AMUSEMENT

COURSE 1915-16

Very Attractive Course, Specially Recommended as the Very Best, if Not the Best Yet Presented.

Managers of the Andover course for 1916 have all of the detail work of the season tickets.

We give below a list of the course. The number of the Hampton course, appearing October 1st, is a unique list of five in number.

Five in number, the course has been organized to fill the Lyceum. The past few seasons have seen a quartette consisting and act a great band Opera either by one act from some of the known Operas, such as Romeo and Juliet, etc.

Building the major part of their programs with their own hands. The result has been the platform of our best music in Opera. The Hampton course will present a new program in that it will feature any other singing in the Lyceum. It stands the Operatic quartette standard concert course and novel; especially and arranged with attraction. The use of the Motion Songs introduced readings will be a new feature.

Mr. L. B. Wick, appearing in Alfred last week, was immediately secured for the date. He is a man of great natural endowment, brilliant, sympathetic, original, built some fundamental truth, and an added charm from his musical voice and dramatic delivery.

Magician, Humorist, and actor, will appear January 1st. By common consent of the public, no artist could be the magic wand of the more delicacy, skill, and charm; no person completely fills the wizard's mantle; no entertainer the cap and bells of this master of legerdemain with grace and ease than Mr. Wick.

Fourth number, January 1st, will be a lecture by Albert Wigram, who appeared in Wellsville course last week, whose lecture was one of the best ever given in Wellsville. He has appeared three times in Alfred and will be a return date in October. This lecture alone will be the price of the season.

Most marvelous of all programs the Chautauqua Lyceum is that presented by Lewis Williams under the auspices of Electricity. It has been selected as the number of the Andover course, February 9th. Mr. Williams with him an elaborate equipment of dynamo, motors and electrical apparatus which cost him thousands of dollars. This means he gives a beautiful and wonderful presentation illustrating what electricity has accomplished and what it may do in the future. Mr. Williams appeared in Alfred last year, and the course therefore can highly recommend him.

Of the above numbers appearing on the Andover course this season, and the other course previously appeared. Everyone is of the high-

MRS. JOHN E. CANNON

Again Andover people received a severe shock, Tuesday night, when the message was received of the death, in Buffalo, of an esteemed and beloved lady from this community, Mrs. John E. Cannon.

Mr. and Mrs. Cannon, in company with Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Phillips of Hornell, had returned only last Friday from a trip to the California exposition, where they had passed four weeks enjoying the wonderful scenery and beauty of the western coast.

On the return trip, at or near Chicago, Mrs. Cannon was unable to rest, and the party stopped over a day to give her a chance to regain strength. They came on to Buffalo and she went to the Dr. Jones private sanitarium where the reports were very favorable until Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Cannon has been ill for several years and the California trip was made principally that it might be of benefit to her. The funeral services will be held this morning at the Blessed Sacrament church.

Mr. Cannon has the sincere sympathy of every member of this community in his affliction.

NEW METHODIST PASTOR HERE

Rev. and Mrs. Charles Collins Are Now Nicely Located in the Methodist Parsonage.—They Come From Elkland, Pa.

Rev. Charles Collins, the new pastor of the Andover Methodist church, with his wife and niece are now occupying the M. E. parsonage. Mrs. Collins and niece arriving Monday from Elkland, Pa., their former charge.

Mr. Collins delivered the sermon Sunday morning at the Methodist church and also at the federated meeting in that church Sunday evening. A large audience gathered at the federated service to give the new pastor a hearty welcome to Andover.

Mr. Collins is a pastor of experience and knowledge, having been very successful in his work along evangelistic lines in Kansas and Oklahoma, and held responsible pastorates in the Detroit Conference before coming to the Genesee Conference.

At Elkland, Pa., the charge he has just left, the membership of the church nearly doubled during his pastorate and the charge was greatly strengthened in every way. The church was brought up to pay larger sums for salary and benevolences under his ministrations than ever before.

