Of Interest to Farmers

VEGETABLE VARIETIES

In gardening, as in games, some people like to play safe and others like to take a chance. The following is given for those who wish a safe guide in selecting vegetable varieties. It omits many varieties as good as those named, but should prove useful to inexperienced gardeners.

Gardening is the one type of agriculture which is everywhere possible. It is carried on in the open country and the crowded city, the size of gardens varying from a window box up to several acres.

MANURE FOR NEW SEEDING

Manure will improve the new seeding, practice on New York farms has shown. Where the land is poor and the new seeding none too thrifty, a spring dressing of manure is most desirable.

DAIRY RATION SUGGESTED

The last of February saw the feed market advancing somewhat, according to the animal husbandry workers at the State College of Agriculture at Ithaca, who suggested the following ration for dairy cows: 300 lbs. gluten feed, 200 lbs. cottonseed meal (43%), 200 lbs oil meal.

THE MAN WHO LOOKS VIGOROUS

Good red blood is the only Sure Foundation of Permanent Health and Vigor

Good color, bright eyes, solid flesh, erect bearing are dependent upon rich red blood. If your blood is not up to the mark your general health can not be. Late hours, eating the wrong foods, working indoors, fatigue affect the blood.

Homespun Yarn

True saving lies in wise spending. It's the vivid splash of color rightly used that gives the somber costume character and dash.

Cheerful smiles not only help those who see them, but actually help those who smile them to accomplish more.

For the hurry-up company supper, why not try dropped biscuits and cookies? They take about one-tenth of the time of rolled ones, and are every bit as good.

Some housewives have tried systems and schedules and yet never have noticed the amount of energy needlessly lost by bending over sinks and tables too low.

Fifteen minutes of complete relaxation, taken before she gets so tired she can't rest, will do more to keep mother happy and healthy than any amount of "dope."

If an income is to yield its best returns a record must be kept of the way in which it is spent. After that one can see whether or not it has been used wisely.

Aunt Ada's Axioms: "The investments in educating the children pay the best interest."

A fresh pocket handkerchief each day is one step toward stopping the spread of colds.

As good as any of the patent dish scrapers is a clothes' pin kept near the sink, handy for use.

Add two or three tablespoons of tomato catsup or chili sauce to potato soup and enjoy a new flavor.

Don't throw away the celery tops—flowers, as some children call them. Dry them and save for soups.

A fireless cooker is a great little labor saver. Foods can't burn in it and they will cook without watching, freeing mother's time for other things.

It may not be economical to buy an article at less than its market price. There's usually a reason for its being marked down, and often that reason is inferior quality.

Graham or whole wheat bread is more desirable than white bread, but the "staff of life" may be made from other grains than wheat, points out bulletin H 139 from the State College of Agriculture at Ithaca.

Agriographs. The sluggard will not plow by reason of the cold; therefore shall he beg in harvest and have nothing. Prov. 20:4.

After you count up all the combustible wealth in your community, you may decide an auto fire-engine might pay dividends in peace of mind.

Thirty years brought a 50 per cent. increase in the average number of eggs produced by each hen in New York State. It pays to educate hens.

Uncle Ab says: "If a thing ought to be done, somebody'll do it; but it's interesting sometimes to see how long the doing of a good deed is delayed."

Dairying is New York's main agricultural industry, but the Empire State is led by Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Illinois in number of cow testing associations.

One way to improve the farm and increase the labor income is to study agriculture this winter at home. The State College at Ithaca is helping more than a hundred farmers thru its farm study courses.

Arrange to buy fertilizer materials co-operatively in carlots.

A double purpose may be served where fruit bushes can serve for shrubbery plantings.

To remove trees from the woodlot is as important as it is to weed the garden; besides you can burn the wood provided by crooked, defective trees, and from those that are not good timber species.

Good feeding is necessary for milk production. The Scotch say "It is by the head the cow gives milk."

