ANDOVER GRANGERS WORK AT WHITESVILLE

A Room Full of Grangers Greeted Andover Degree Team Monday Night. Visitors Present From Adjoining Granges.

(From Whitesville News) One of the largest and most enthusiastic meetings ever held by Whitesville Grange was held at its hall last Monday evening. About two hundred Grangers were present...

After the routine of business Master A. C. White turned the meeting over to Master Mings of the Andover Grange who closed in the fourth degree and opened in the third degree, when the third degree was conferred upon three candidates by the Andover degree team.

During the Lecturer's hour the young people of the Andover degree team put on a very pretty drill. All the work of the Andover brothers and sisters was of the highest order and they were soundly applauded for their efforts.

Bountiful refreshments were served after which all departed for their homes, secure in their belief that it is good to have such gatherings of this sort, when people from many towns "rub elbows" and get acquainted with brothers and sisters from other towns.

The Venetian players are a concert company composed of Oscar Kauffman and Henry Schopp. They will give novelty numbers on the violin, cello and concertina.

You ought to have a want ad telling home-hunters what your property is like.

ANDOVER COMMUNITY CHAUTAUQUA WEEK

Preparation Being Made For the Greatest Week Andover Has Ever Known. Following Are Some of the Attractions.

Over 9,000 men and women who were at one time occupants of state prisons have been made into desirable citizens and now fill positions of responsibility and trust in the United States as a result of the work of the Volunteer Prison League.

Mr. Booth is the third generation of a long line of Booths, practically all of whom have devoted themselves to the work of reclamation and reform.

Because of his family connections, therefore, as well as his long connection with the Volunteer Prison League, Mr. Booth has all his life been thrown in close and intimate touch with the interesting life he tells about.

A glance at the results accomplished by the Volunteer Prison League will show the breadth of Mr. Booth's prison experience and the important bearing the work of the League has had on the political and social life of the United States.

Five homes have been established by the League where discharged prisoners are received and aided in making a "fresh start" in life. These homes are known as "hope halls" and are located in New York, Illinois, Iowa and Ohio.

Then, in addition to this important work, the Volunteer Prison League sends Christmas cheer to the families of prisoners, aids prison officials in carrying out certain prison reforms and urges the appropriation of funds and the passage of such laws as will permanently improve prison conditions.

Mr. Booth's lecture on prisons and prison life is practical, interesting and instructive, and sheds a great light on the perplexing problem of "what to do with the prisoner."

Mr. Kauffman, who plays the violin, is a musician of much prominence. He has been a member of such orchestras as the Savoy Theatre Orchestra of New York City, the Royal Hungarian Orchestra, the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and the University Orchestra.

The Venetian players are a concert company composed of Oscar Kauffman and Henry Schopp. They will give novelty numbers on the violin, cello and concertina.

AUDITORIUM SATURDAY EVENING

Unmistakable, John Barrymore in His Famous Comedy Success "The Man From Mexico" in Five Parts

John Barrymore, one of the most prominent of the younger stars on the American stage, is presented in motion pictures in the celebrated comedy, "The Man From Mexico," by H. A. Du Souchet.

It is in this type of play that John Barrymore excels. With his exuberantly humorous facial expressions, his ludicrous gesture and his general method of portraying farcical tribulations and sorrows, he finds himself admirably suited in a character such as that of Fitzhe in "The Man From Mexico."

Barrymore is entirely at home in the clothes and methods of Fitzhe, as the latter is just the type of character that he can portray so facetiously and mirth-provokingly.

John Barrymore is ably supported by an excellent cast which includes Wellington A. Playter, Harold Lockwood, Pauline Neff, Anton Ascher, Fred Annerly and Winona Winters. The production, which is in five parts, is mounted and presented with the usual adequate and pretentious settings of the Famous Players, at the Auditorium Saturday evening.

lectures by Dr. Charles L. Seasholes of Philadelphia. Dr. Seasholes is a humorous lecturer of the inspirational type, and will speak in the afternoon on "Is Life Worth Living?" and in the evening "The Man With the Pick."

Both lectures by Dr. Seasholes will be preceded by concerts by the Metropolitan Glee Club. This organization consists of F. M. Gates, first tenor; C. A. Wilson, second tenor; H. O. Torrence, baritone and F. L. Lucas, second base. Besides a large number of vocal selections, this club will play several pieces.

In addition to Dr. Charles L. Seasholes, Charles Brandon Booth, Miss Irma B. Smith, the Metropolitan Glee Club and the Venetian Players all of whom appear on the first two days of the Chautauqua, there will be two lectures on the third day by Douglas Mallock, the community expert, a band concert on the fourth day by Vitale's Italian Band and a concert on the fifth day by the Swiss Alpine Singers and Yodlers.

entertainment by Herbert and Floy Sprague, a lecture by Harry G. Hill, and interesting discussions of Mormonism by Hans P. Freece, an ex-Mormon who has been in the thick of the fight against polygamy. Mr. Freece will lecture on the fifth day.

BURGER-JOHNSON

A pretty wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Burger in Andover on Thursday, June 24th, when their daughter, Alma A. Burger, was given in marriage to Ben E. Johnson of Chardon, Ohio.

The house was beautifully decorated with ferns and water lilies. None but immediate relatives were present.

After the wedding dinner Mr. and Mrs. Johnson started for Chardon, Ohio, where they will make their future home.

EASY TO PRODUCE BIG POTATO CROP

A Dunkirk Man Tells How He Gets Good Yield. Using Plenty of Fertilizer is Secret of His Success.

Dunkirk, June 26.—"I do not find any great difficulty," said Harry Johnston, a well-known farmer on the Forestville road, "in growing a banner crop of potatoes each year."

Mr. Johnston avers that there is a profitable revenue in this class of farm produce, and there is always a ready market for them.

Continuing, he said: "There are exceptional years, like the past season, when prices are so low that farmers do not receive adequate returns from their crops, but this is generally followed by three or four years in which the farmers realize good profits for their labor."

"Potatoes, like other crops, should be grown in land that has been well fertilized, and unless this is done it always means a short crop and an inferior quality."

"I do not use anything but stable manure on my land, as it has more substance than the best kind of fertilizer that can be bought."

Successful potato growing requires a highly fertile soil, so situated that it will suffer as little as possible from excessive rain or drought, a thorough preparation of the soil, and the potato plants kept entirely free from weeds, which retard the growth.

"If this good advice is carried out, there can be no such thing as failure," he said.

TWO TO ONE SCORE SATURDAY

Silk Mill Team Now Second in the League But May Yet Be Tied With Cutlery if They Lose Saturday's Game.

The Silk Mill and South Hill Teams managed to dodge enough of last Saturday's rain to get five innings played thus making the game count on the league schedule. The game was a good one as far as it went, the score standing 2 to 1 in favor of the Silk Mill at the end of the fifth. The Silk Mill boys added a few more to it in their half of the sixth, but as the rain stopped them before the inning was finished the official score remained 2 to 1.
