FORMER ANDOVER MAN HONORED

Great Gathering in Hornell to Bid Farewell to Hon. J. S. Phillips, Soon to Become State Superintendent of Insurance

(From Tuesday Reporter)

Hon. Jesse S. Phillips, of Hornell, and for many years a leading figure in the public life of Allegany County, was given a dinner and reception at Hornell last evening that will long be remembered by the men present and should remain as a shining spot in the life and experience of Mr. Phillips. Not to every man in public life comes such a tribute of honest respect and hearty good will as was shown by that gathering. Not every public man deserves such tribute, but Jesse Phillips is different from many men in official life. More than twenty years in public life as practicing attorney, Supervisor of Andover, Assemblyman from Allegany County and delegate to the State Constitution Convention, have given him an acquaintance with public men and affairs and a reputation for honesty and ability that brought entirely unsolicited, the appointment of State Superintendent of Insurance, from Governor Whitman.

And everybody that knows Jesse Phillips believes that the appointment is a most appropriate and worthy one and the trust imposed will be faithfully carried out.

At the Elks Club in Hornell, generously tendered for the occasion, two hundred and fifty men met last night on invitation of a committee of citizens of Hornell, to greet Mr. Phillips and pay deserved tribute to his ability as a man and as a citizen, before his departure for his new duties on July 1st, as Superintendent of Insurance. The men came from the towns of Steuben and Allegany County, and represented all parties and all creeds. A splendid dinner was served soon after seven o'clock in the big dining room in the Elks building.

Then came the speeches of the evening, not set speeches, but spontaneous words, coming from the hearts of the men who were called out by the Toastmaster, the Hon. Fred Robbins, now of Rochester, date of Hornell, and formerly of Allegany County. Mr. Robbins was right in his element and he made a decided hit as toastmaster of the evening. Associated with Mr. Phillips for several years in the practice of law, he too, paid a glowing tribute to the real worth of the man. The speakers included Mayor Nelson, Assemblyman Prangen, Attorney Francis Cameron and the Rev. Fr. Naughton, all of Hornell; Ex-Congressman Edwin S. Underhill and present Congressman Harry Pratt, of Corning; Judge Cheney of Livingston County; Judge Monroe Wheeler of Bath; and District Attorney James T. Ward, of Wellsville.

All of these men have known and associated with Mr. Phillips in public life for years and the words of commendation—good will and respect spoken in congratulatory words were cheered to the echo by the guests of the evening. Mr. Phillips, visibly affected by the kind words and applause, replied to all the congratulations in a manner which showed how deeply he felt the honor of the occasion. He referred with deepest gratitude to the many friends in old Allegany who stood by him in his early political life and made possible the acquaintance and record that brought the honor of his recent appointment by Governor Whitman. He spoke, too, of the newer friends and acquaintances in Steuben and the men throughout the State who by their faith in his work had showed genuine friendship and honest regard. Mr. Phillips was rousingly cheered throughout the course of his remarks and at the close every man in the room wanted to shake his hand in parting.

To the men present the evening will long be remembered. Hornell citizens are good entertainers and they certainly did themselves proud in this tribute to Mr. Phillips. Allegany is very proud of her favorite son and every man at the table cheered lustily at the suggestion of one of the speakers that it was the wish of Mr. Phillips' friends that his career should continue, growing brighter and meeting with the unbounded success that is sure to come from his efforts in the important duties of the insurance department, until finally he should land in the Governor's chair.

Mr. Phillips left this morning for Albany to resume his duties in the constitutional convention where he is an important figure in the deliberations of that body. On July 1st, he will assume the office of Superintendent of Insurance.

AMONG THE SUFFRAGISTS

General French, in a dispatch published in London, includes the names of over fifty women among those recommended for gallantry and distinguished service in the field.

What has become of Mrs. Humphrey Ward, she who admitted that municipal suffrage was all right for women, but that parliamentary suffrage was all wrong because men protected the country in time of war and hence should decide its foreign policies?

An eminent minister was once asked if he thought that Christianity was a failure and he answered "It has never been tried."

Even so Supreme Court Justice Guy, in an article in the New York World, rebukes the quibblers about the success of democracy. "As a Democrat," he says, "I believe in democracy—which is something this country has never tried. Our Government now, in which one half the people is denied a voice in its affairs, is a Government of hypocrisy and not of democracy."

If this country adopts the presidential primary, according to Congressman Hill in an address at a banquet given by the Congressional Union, the Republican party must champion woman suffrage. Why? Because the vote cast in congressional districts in New England averages 32,904 and in the suffrage states 59,770.

