—Mrs. Effie Beever received serious injuries to her spine and shoulder, by a fall while alighting from a street car in Buffalo last week.

—A foot-bridge has been placed across Dyke creek, on South Main Street, enabling pedestrians to cross without making the detour which has been necessary since the flood.

—The Wilcox House is undergoing improvements in the way of two large plate glass windows in the front and a new stair-way in the interior. Dell Hawkins is doing the work.

—Governor Whitman has fixed November 28th as the date for a public hearing in the case of Charles F. Steilow charged with the murder of Charles Phelps in Orleans Co., in March 1915.

—Three births were reported from Bolivar last week, Nov. 9, a son at the home of Harlie J. Root; Nov. 11th, a son to Mr. and Mrs. George E. Day, and Nov. 13th, a girl at the home of O. S. McQueen.

—Mrs. Grace Webster Harkins, a former resident of Cuba, committed suicide last week in Rochester, in a rooming-house where she was living with a man called Charles A. Gardner, who is now in jail awaiting trial on charge of aiding suicide.

—Invitations are out for the marriage of Miss Florence Taylor of Wellsville, and Harry Mad-dren, of Brooklyn, next Saturday afternoon, at the home of her mother. Miss Taylor was a former teacher in Andover High School and has a large circle of friends here who will tender good wishes.

—The first snow storm of the season arrived Tuesday morning.

—Wm. Boyle is moving his family from Andover to Orange New Jersey.

—A ten-pound son was born Nov. 1st to Mr. and Mrs. Archie Warner, of Belmont.

—Myron Bloss is moving from his residence on Dyke Street to his farm on Greenwood Hill.

Whether the election suited you or whether it didn't, you have the satisfaction of knowing that you are only one little toad in a big puddle.

—The body of W. A. Schick, who died at the hospital in Wellsville, Nov. 6th, was taken to Pittsburg, Pa., for burial.

—One merchant says the first thing he sold after the Democrat parade Tuesday evening was a clothesline to a Republican.

—Canisteo is to have electric lights. The poles are up and the wiring now in process. It is expected the work will be completed and the streets lighted by Dec. 1st.

—The work of enlarging the village reservoir has been completed, and is a fine job. J. L. Williams was the contractor. In the spring a concrete cover will be built over it.

—Mrs. Arthur Osgood, an esteemed resident of Belmont, died at her home in that village last Saturday, aged 46 years. Mrs. Osgood is survived by her husband and four children.

—The Sugar Bowl is installing a new $1,500 soda fountain purchased of the American Soda Fountain Co., of Boston, Mass. It's a dandy and will add to the attractiveness of the parlor.

—The trustees of the Seventh-day Baptist Church have sold the brass bell which has been in the church for years, to the Hook & Ladder Co., who have had it placed on the Town Hall building to be used as a fire alarm.

—Miss Marion Norton, of Belmont, was overcome by gas fumes from a gas flat-iron which she was using last week. A physician was summoned and she was soon revived. An imperfect adjustment of the iron was claimed to have caused the trouble.

—Rev. Dr. A. E. Idleman, District Superintendent, preached in the Methodist Church, Sunday morning. A most scholarly and eloquent discourse and he made a very pleasing impression. Dr. Idleman succeeds the late Dr. H. A. Crane, as Supt. of Olean District.

The Baptist Church has extended a unanimous call to Rev. Wm. Guilan, of Wayne, N. Y., to become pastor. Rev. Mr. Guilan comes very highly recommended. He is a graduate of Colgate University and Colgate Divinity School and has had two pastorates the first in a suburb of Greater New York for ten years, and his present pastorate of seven years. It is expected that Mr. Guilan will accept the call and begin his pastorate with the opening of the new year.

—The Democrats of the Board of Supervisors gave the session laws and concurrent resolutions to the Canaseraga Times and the balance of the public printing to the Democrat. The Republicans gave the session laws and concurrent resolutions to the Belmont Dispatch. The balance of the public printing was divided up among the other Republican papers, or was as the designations had not been made up to the time of our going to press.

—Funny election bets this year were legion. Among those causing much merriment was that of George Truman, of Alfred, who bet with his partner on the result, the loser to roll a peanut the length of the business block on Main Street with a tooth pick. Mr. Truman paid his forfeit Friday. The following notice was posted: “Watch George Truman, the barber, pay his election bet at 1:32 by rolling a peanut the length of the block with a toothpick; watch the fat barber stoop and grunt.” A crowd soon gathered and with cheers and shouts encouraged the stunt.
