10,000 PLEDGED FOR SUFFRAGE

New York World of Friday gives the following Account of the Cooper Union Suffrage Mass Meeting.

A hundred thousand dollars pledged and $100,000 in a basket of the new campaign of the Suffragists of this city was raised last night in less than an hour at Cooper Union. The hosts of "votes-for-women" workers and their supporters had gathered for the biggest meeting in the annals of the cause. It was the success spelled half a million votes, the audience pledged and gave money with such generosity that Missy Garrett May, "Big Boas" of the Woman Suffrage Party presided, had all she could count the offerings.

Other States Contributed

Money poured in from other states far and near, even Massachusetts and Pennsylvania giving New York as a fellow victim. Woman Suffrage party got $25,000. Mrs. Norman de Whitehouse and Mrs. Ogden Reid for the Publicity Council followed it with $10,000. Suffragists sent $5,000; Boston gave $4,000; Miss Harriet May Mills, $5,000; the Equal Franchise Society, $3,000; the Col. Equal Suffrage League, $1,000; the New York State Association, $5,000; Mrs. Edgerton Parson, $1,000; and William G. Wilcox of Richmond, pledged $1,000 for till the vote was won.

Katharine B. Davis pledged a year for two years, and said if she has a job. From the report of Mr. Robert Adamson on Election Day, who was the worst "anti" in New York and gave $2 and his friends to the Suffragists, up to contributions that soared in the thousands, the contributions were of every denomination. Somebody honored the thirty-five brave men in Tom Foley's fight who voted "yes" for Suffrage. Owen Lovejoy gave $5 a week for his two boys till their mother gets the vote. Dr. Howard Shaw, National Silent, gave $100 "to convert anyone who lacked the Christian spirit to inform themselves as they attacked women from pulpits."

His handsome windfall came at Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, chairman of the Empire State Suffrage Committee with seething frankness dissected the election and the reasons why New York said "no." She likened the "anti" to the pink chiffon in the comic opera who dances on the stage with a father on one hand and a lover on the other. "The male 'anti' as she said was made up of the respectable and narrow-minded men while the lover was seduced by the liquor inter-

Eliminate Liquor Interests

He cited instances in the campaign and road literature circulated in the saloons and elsewhere endeavoring to confuse the mind by insisting that Suffrage would bring prohibition. We stand on no platform but said Mrs. Catt, "I have no argument against these forces of King Whiskey, or against political machines that did not keep faith with us, but I do want the place and have it, where the order went to fill our question." The contributions had reached $94,649. Mrs. Catt, who started the bidding with $1,000, to raise $5,000, and Mr. 000.

MISS M. MAUDE JANES

Miss Maude Janes, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. G. M. Janes of Belmont, whose funeral occurred on Saturday last, was in many ways an interesting character. Born in 1869, she became a member of the Presbyterian church at Coventry, where her father was pastor, at 13 year's of age, and was a most devoted and happy Christian to the last. A painful and permanent lameness, caused by a fall when four years of age, was not sufficient to take the joy out of her life, or to keep her from being genial company. A taste for music and art, together with no inconsiderable skill in both, served to relieve many tedious days and win many friends. But best she will be remembered by the many spiritual ministries of hope and trust she was able to impart throughout her sufferings.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. E. C. Hull, of Arkport, an old friend of the family, who spoke sympathetically of the pains the Father has taken to comfort His children with the definite assurance of better provisions made for their future welfare than anything he has given them in the present—a provision of spiritual conditions as positive, real as any conditions surrounding the life in the flesh; and also of the power of the departed to endure so patiently and happily all she was called upon to pass through, because she could see so clearly the reality of the invisible.

Many friends were present from Andover and elsewhere, among them C. M. Janes, of Schenectady; Mrs. E. C. Hull, of Arkport; Mrs. Wm. Diffin and Miss Myra; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Redmond, Mr. and Mrs. Randall Pease and Miss Mary Snyder. The services at the grave were conducted by Rev. H. D. Bacon, Portville, a former pastor at Andover. The bearers were Messrs. P. S. Clark, J. E. Redmond, Herbert Snyder and Frank Snyder, all of Andover.