And even without the presidential primary, Congressman Hill predicted that the logical outcome in the change in the make-up of the Republican national convention which hereafter will depend on the size of the vote cast instead of the population of the congressional district, will be to force the East to enfranchise its women if it is to retain its position in the party.

Governor Walsh of Massachusetts has announced that he is going to vote for woman suffrage next November; that, if the majority of women want it they ought to have it; and that most women who have thought about it do want it.

"I fought to free the negroes and I feel that it is only right for me to do something to win the same rights for our women," was the message wrapped around a dollar bill and signed George H. Veaver, Civil War Veteran, that arrived at the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Headquarters the other day.

It took the census of 1900 seven years to give out the facts it acquired about children, and the census of 1910 four years, said Florence Kelly at the Child Labor Conference. From which she argued that the interests of children were not amply cared for by our man made government.

NEW YORK WOMEN EXPECT VICTORY

State Suffrage President Says, "We Are Going to Win This November"

Mrs. Raymond Brown, president of the New York State Suffrage Association, is confident of victory for equal suffrage at the polls next fall.

"The women of New York State are soon to come into their own," she says. "Next November the men of New York State will vote on the question of woman suffrage for the first time. We are in the last moments of a seventy-five-year-old struggle—the struggle to bring our question before the voters. It began in 1840 when suffragists attended the anti-slavery convention in London. For sixty-four of those seventy-five years, with the exception of the years of the Civil War, when the suffragists discontinued their activities, this bill which was passed last February has been before the New York Legislature. But the struggle is almost finished. We are going to win this November. Every man or woman accustomed to reading the signs of the times with regard to election admits it. Those who told us last year that we could not win are now saying that we have more than a fighting chance for victory, and new evidences of the truth of this comes to us every day."

CONTROL OF GRASSHOPPERS

There are a large number of grasshoppers in some sections of the county and it would pay to keep a watch on the pest to prevent their becoming a menace to crops. In some counties they are becoming quite a pest.

Control—There are several methods for ridding infested regions recommended by experts who have made this subject a study. Probably the most practical method is the poisoned bait. This is known as the "Kansas" bait. It is made as follows:

Bran 20 pounds, paris green 1 pound, molasses 2 quarts, juices of 3 oranges or lemons and sufficient water to make the mixture thoroughly wet but not sloppy.

The above amount usually requires about 3½ gallons of water. The bran and paris green should be thoroughly mixed together, before the water is added. Put the molasses and the fruit juice into the water, then moisten the bran mixture with the liquid.

This material should be sown broadcast over the infested fields early in the morning or late in the evening.

The above mixture is enough for 3 to 4 acres. If the pests become as at all numerous, write or phone the Farm Bureau.

MOUNT VERNON, THE HOME OF WASHINGTON

By J. E. Jones

A pretty little story of visits to Mount Vernon on the Potomac—"Impressions and sentiments like yours and mine," explain the author to those who have seen our country's greatest shrine.

Bound in colonial blue and buff with hand illuminated cover design and George Washington's colonial ribbon book mark; profusely illustrated with handsome half-tones and pen drawings, it is a dainty and invaluable reminder that will instantly appeal to every person who has been to Mount Vernon, while to those who have not had that good fortune this clever, happy story of our beloved George and Martha gives a clearer view and understanding of their colonial home, which is to-day the pride of Virginia and the Nation.

As a souvenir or gift book, for young or old, there is nothing to approach the elegance of this little volume, and it will make one feel more like a patriotic American to possess it.

Send $1 for a copy of the first edition to be delivered to your address.

U. S. PRESS ASSOCIATION, Bond Building, Washington, D. C.

Special Note: Mr. Jones is the Washington correspondent of the News, and if you will state that you are a reader of this paper, an autographed copy of the first edition will be furnished on the regular order.

WHY DOES THE

"Fruit-a-tives" Keeps Young And In Spry Health

J. W. HAMMOND, Esq.

SCOTLAND, ONT., Aug. 25th.—"Fruit-a-tives" are the only manufactured, to my way of thinking. They work completely, no grip whatever, and one is plenty for an ordinary person at a dose. My wife was a martyr to Constipation. I tried everything on the calendar without satisfaction, and spent large sums of money until we happened to "Fruit-a-tives". I cannot say much in their favor.

We have used them in the family about two years and we would not have anything else as long as we can get "Fruit-a-tives". J. W. HAMMOND. Those who have been relieved by "Fruit-a-tives" are proud and happy. Tell a sick or ailing friend about the wonderful tablets made from fruit juice. "Fruit-a-tives" is the celebrated medicine that relieves more suffering from Stomach, Liver, Bowel, Kidney and Skin Troubles, than any other medicine ever discovered.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 15c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ogdensburg, New York.
