Down- and- out Brigade

The lazy, idle, no-for-the-good-time boys of twenty years ago, are the down and outers of to-day, and the idle, lazy, cigarette smoking, pool-room young men of to-day will be of the down-and-out brigade of twenty years hence." That is the statement of Dr. Conwell and that is as certain as mathematics.

No nation has a greater problem than the conservation of its raw material — YOUNG MEN. Society is concerned in this problem and the greatest influence in the world is EX-AMPLE, the example of right living, of industry, thrift and saving. The things that matter are the things that pertain to the future, that makes men strong in character and purpose. SAVING with a purpose is one of the big things in life. The big asset of a state or community are the young men who are saving with purpose, preparing to take a man's part in men's affairs, and the young men who stand out are the young men with a bank account. The other kind don't emphasize purpose with thrift and saving, at least they don't have an account with the

BURROWS NATIONAL BANK

And the young man who has better credit at the saloon and pool-room than he has at the bank has enlisted already in the down-and-out brigade.

BRUTSMAN—STEPHENS

The marriage of Miss Julia E. Stephens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Stephens, of No. 1, Prospect avenue, Canisteo, and Raymond Earl Brutsman, Principal of the Turin High School, was celebrated Wednesday, July 12, 1916, at high noon, at the home of the bride's parents, by Rev. C. Henry Gall.

The bridal party consisted of S. Mead Stephens, brother of the bride, and Edith Brutsman, sister of the groom, as ribbon bearers, little Arlene Horton, ring bearer; Velma Brutsman, the little flower girl; Anna Stephen, sister of the bride, Maid of honor Josephine Jaynes as brides maid and Harlo Atherton as best man.

Promptly at 12:30 the bridal party wended their way to the beautiful bower to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Charlotte Hauber. During the ceremony Miss Gladys Sharpe sang "Oh Promise Me."

The ceremony took place under a bower of laurel trimmed with white bells and flowers, the large bell in the center being filled with rose petals which was opened at the close of the ceremony by the drawing of two ribbons showering the happy couple with rose petals.

The bride was gowned in white messaline draped in embroidered net with white satin roses and carried a bouquet of white roses. The maid of honor wore pink messaline and carried a bouquet of pink and white sweet peas. The bridesmaid wore pink crepe de chine and carried pink and white sweet peas, to carry out the color scheme, pink and white.

Following the ceremony a reception was held and covers were laid for fifty guests by caterer, Mrs. Hopkins, of Hornell. The decorations designed by Miss Mary Gall, consisting of pink roses and white lilies were beautiful and artistic.

Mr. and Mrs. Brutsman were spirited away by A. J. Aronson in his auto, to Arkport where they took train one for Buffalo, Detroit and Flint, Mich. The brides' traveling suit was of blue minuet silk with white satin linings and wore a large white picture hat.

The presents were numerous and beautiful, consisting of cut glass, hand-painted china, silver, linen, furniture and money, to the amount of one hundred dollars, including a twenty-dollar gold-piece.

Those from out of town were, Mrs. Geo. Webster, Cortland, N. Y.; Miss Gladys Sharpe, Borden; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Stephens, John Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Stephens and daughter, Miss Charlotte Hauber, Greenwood; Harlo Atherton, Adrian; Mrs. Minnie Scribner, Alfred; Mr. and Mrs. Fay Horton, Miss Mabel Horton, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Horton and daughter, of Howard.

VICTOR MOORE

In "Chimmie Fadden Out West"

In bringing to the Auditorium, Saturday evening, the popular American comedian, Victor Moore the Jesse L. Lasky Feature Play Company presents the two of a series of comedy photoplays based on the character of E. W. Townsend's Chimmie Fadden. Mr. Moore's third Paramount Vehicle is "Chimmie Fadden Out West," said to be a fitting successor to the very entertaining production, "Snoobs" and "Chimmie Fadden."

Chimmie Fadden is a character of American literature likely to live as long as Tom Sawyer or other famous youths of fiction. Chimmie is city bred. He is all a product of the bowery, with all the instincts and mannerisms of the city ragamuffin, whose vision of life is limited by sky scrapers and stone pavements.

What happens to Chimmie when he goes to the far West, becomes a mining prospector and tries the simple life is most interestingly told in "Chimmie Fadden Out West."

Mr. Cecil B. De Mille, Director General of The Lasky Feature Play Company, is the producer of "Chimmie Fadden Out West."