Uncle Ab says: "Gratitude is the most inexpensive commodity of which the world never had an over-supply. Don't forget that the purebred sire is relatively as important in the poultry yard as in the cow barn. It is a good plan to burn immediately all of the trimmings that result from prunings of trees and vines.

SIGN-BOARDS ON THE UP-ROAD

IDEAL

No walk alone have I — no hours serene, No One insistent bears me company. Nevertheless we walk apart far as The East is from the West. Uproad he treads; The Netherlands woo me. He would be with Me tho I hail land's end — he at my side. At utmost star. My brother? No; but like As God and man, as man and God unlike. He is the Man God dreamed that I should be, The Man (His Grace be mine) that I shall be.

Browning speaks his faith in God as a master-builder whose skill and honor are challenged by the incomplete human edifice.

From the atom up to God the journey runs. We were a long time atoms, and a long time many evolutionary forms, and we're going to be forever that which God dreamed before the world leaped out of the sun.

Browning's word is this: "Ah I can never be, all men ignore in me, this I am worth to God."

The most pitiful idea ever invented — and brutally tragic — is the idea that we are fallen from some high estate and doomed to destruction. We are not destructible, comrades.

A modern philosopher defines Religion to be loyalty to the Beloved Community of God. This is an extraordinary simple truth. What else could Religion be? I mean Religion as indicating a purpose to fall in with the divine will, and to play the game according to the rules.

The honor of God will be a flaming consideration, and out of that will go battalions to overcome the evil that hinders the growth of the race.

The honor of man will be a flaming consideration, and we shall feel the thrill of godliness in our adventures in friendship.

The unconsciousness of being an individual in the Beloved Community on whom depends a portion of the work with work an adjustment of harmony. One shall come to feel a vast enthusiasm for God if he knows

Him to be very close and giving Him infinite energy to the task. One shall feel that the situation such as we find it, with a world-full of undeveloped human beings, needing light and impulse and every positive guiding, is a situation — challenging one's utmost.

One's "utmost" indicates one's loyalty to the project.

In a world like this we need All of God, and all of every man.

FARMERS WILL WANT

TO KNOW

If you are a farmer, you are one kind of an insect. If you are an eminently respectable financier, you are another. The bill that permits farmers to co-operate in selling their products says: "Dividends on stock of membership must not exceed 8 per cent per annum."

If you ask "Why?" you are told that Government gives special permission and has the right to regulate. What about national banks, they also operate by special permission of Government, issuing currency against Government bonds? Many of them have paid 25 per cent. dividends and more.

What about the Government's own Federal Reserve Banks that have made as high as 80 and 100 per cent in a year?

To watch the want ads is to keep in touch with chances to buy real estate "right."

FARM BUREAU MEETING IN ANDOVER

Thursday Afternoon, March 9 AT ONE O'CLOCK, IN GRANGE HALL

Potato Discussion

This meeting is called especially for the consideration of Potato Culture, Seed Improvement, Breeding and Selection. Prof. Livermore of the Department of Plant Improvement of the State College, with Mr. Bonstel, on Co-operative Marketing, will be present.

CORRECT FURNISHINGS FOR SPRING

HATS

There is no item of apparel that so quickly emphasizes a discordant note in your grooming as the selection of an unbecoming hat in shape or shade. That you may evade such incongruities we have the correct styles, variety and intelligent understanding to guide you correctly

SHIRTS

Wear cannot daunt, nor laundering dim the rich colors and fabrics that have been developed in our fine Corded Madras Shirts. All the natural strength of the cloth is augmented by the weft of cording and colors fortified against fade. Their fashion as well as their fabric advantages make them judicious shirt investments at $1.50 to $3.00.

Neckwear

Smart because they are in fashion, sensible because they are fashioned from practical, serviceable fabrics. Impressive because a keen sense of color harmony, pattern, elegance and refinement has been developed for us by America's most competent cravat creators.
