172 YEARS AGO TODAY

Molly Pitcher, the Heroine of the Battle of Monmouth, was born.

When her husband was shot down by the Red Coats, this brave woman at once took his place at the side of the cannon, and continued firing at the enemy. There are many kinds of bravery in this world and any woman of the present day can display this virtue, one way being by economically managing her household and laying aside each week a certain amount to add to the general banking fund. In this manner she will safeguard the future.

This bank offers every courtesy to women patrons.

Let parents and children respond to the great privilege of this part of the church's work.

In the service of God only the loyal and true receive the blessing of service. To the half-hearted nothing comes; to those who are willing to sacrifice for the sake of the kingdom the throne of the kingdom comes. They only see the decline of religion who forsake the temple. But the man who gives his best to his fellow man is never utterly cast down or disheartened. William S. Rainsford.

The speaker in exhibiting the social and religious life of the Chinese spoke with all the authority of first hand knowledge.
