suppose that his evidence in his defence was weaker than that of the prosecution, and suppose that after the verdict he discovered new cumulative evidence, that would absolutely and conclusively prove that he was unjustly convicted and could be clearly proved to be innocent, would the court have no power to allow him to show the newly discovered facts to establish his innocence?
 It is claimed that in such a case the Governor should and probably would interfere by granting a pardon but that would not vindicate him. Should he not have the privilege or rather the right to show himself innocent and receive a verdict of acquittal?
 Becker claims that he can show a frame up by admitted assassins, who charge him of being the instigator to save themselves by turning states evidence, which surely is a great temptation to them to swear falsely to save their own lives and it seems clear that if he can show those facts by newly discovered evidence, it would be a perversion of justice to deny his motion.
 The law is not satisfied by a scapegoat but is honored as much in shielding the innocent as in punishing the guilty.

HORNELL FAIR

The Great Hornell Fair will be held this year on the same dates as usual, August 24, 25, 26 and 27. Premium lists and other advertising are now being distributed and show an exceptionally strong program for each of the four days, and a larger list of premiums than usual. It is time to arrange your work and make your dates with your friends in order to be sure to attend the Big One.

A GOOD HOUSEHOLD SALVE

Ordinary ailments and injuries are not of themselves serious, but infection or low vitality may make them dangerous. Don't neglect a cut, sore, bruise or hurt because it's small. Blood-poison has resulted from a pin-prick or scratch. For all such ailments Bucklen's Arnica Salve is excellent. It protects and heals the hurt; is antiseptic, kills infection and prevents dangerous complications. Good for all skin ailments: Pimples, Sores, Itch, Eruptions, Get an original 2-ounce 25c from your Druggist—Advertisement.

OLDER BUT STRONGER

To be healthy at seventy, prepare at forty. In sound advice, because in the strength of middle life we too often forget that neglected colds, or careless treatment of slight aches and pains, simply undermine strength and bring through weakness for later years.
 To be stronger when older, keep your blood pure and rich and active with the strength-building and blood-courting properties of Scott's Emulsion which is a food, a tonic and a medicine to keep your blood rich, alleviate rheumatism and avoid sickness. No alcohol in Scott's.

WELLSVILLE FAIR AND RACES

August 31st, September 1, 2, 3, 1915.

The management of the Wellsville Fair Association wish to announce that a Fair and Race Meeting will be held at Wellsville, N. Y., August 31st, September 1, 2, 3, 1915.

This is the Twenty-Seventh Annual Exhibition and the Association hope to make it the greatest one ever held in Wellsville. The Free Attractions to be given in front of the Grand Stand each day have never been equalled and the Association is justly proud of the attractions they have secured.

On Tuesday August 31st, a Spelling Contest will be held which is open to all students of rural schools in Allegany and Potter Counties. Two pupils from each rural school will be entitled to enter this contest for Cash prizes as follows: First, $15.00; Second, $10.00; Third, $5.00; Eighteen, $2.00 and Thirty-four, $1.00. In case of ties the premiums to be divided equally. Free Admission will be given to all Rural, Grade, High and Private school teachers and students on Tuesday, August 31st, whose names have already been received at the office of the Association. There will also be special attractions for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday which everyone will want to see.

There will be interesting and instructive exhibits from The New York State School of Agriculture of Alfred, N. Y.; The New York State Department of Health, Albany, N. Y., and Special Grange exhibits, open to all Granges of Allegany County.

For those who enjoy good, live horse racing a series of races is being prepared that will meet with the approval of all. The local Association is one of the leading factors of the "Old Reliable" Fair Circuit. Three races each day, Harness and Running.

The Midway promises to be bigger and better than ever including all the usual attractions with a large number of new ones. A copy of the annual catalogue will be furnished to anyone writing the Association, giving name and address, or by calling at the office of the Fair Association in the Thornton Block.

The Association will again serve hot coffee, cream and sugar "Free" in the cool and spacious grove, to all those who bring their cups between 11:30 and 1:30 every day of the Fair. Bring your lunch baskets with cups and have a good time.

TOM HOOD BROUGHT UP TO DATE

I remember, I remember the house where I was born, the little window where the sun came peeping in at morn. You'd hardly know the old place now, for dad is up-to-date, and the farm is scientific from the back lot, to the gate. The house and barn are lighted with bright acetylene, the engine in the laundry is run by gasoline; we have silos, we have autos, we have dynamos and things, a telephone for gossip and a phonograph that sings. The hired man has left us—we miss his homely face; a lot of college graduates are working in his place. There's an engineer and fireman, a chauffeur and a vet., electrician and mechanic. Oh, the farm's run right you bet. The little window where the sun came peeping in at morn now brightens a car of corn—Our milkmaid is pneumatic and she's sanitary too, but dad gets fifteen cents a quart for milk that once brought two. Our cattle came from Jersey and the hogs are all Duroc, the sheep are Southdown beauties and the chickens Plymouth Rock. To have the best of everything, that is our aim and plan, for dad not only farms it but he's a business man—Exchange.

A PAPER ON COMMUNITY BETTERMENT

came so absorbed in the duties and responsibilities of the large farm that he had no time to devote to his little city-bred wife, and she became discontented and unhappy.

Because one lives on a farm is no reason whatever why they should give up all the pleasures of life and become hermits to everything but their stock and their acres.

The greatest criticism that I can make of the farmers as a class is the fact that they do not give to the finer and smaller things of life the time and attention which they deserve. They do not consider the community betterment enough. They allow the great things to dominate their lives and neglect the little courtesies which help so much in making home and life happy and worth living.

The great trouble with us all is that we have become unconscious of the needs of the community. "Let the other fellow do it, I have all I can attend to in my own business," is an expression we hear on every hand. We have all become too individualistic. We are all looking out for No. 1 all the time and give no time or thought to the great amount of good we might do to our neighbors.

"But," you say, "I am not my neighbor's keeper." Wrong, brother, wrong. You are your neighbor's keeper. You have it in your power to instill the doctrine of brotherly love into the heart of your neighbor, to keep before him the higher and nobler things of life, to make him a living monument of what man should be.

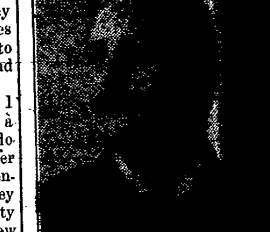

Of course some have become rich, and we may possibly do the same by the pursuit of this extremely selfish life, but it makes a sordid community and we are all made unhappy by it. The greatest happiness comes through our efforts to make others happy. Individually we cannot do much, but collectively we have power, we are a community.

The blindest man on earth is the fellow who robs himself of real happiness by his own supreme selfishness. Do something to boost the community in which you live and call home and that community will boost you. That rule has never yet been known to fail. You cannot get out of a community that you do not put in. Put in happiness, contentment and prosperity and you will withdraw the same in full and heaping measure. J. H. B.

RIGHT AT IT

MR. WHITMAN
 882 St. Valler St., Montreal.
 "In 1912, I was taken suddenly with Acute Stomach Trouble, dropped in the street. I was by several physicians for many years. I was in constant misery, my stomach and my weight came down from 225 pounds to 160. Several of my friends advised me 'Fruit-a-lives' and I did so. In eight months ago, I began to almost with the first dose. The medicine I ever used acted so quickly as 'Fruit-a-lives', using it I recovered from the Stomach Trouble, and all the Constipation and misery were completely recovered by the 'Fruit-a-lives' and now I weigh 200 pounds. I cannot praise 'Fruit-a-lives' enough."
