There is, however, one way to check the divorce evil in this country. Fire all of the judges.

We are quite willing to have all wrong severely punished, provided we see the judge of right and wrong.

The most remarkable thing about an election is the rapidity with which we forget the rottenness that crops out.

Many a man puts a diamond ring on a girl's finger during courtship and a washtub in front of her after marriage.

ENGLISH ARCHERS LOSE HOME

Ancient Organization Puzzled as to the Disposition of Its Belles' of Days Long Past.

There is a Royal Toxophilite society in England, which has had its headquarters in Regent's park for many years. Now, however, the society has to move, and is concerned as to the future resting place of the wonderful treasury of archery relics now in Archers' hall.

One bow and set of arrows are more than 4,000 years old. These were taken from the tombs at Sakkarah, in Egypt, and are believed to have been in use about 2000 B. C.

Another bow was given to the society by Mahomet Effendi, "ambassador from the Sublime Porte," in 1794, when he came to England for the first time, bringing his bow and arrows with him. When this Turkish official saw the ground at Regent's park he said it was much too small, so he went into a street outside the park and shot his arrows into a field. The distance was measured and found to be a quarter of a mile. Mahmoud was so pleased with this shot that he presented his bow and arrows to the society. The bow is beautifully carved and is of lamprage strength.