It is impossible for us to sufficiently express the gratitude of our hearts to those who helped us to bear the great sorrow that has come upon us. Kind friends we thank you from the bottom of our hearts. In saying this we especially include our neighbors, the Kings Daughters, the Presbyterian Aid Society, the bearers who came from Andover our old home and those who accompanied them and the many individuals from both places from whom we have had such an abundance of beautiful flowers and the kindest remembrances. "May God bless you and keep you and cause His face to shine upon you and give you peace." Rev. G. M. Janes.

JUDGE CHENEY

IN LAW FIRM

An important change has been made in the law firm of Phillips, Brown & Greene of Hornell by which Shirley E. Brown retires and the firm becomes Cheney, Phillips & Greene. County Judge Warren J. Cheney takes the place of Shirley E. Brown in the Hornell law firm of Phillips, Brown & Greene, and becomes the head of that firm. Judge Cheney will have as his partners Hon. Jesse S. Phillips, State Superintendent of Insurance, and Floyd G. Greene, both of Hornell. The firm will be the attorneys for the Erie Railroad Company in Stetuben, Allegany and Wyoming Counties.

Judge Cheney will retain his residence in Corning for the present, where he has practiced for the past twenty-five years. His son, Guy W. Cheney, who has been in charge of his father's practice for the past five years, will take over his father's practice there. Larkaw, one of the largest cities, started the bidding with $1,000, to raise $5,000, and Mr. 000.

VICTORY ONLY WILL STOP SUFFRAGISTS

Allegany County Women Will Fight Till They Win. Enthusiastic Meeting at Home of President Mrs. E. B. Burrows

If Alice Hill Crittenden could have looked into the home of Mrs. Roxana Burrows of Andover on Thursday she would have decided that she was very wrong when she said that "defeat of woman suffrage in the four states which recently voted upon that question means the end of it." For gathered together in this pleasant home were 35 representatives from the workers for suffrage in 7 towns of the county. They came from Alfred, Andover, Bolivar, Friendship, Little Genesee, Scio, and Wellsville. A good time was one of the main objects of the meeting, the other the discussion of the future plan of work.

It was a meeting of enthusiastic workers, each glad of the victory, or glorious defeat, as you please, and each anxious to go on to the final victory we see so surely ahead. The organization is nearly perfect in Allegany County, and each one present pledged a stronger effort in the days to come.

Dinner and supper were served by Mrs. Burrows and the Andover Club, and a social time was enjoyed by all. During the day telephone calls, telegrams and letters told messages of encouragement, good cheer, and regrets at the inability of the senders to be present. Everyone came away with renewed strength and courage, with a bigger, better, wiser, view point from which to vision this great job of securing suffrage for the women of New York.

BIBLE SCHOOL CONVENTIONS

The Allegany County Bible School Association, with C. G. Cowles as Superintendent, has planned for nine District Bible School conventions to be held in the various communities throughout the county during the month of November.

Following is a partial list of the places with their respective dates where the conventions will be held: Fifth District, including West Almond, Birdsall and Angelica, at Angelica M. E. church, Nov. 5; Fourth District, including Allen, Belfast, Caneadea, Granger and Hume at Fillmore W. M. church, Nov. 9; First District, including Centerville and Rushford at Centerville M. E. church, Nov. 10; Third District, Alma, Bolivar, Genesee and South Wirt at Richburg, Nov. 11; Eighth District, Independence, Scio, Willing and Wellsville at Wellsville Christian Temple, Nov. 16; Seventh District, Andover, N. Independence, Alfred and S. Almond at Almond Presbyterian church, Nov. 17. Other conventions will be announced later. All who are interested in the Bible School should attend these district conventions.

Superintendents and pastors will receive notices by mail regarding the conventions for their school.

