POCKETBOOK AND HUMANITY

POCKETBOOK is in the saddle, with humanity trudging along behind.

This is especially true with regard to the strife be tween labor and capital.

The men in control of our great industrial and com mercial enterprises are fattening at the expense of the stockholders who have invested their wealth. They draw fashioned blunderbuss? big salaries and pull out fat fees while the stockholders have to be content with modest dividends. ...

The same is true in the ranks of labor. The head men are rolling in comfort, draw large salaries, live high, and revel in their despotic power, while the rank and file of the unions toil and sweat and cough up - or take a forced vacation.

The average stockholder in an industrial concern is essentially honest and does not look for any more than is fair and just. He is by no means sure of even that much.

The laboring man who performs the actual toil is in the same class. He would be content with a just wage and steady employment if the czars and the agitators would leave him alone. But they won't.

There is one great trouble with the leaders on both MUCH has been said in the daily sides. The greed of pocketbook prevails over the cause of late regarding the milhumanity. They see nothing except that which is pleasing lions of dollars grafted from the public to their own sight.

Hence the breach, and the bitterness, and the strikes, and the stagnation in business, and the idleness, and the privations and want

Hence the endless turmoil where peace should reign.

EATING OURSELVES TO DEATH

N the days of our forefathers men were keen of mind etive in body and rugged of honesty.

They ate simple food and not too much of it.

The generation of to-day is not to be compared with or in business that our mothers and fathers bequeathed to much organized crime as ins. Our bodies are not in the same pink. us. Our bodies are not in the same pink of condition, and ing over the country to-day. our minds are more or less indifferent except wherein the subject pertains to the profit or pleasure of self.

The reason is simple. Too much to eat, and too much

It is true that we have made wonderful forward strides in the past century. But they are no greater than lapse the opportunities warrant. Then, too, the brains that produced these successes were in the heads of certain individuals, and those individuals were not gourmands.

The fact is, we are literally eating ourselves to death slowly, but surely. We eat as our fancy dictates, and we eat to excess of the wrong food.

If we really knew the proportion of the population that is afflicted with indigestion, or constipation, or both, the figures would be staggering. Correct eating in moderation does not produce either of these complaints.

The child that is stuffed and pampered from the time it leaves its mothers' breast will not produce either a normal mind or body. The system can not properly assimilate the loads of stuff that are shoveled into its stomach. Mental deficiency and bodily ailments are the inevitable

We may eat ourselves to death if we prefer. That is

But we have no right to stuff a child beyond capacity purely our own affair. with food that is injurious to a body not yet matured.

The child knows no better — but we do, or should.

We were unable to remain out of the last war, and the next one will draw us in, if it is on a world scale. For this reason this country should be maintained in a state of reasonable and common sense preparedness.

General Pershing, preparedness dvocates and the American Legior want the Regular Army to remain at 150,000 enlisted men. Congress wants cut down to 115,000.

Why can't we have a "good fellowship" week in this town, with everyone making a special effort to be agreeable to everybody else?

It would create a wonderful spirit of comradship - would bring the people together — would heal old would clear up misunderstandings — would remove frictionwould cement a spirit of community -operation.

It would do no harm, would not ost a penny, but would do an endess amound of good.