Upon Mr. and Mrs. Collins' departure for Andover the people of the Elkland church tendered them a farewell reception and many articles of silverware were left them in acknowledgement of the high esteem and friendship in which they were held in that parish.

The Masonic Order and the O. E. S. also gave a reception in their honor last Thursday evening and expressed their regrets at their removal.

WASHINGTON WEEKLY WEATHER FORECAST

For the Week Beginning Wednesday, October 13, 1915.

For North Atlantic States.—Increasing cloudiness and warmer weather Wednesday will be followed by unsettled conditions Thursday, but probably with little or no rain; and by fair weather thereafter, with moderate temperatures until near the end of the week, when rain is probable.

Best grade and is unreservedly recommended to the people of Andover. We respectfully ask your support.

Miss Mary White will call on you in the interest of the Lecture Course soon. The season tickets, including seat reservation, will be $1.50.

THE ANDOVER HIGH SCHOOL

Conducted under Supervision of Prin. C. Sterner, Faculty and Pupils.

The question has come to us with annoying frequency: "Why have the school notes been discontinued?" Here is the answer. We simply have not had the time.

Rearranging the grades, corresponding with the Department in regard to medical inspection and other affairs, making out a seemingly endless series of reports, etc., these details have taken up all of our spare time, and now we hope that we see our way through. The notes will appear, but do not feel alarmed if these literary triumphs prove to be intermittent. We can prophecy a busy year ahead of us. The academic program is a broad one.

And then too there is the brighter side. It is our sincere belief that the school as it now stands is the best one Andover has seen for at least the last four years. As far as sincerity, intelligence and general desirable qualities are concerned our High School, as a whole, is the best we have ever seen at Andover.

There is of course a slightly crowded condition in the high school room, but that trouble is only physical and therefore endurable. In fact it serves to bring out the best in us. Frankly, the only adverse criticism we can offer is directed toward a very few of the younger members of our academy.

We older ones have hopes that they will soon appreciate the true seriousness of school life and all that it should mean to them. Before the end of this calendar year we shall see them all jumping right into the work without persuasion.

The 8th grade is doing nicely. Usually it is disastrous to allow such young students the privileges earned by older ones. Usually these concessions are absurd. Not so with our 8th grade however. We can only hope that their conduct throughout the year will warrant the same type of discipline now in vogue.

Mr. Munson, former principal of Belmont High School and probably one of the best Latin authorities in the state, was a welcome visitor at our school last week. He gave an excellent talk to the members of the Virgil class.

ANDOVER MAN FOR MEMBER OF ASSEMBLY

Republicans Have Opportunity to Pay Their Debts, As Democrat Candidate is a Popular Andover Business Man.

The candidate for Member of Assembly on the Democrat ticket this year is James D. Cheesman of Andover.

Mr. Cheesman is a life-long Democrat. He was born in the town of Greenwood and raised in the atmosphere of the farm and has always been interested in and closely allied with agricultural matters.

Nineteen years ago he came to Andover and was employed in the late L. A. Burrows drug store for nearly seven years, succeeding to the business himself at Mr. Burrows' death. He has been in business for himself in Andover nearly twelve years.

Mr. Cheesman is a man of the best character, and is held in high esteem by his fellow townsmen.

For eleven years Andover Democrats were importuned to vote for a Republican candidate because he was an Andover man. The Republicans of Andover now have the opportunity to pay their debts to the Democrats by supporting their candidate for Member of Assembly because he is an Andover man.

HAVING THE TIME OF THEIR LIVES

Appended to a card illustrating a California bungalow in Winter, with roses and flowers in full bloom, O. E. Vars, in writing to the News says: "Looks like this all over California. Taking in all side trips, having the time of our lives. This is surely 'God's Country.' Fruit in abundance and cheaper than hay. Summer all the time and not too hot. Everybody seems to be prosperous and happy here."

W. C. T. U. The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet with Mrs. Jennie Carr, Friday afternoon, Oct. 15th. Directors: Mrs. Carr, Mrs. Cooper.