LEANS AGAINST LOOSE RAIL AND HAS BAD FALL

Hornell, Nov. 9.—Eugene Smith of No. 56 East Washington street, a carpenter employed by Deo Brastead, fell from the upper porch of a house where he was working this morning and was severely injured. A section of the railing had been removed and later replaced, but was not fastened. Mr. Smith leaned against the rail and fell 30 feet to the ground, striking on his back. He was picked up and taken home and physicians summoned. Although his back is not broken he is severely injured.

DARCY WILL HAVE COMPANY

The Town of Willing Elected Daniel Hall, a Progressive, to Membership on the Board of Supervisors.

It now comes to light that there were two Progressives elected to the Board of Supervisors at the recent election, J. C. Darcy of Wellsville and Daniel Hall of Willing.

Of course the Progressive party is dead, its members all returning to the Republican party, but when it comes to doubling the number of Progressive supervisors in old Allegany County in one year, there must be a few left.

The new Board of Supervisors just elected are as follows:

- Alfred, Frank Crumb, r.
- Allen, Fred Zarn, r.
- Alma, L. C. VanFleet, d.
- Almond, J. L. Karr, r.
- Amity, B. C. Ackerman, r.
- Andover, John Common, r.
- Angelica, C. L. Lathrop, r.
- Belfast, Carl Jennings, r.
- Birdsall, Walter Sheffield, r.
- Bolivar, A. J. Matison, r.
- Burns, Adolph Bluestone, r.
- Caneadea, Peter B. Loftus, d.
- Centerville, J. L. Hopkins, r.
- Clarksville, Cassius Congdon, r.
- Cuba, Jas. J. Kerby, r.
- Friendship, F. C. Mulkin, d.
- Genesee, H. G. Prindle, r.
- Granger, L. D. Bennett, r.
- Grove, Jas. Dowd, r.
- Hume, C. E. Ingham, r.
- Independence, Oscar A. Potter, r.
- New Hudson, Fred Miner, r.
- Rushford, L. E. Hardy, r.
- Scio, Walter Wright, d.
- Ward, Frank Graham, r.
- Wellsville, J. C. Darcy, prog.
- West Almond, E. E. Tucker, r.
- Willing, Dan. Hall, prog.
- Wirt, R. E. Thompson, prohi.

The political faith of the board will be, 22 Republicans, four Democrats, two Progressives and one Prohibitionist.

IN CASE THE TOWN GOES DRY

If you must have booze, start a saloon in your house and be the only customer. Two dollars will start it, and no license to pay. When the jug is empty your wife will have $8 to put in the bank and $2 to start business again. If you live ten or twelve years, and are as prompt in paying your wife for drinks as you've been in paying the saloon-keeper, then die with snakes in our boots, your wife will likely do anyhow, your wife will have money enough to keep you out of the potters' field, educate your children, buy a house and lot in the city, or a good little ranch near town. In any decent kind of fellow, and forget all about you. This is suggested in case the town goes dry, and you are a married man, and in bondage to the saloons and want to be free.

FLY WHEEL OF ENGINE BLOWS UP; TWO DIE

Bolivar, Nov. 8.—Seymour Bacon and Frank Tillbury of Alintown, seven miles from here, were instantly killed yesterday, when the fly wheel of a gas engine, which they had been repairing, blew up.

The top of Tillbury's head was cut off. The accident occurred on the James Brown farm, where the men worked on an oil lease. The bodies were taken to Wellsville to be prepared for burial which will take place at Alintown. Bacon was 45 years old, and Tillbury 30. Both leave families.

BUSINESS MEN'S SMOKER

Another of the popular Busy Business Men's Smokers is being arranged for Thursday night of next week. Hold the date open and help boost the old town along by your presence and cooperation.

ELEANOR RICHARDSON

Richburg, Nov. 4.—Though the many friends of Miss Eleanor Richardson were expecting to hear of her death in the near future the community and vicinity were greatly shocked to learn of same which occurred last Friday morning at 9:35.

