GREENWOOD LOCAL BRIEFS

Hornell Fair.

The Big One opens well.

The rain continue.

The Russians took a fall out of the Germans in the Gulf of Riga fight.

Picnic on the school grounds to day.

No new cases of foot-and-mouth disease have appeared in the towns qaurantined.

The affairs between the U. S. and Germany approach a crisis.

Italy has declared war on Turkey. He will gobble now.

Nobody at home to-day. All are attending the big Fair.

The Germans answer the last note of the Government by sending of the Arabic with American passengers aboard to the bottom of the sea and under circumstances more aggravating than the sinking of the Lusitania for the Arabic was on her way to the United States and could not be charged with carrying munitions of war to the Allies. Mr. Bryan says that Americans should not place themselves in jeapordy and should give up the sea to the belligerants but he even admits the right of neutrals to travel them. It may seem unwise to some that a neutral should take passage on the Arabic to leave the war zone to get to their homes, but who shall judge? Who is able to say that their need to return to their homes was not urgent? Again who shall say that it is unwise for an American to leave France or England or any other warring country for his home.

This right under the law of nations is undisputed and he has the right to the protection of the Government of his country in its exercise. Germany's reply to our diplomacy is a crushing blow more wanton than the others and it seems that argument is wasted on a power that places its own convenience above everything else.

Roumania is preparing to follow its friend, Italy, into the war.

Germany is incidentally costing the whole world vast sums in money and energy. It has shown the countries of the world that they must hereafter divert a large part of the labor of the world to producing weapons and munitions of war to be prepared and not get caught empty-handed as they were at the breaking of the present war.

Germany took many years to perfect its matchless military organization and other nations, if there are any other nations left, will need to take time and money and energy to be able to defend themselves. It is also costing the people of the world many of their liberties. The magnitude of the spy systems will make it necessary to curtail many privileges formerly enjoyed.

America will not feel safe to extend the unrestricted privileges to strangers that were heretofore enjoyed. We cannot now pursue unrestrained lawful manufacture without enclosing plants with walls and guards.

It looks as though our old-time freedom was departing. All must suffer in consequence.

The mob that murdered Leo Frank is of the same element that overawed the judge and jury at his trial. It is of the same mob element that threatened the Governor of the State so that he had to be protected by the Militia to escape a fate that has since befallen Frank, for doing an act as much to save the fair name of the State as to save an innocent man from death.

Frank was convicted upon evidence that a short time ago would not have been received in a court of justice south of Mason and Dixon line against a white man.

Many, including the trial judge before whom he was tried, say the verdict was wrong but was rendered through fear of the lawless and threatening element that thronged outside the courthouse windows giving fierce vent to their opinions and purposes.

Georgia has heretofore been considered a good State, but it seems that it is a good State to keep out of. No mere claim on the part of the authorities will wipe out the stain of dishonor.

Either the lynchers must be punished or Georgia must remain outside the pale of civilization.

The Americas do not need a great standing Army to protect their country from invasion. What it needs most is a great fleet of sub-marines and aeroplanes to guard our posts from hostile attacks. 1,000 subs and 1,000 planes would be cheaper and just as effective as a large Army. What we want is to prevent invasion make that impossible and no fighting would be necessary. This talk of sending warships to England to convey liners is bosh. Keep enemies out. We can get along without them.

NOT ENOUGH CHILDREN

ever receive the proper balance of food to sufficiently nourish both body and brain during the growing period when nature's demands are greater than in mature life. This is shown in so many pale faces, lean bodies, frequent colds, and lack of ambition.

For all such children we say with unmistakable earnestness: They need Scott's Emulsion, and need it now. It possesses in concentrated form the very food elements to enrich their blood. It changes weakness to strength; it makes them sturdy and strong. No alcohol.

THE FORUM

MY CREED

By Rev. V. L. Eggleston

I Believe
in the Country with its wide vistas and its broad visions; with its notes of nature untuned to the city's noise and its healthful atmosphere untainted by the city's breath.

I Believe
in my Town. In its present and in its future, and because I believe in it I will work for it. I will be an enemy to everything that would rank it below the best. I will activley espouse everything that will make it better.

I Believe
in my Fellow-Townsmen and I will do my part to make their integrity unassailable, their honesty unimpeachable; and their charity unquenchable.

I Believe
in the true Brotherhood of Man; and so I will not let my good fortune in living in the country blind me to the needs of the masses not so fortunate.

I Believe
in the God of the Country. "The God of the Out-of-doors," and I will render constant thanks to Him as I see the beauty of His handiwork unfold itself in Spring and Summer, and the grand eur of His work reveal itself in Autumn and in Winter.

I Believe
in the Christ of God, Lover of men and of nature, who walked among the flowers of the field, prayed among the cedars in the wood, and turned to his great sacrifice among the olives of Gethsemane.

MOUNT VERNON, THE HOME OF WASHINGTON

By J. E. Jones

A pretty little story of visits to Mount Vernon on the Potomac—"impressions and sentiments like yours and mine," explain the author to those who have seen our country's greatest shrine.

Bound in colonial blue and buf with hand illumined cover design and George Washington's colonial ribbon book mark; profusely illustrated with handsome halftones and pen drawings, it is a dainty and invaluable reminder that will instantly appeal to ever person who has been to Mount Vernon, while to those who have not had that good fortune this clever, happy story of our beloved George and Martha gives a clearer view and understanding of their colonial home, which is to-day the pride of Virginia and the Nation.

As a souvenir or gift book, for young or old, there is nothing to approach the elegance of this little volume, and it will make one feel more like a patriotic American to possess it.

Send $1 for a copy of the first edition to be delivered to your address.
