

Don't Make This Error

YOUR CREDIT at the bank is a part of your wealth. It should be as carefully guarded and protected as your home or your automobile.

A well known business man almost failed some time ago. His promises strictly. His notes at the bank were allowed to become past due.

When the bank examiners came to look over the loans made by the bank they found this man's record and advised the banker to "go slow" with that man in the future.

It pays to take care of your notes promptly when they fall due—either paying them or renewing them if that is the plan agreed upon.

It is impossible for the banker to work freely with those who are careless on this point.
