late last month in San Francisco tells another story.

According to the Speaker of the California Assembly who addressed the convention, few women appeared before the Legislature advocating reforms, but these few were recognized by the law makers as having the women of the State back of them. He said further that there was never any chance of the red-light bill not passing because it was recognized as being backed by the women.

Conclusion: Woman suffrage enables women all over the State to hold up the hands of the few who pioneer reforms and to do this they do not have to leave the home for a minute. They don't even have to vote—just be able to.

"There's no use talking about war, anyway," said General Wingate of the New York Board of Education, "as we aren't prepared. All we could do is to make faces at the Germans."

As far as it goes, this removes completely the argument against woman suffrage based on woman's inability to fight. When it comes to making faces the small boy "has nothing" on the small girl.

NEW MEXICO BREAKS RECORD

Coal Production For 1914 Was Nearly 4,000,000 Tons as Reported by United States Geological Survey

The production of coal in New Mexico in 1914 was 3,877,689 short tons, valued at $6,230,871. This was the greatest coal output in the history of the State, according to C. E. Leshier, statistician of the United States Geological Survey.

New Mexico is the only one of the rocky Mountain States in which more coal was mined in 1914 than in 1913. The increase of 168,823 tons in quantity and $29,611 in value is due to the greater output from Colfax and Santa Fe counties, which, being on the east front of the Rocky Mountains and not far distant from the larger Colorado fields, were able to supply a part of the demand normally furnished with coal from Colorado, from which the 1915 production was restricted because of the continued strike.

REAL COW'S MILK

Wayne MacVeagh, the lawyer and diplomat, has on the outskirts of Philadelphia an admirable stock farm. One day last Summer some poor children were permitted to go over his farm, and when their inspection was done, to each of them was given a glass of milk.

The milk was excellent. It came, in fact, from a two-thousand-dollar cow.

"Well, boys, how do you like it?" the farmer said, when they had drained their glasses.

"Gee, Fine," said one little fellow. Then, after a pause, he added: "I wish our milkman kept a cow."—Baltimore Sun.

STRANGE CASE.

Corning, New York.—"Thirteen years ago I became so bloated I could not make out what was the matter with me. I could not stand on my feet or perform my ordinary duties. After two or three months my mother urged me to use Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which I did. Both my mother and I decided it was a tumor." I continued taking the 'Prescription,' three bottles in all, when the growth, as large as a good sized pear, came away without any serious ill effects. This growth was preserved and examined by many doctors and pronounced a tumor. They were all amazed at the cure performed by Doctor Pierce's wonderful remedy, which they had to give full credit because I took no other medicine or treatment at all for this illness. I cannot say to much in praise of 'Favorite Prescription' which I continually recommend for use in any female trouble. Since then I have had one child, a boy, now eleven years of age, and he is a well, strong, healthy child, as are all my six children."—Mrs. ELDORA LOCKWOOD, 197 Decatur Street, Corning, N. Y.

The mighty restorative power of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription speedily causes all womanly troubles to disappear—compels the organs to properly perform their natural functions, corrects displacements, overcomes irregularities, removes pain and misery at certain times and brings back health and strength to nervous, irritable and exhausted women.

What Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription has done for thousands it will do for you. Get it this very day from any medicine dealer, in either liquid or tablet form.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. These cases often get cured by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Good Printing is a Persistent Influence Exerted in Your Behalf

Every bit of Printing that goes out to serve you makes some kind of an impression. Poor printing will leave a poor impression of its user as surely would poor clothes, a poor store or poor office. You can get the GOOD KIND at this office—in large or small quantities.

Yes; Some Good Printing Costs Too Much, too

It's the same as with other good things. The temptation to charge "stiff prices" for high-class things or high-class service is always natural, but it's not always justifiable. As to printing, you pay more for it at some places than others. We are one of the "others."