Deceased had been growing weaker for some time but failed the past week more rapidly than any one week during her illness and late Thursday night grew very much worse.

Eleanor was a patient and great sufferer and everything that could be done for her comfort was done, her mother and father giving her their constant care. But neither medical aid nor care could restore her to health, the disease being too far developed before she gave up.

Eleanor Rebecca Richardson was born May 6, 1888. She graduated from the Wellsville High School in 1906, making her home with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Richardson. She made many friends during her stay in that city.

In 1908 she graduated from the University of Buffalo, from the College of Pharmacy, after which she held positions in several drug stores before going to New York, where she had been nearly five years in the Ophthalmic hospital. It was with much regret the staff accepted her resignation which took effect April 1, when she came home with tubercular trouble.

She was a member of the Richburg Baptist church and belonged to the Butterick Chapter O. E. S. of Bolivar.

She leaves to mourn her death, a mother, father and sister, many relatives and a large circle of friends.

The funeral services were held at the home Monday morning at 11 o'clock, conducted by Rev. W. C. Gates, pastor of F. B. church of Olean, assisted by Rev. McNiven, pastor of the Richburg Baptist church.

The pallbearers were cousins: E. A. Richardson of Andover, F. A. Richardson of Hornell, C. B. Richardson of Galeton, W. A. Thomas of Olean and R. E. and J. H. Lester of Richburg.

The body was laid to rest in the Richardson lot in the local cemetery. The flowers were many and beautiful, showing the high esteem in which deceased was held.

JEREMIAH ROGERS

Jeremiah Rogers, a respected and prosperous citizen of this village, died at the Hornell Hospital Sunday, from the effects of an operation, aged 58 years.

Mr. Rogers had been suffering from bladder trouble for a number of months, and the operation was believed to be the only relief. He leaves a wife and two sons, Hayden and Ray Rogers, to mourn his loss.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon at the Presbyterian church, pastor H. B. Williams officiating.

The interment was at West Union.

ANDOVER AUTO TURNS TURTLE

Ligouri Lynch, James Lynch and James Gibbons Badly Bruised as They Were Returning from Hornell, Monday Evening.

Breaks that refused to work caused a serious automobile accident at Alfred Station Monday night, in which three Andover men were badly bruised and hurt. Ligouri Lynch, with his cousin, James Lynch, went to Hornell on business Monday afternoon, driving a Ford runabout. James Gibbons, a laborer, persuaded Ligouri to let him go along.

They left Hornell a little after five o'clock for home. When they got a little this side of Almond as it was getting dark, they stopped to light the lamps.

As they reached Alfred Station the driver applied the breaks in order to slow up as they were turning the corner toward Andover. The breaks had not given them trouble before but they refused to work, and as a consequence the corner had to be made at a speed of twenty miles an hour. The right front wheel struck into an uneven place in the road and crushed down, spilling the occupants of the car onto the concrete road just in front of the hotel.

The car turned completely bottomside up, and then slid several rods forward. All of the passengers were unconscious for a few minutes and it was at first thought that James Gibbons was fatally injured. He was rushed to St. James Mercy Hospital at Hornell, where everything possible was done for him and he is now said to be entirely out of danger.

Ligouri Lynch, who was driving the car, is one of Andover's safest drivers, being a demonstrator and junior partner in the P. C. Lynch & Son garage in this village.

The accident was one of those fortunate ones that come too close to being fraught with serious consequences. It is a great wonder that all three men were not instantly killed.

FRANK GILDER BUYS HORNELL PROPERTY

A sale that will be of interest to residents of this section was held on the Court House steps in Hornell, Tuesday, by J. Stephens.

The property in question is the old Penny property on Hill street, that was formerly the Charles Dolsen homestead. The property was bid in by Frank Gilder of this village for $3,000. Mr. Gilder held a second mortgage on the property.

LUCY STONE CLUB

The Lucy Stone Club will meet with Mrs. R. A. Pease, Monday evening, Nov. 15th. A full attendance desired.
