Ten Musical Programs

EDNA WHITE, Trumpet Solgist

Let's, look at the Chautauqua from the standpoint of mude alone There will be ten great musical programs.

The Castle Square Entertainers

on the first day. We all love a male quartet—if it's a topnotcher. And here's one that meets the most exacting demands. They were organized nearly fifteen years ago and have sung in the largest cities from coast to coast. It is not a got-up-overnight affair, as many male quartets are. Its man is a soloist, and, besides their singing, which will simply captivate you, they comprise a vicin quartet, a cornet quartet and a quartet of funmakers. They will appear for a full concert in the including at least three great soloists, on the fourth day, a day you'll long remember. Torcom Best zian, the Russian tenor whose voice is so well known through the phonograph, will sing some of his inimitable Armenian folk songs, appearing in the garb of a Russian Cossack.

The Edna White Trumpeters,

the grand closing musical number, on the fifth day. The Trumpeters proved one of the greatest may then 10 000 in Montreal Comparison Exposition last summer. They played to an audience of more than 10,000 in Montreal, Canada, a year ago and have played in Carnegie Hall and many other large places, a fitting climax to a joyous feast of good things.
