

First Job

A short time ago, John D. Rockefeller, the richest man in the world, hoisted a big American flag out at his Forest Hill estate in Cincinnati. The occasion was the 55th anniversary of securing his first job, and he says that everything that followed has been the result of thrift, industry and some business sense and skill. The job was that of book-keeper in a Cincinnati river front forwarding house. He proved to be a good accountant, one of the first on the job and last to leave sort. One year later his salary was raised $25 a month, and the next year he was in business for himself. It is a short, simple human interest story, containing all the philosophy of business success, and the crux of the whole matter is he began to save money. You probably had a better start than Rockefeller had, but the magician of millions began to save money, and it is fair to assume from the results that the saving of his earnings was as important a matter to him as the job. The savings were made as industrious as the man. They were husbanded for the opportunity, put to work perhaps, in some strong bank like the with Three Hundred Thousand of assets to guarantee their safety where they added their earnings to this and were ready on call for the opportunity. Have YOU begun to save money.

—Archie Bloss, who is working for the Erie at Meadville, is playing some fast base ball. The Meadville team won the pennant in the western division of the Erie league, and then won the championship by defeating Susquehanna and then went and played the All Stars at the International League grounds at New York and won all games. Archie Bloss pitched at both the Susquehanna and New York games.

—The law demanding lights upon vehicles travelling the highways in this state are as exacting upon those driving horses as it is upon automobiles. Most people have come to recognize that fact, but yet there are a number who still persist in driving after dark without lights. Local officials are instructed to enforce the law and Andover's officers are making an effort to do so. There is no one should get called before the court because of their negligence in this matter it will be their own fault. Don't blame the policeman if you get into trouble.

A Week of Special Interest.

Beginning Monday evening in the Presbyterian Church every evening will be the opportunity of the people of the church to meet for conference and inspiration. Let the church have its proper first place this week. Arrange other matters to suit the interest of the kingdom of heaven. The minister will conduct the first three meetings and beginning Thursday evening, Sept. 28 Dr. A. J. Dean of Ithaca, N. Y. a synodical evangelist, will preach. Dr. Dean is one of New York Synod's big inspirational men; He is a powerful preacher and an expert in church-and-community lines. He will preach Thursday and Friday evenings and Saturday afternoon.

Special music and good fellowship every evening. Monday, Sept. 25—30. "Fair & Warmer"

Selwyn & Company will bring their greatest success, "Fair and Warmer" to the Auditorium Saturday Sept. 30. This is the farce by Avery Hopwood which took New York by the ears for a run of one year at the Eltinge Theatre, and which broke all the popularity records along Broadway. "Fair and Warmer" "sold out" steadily for six months and had the distinction of making even more money than "Within the Law" had done, though "Within the Law" was the Eltinge Theatre champion.

It is one of the farces which only Avery Hopwood can write, of four young persons with time and money to take themselves seriously, who get into more trouble than any living playwright could extortate them from without three acts of pure hilarity. It will come here with an admirable cast of farcers.

—The death of Mrs. Myrtle Strayer. Word was received by Andover relatives Wednesday morning of the death of Mrs. Myrtle Strayer of Bolivar.

Mrs. Strayer had been in ill health for several months, being at times demented. She had been taking treatment and rest at the Wellville Sanitarium, but had returned to her home in Bolivar about three weeks ago. Wednesday morning her mind became worse, and before her family became aware of her intentions, she ended life by shooting.

Mrs. Strayer was a most highly respected Bolivar woman, and was about 48 years of age. Besides her husband, Ed Strayer, she leaves a father, Erastus Root, of Bolivar and a brother, Asa Root of Wellsville.

She was a niece of Mrs. U. W. Stratten of Andover.
