 Lord Strathcona, who rose from the humble rank of a cooper for the Hudson Bay company to one of the strongest men in the British Empire, died the other day full of years and honor. He always insisted that his success in life was due to three things: INTEGRITY, THOROUGHNESS, DILIGENCE. It was this trinity of words in action that made him a good trapper, a successful officer of the company for which he worked, that built the great Canadian Pacific Railroad.

Lord Strathcona had great opportunities and he rose to them. His real capital was the three words that are the working capital that every young man may have without bond or interest. They will work for any man who will work with them. The certain reward is character and competency.

And this matter of competency, provision for age and dependents, is the severely practical issue of your life. It does not come to you in chunks, but in modest portions, and it is the care and safety of the weekly and monthly portions that

Make it a Day to Remember
 Decoration Day is the first real holiday of Summer. Everybody plans for an outing of some kind or other.
 And its perfectly natural to think of new clothes in connection with a holiday.
 It's just as natural to think of our store in connection with clothes. Real smart styles for the young man, and more conservative ideas for the older ones--that's our policy.
 Everyone to his taste. There's a Clothcraft Suit for every man--a blue, a gray or a mixture. The price pleases, too, for even the most critical fellow can find what he wants at $10 to $25.
 Other furnishings are right up to the Clothcraft standard--quality first.
 Make your dollars count--come in and we'll help you.
