New York State Depository

When you have made a purchase of goods, you should always ask for a receipt. This receipt is your protection against any loss or damage to the goods you have purchased. It is also your proof of purchase in case you need to return the goods for any reason. Always ask for a receipt when you make a purchase.

The appellate division of the supreme court in Albany decided that the state controller is not required to audit expenses of the New York State Panama-Pacific Exposition commission. Included are the expenses of Governor Whitman and a party of state officials. The governor's political opponents have insisted for the last year that these vouchers be made public.

ANY ONE having goods which they wish to dispose of by AUCTION can do no better than list them with the Lever Sales Stables ANDOVER, N. Y.
