Exposition of New Silks for Spring

Never in our history have we shown such variety, such values as at this time. We feel rather gratified in this for the reason that this time is the most difficult situation ever experienced in these lines. Scarcity of raw material, scarcity of dyes, tremendous demand for Silks—all conditions that have never occurred at one time.

Practically all of our purchases were made last Fall in anticipation of this condition. This enables us to give such values that you cannot help but appreciate when you take into consideration the prices prevailing in the wholesale Silk market today. Our purchases though nearly double that of preceding years will not last the season out, owing to the unprecedented demand. For these reasons we strongly urge you to make your purchases now while lines are full and while the prices are normal. This is the reason for this SILK EVENT. It's a decidedly Silk season as is always the case when scarcity prevails. Now we can give you original prices, now we can offer you the best-qualities ever, now we can give you permanent colors. Consider this argument and act for the benefit of your pocketbook.
