—On a recent visit to a neighboring town we were regaled by an acquaintance with these words. "See here, I passed Sunday in Andover last week and you did not mention it in the News." "Yes," we replied, "and the friend at whose home you were a guest met us each day that week and it seems did not think it worth while to give us the item. Go for them." It is a courtesy which not only the editor but your friends as well appreciate.
