

Remind Us

Lord Strathcona, who rose from the humble rank of a trapper for the Hudson Bay Company to one of the strongest men in the British Empire, led the other day full of years and honor. He always insisted that his success in life was due to three things: INTEGRITY, THOROUGHNESS, DILIGENCE. It was this trinity of words in action that made him a good trapper, a successful officer of the company for which he worked, that built the great Canadian Pacific Railroad.

Lord Strathcona had great opportunities and he rose to them. His real capital was the three words that are the working capital that every young man may have without bond or interest. They will work for any man who will work with them. The certain reward is character and competency.

And this matter of competency, provision for age and dependents, is the severely practical issue of your life. It does not come to you in chunks, but in modest portion, and it is the care and safety of the weekly and monthly portions that
