NEW YORK STATE WAS STORM SWEEP

Great Damage by Rain, Wind and Hail Sunday. Central New York Hit Hardest

Another deluge of rain, wind and hail, in some places, was ushered in Sunday. Andover escaped with little damage other than to the highways. Tons of gravel and stone were deposited on the state road in several parts of the village, and some cellars filled with water.

Revised reports received from Sunday's storms, indicated that from 55 to 60 persons have perished in the tempest that swept the metropolitan area, taking its greatest toll among boating parties at City Island.

Heavy Damage in Salamanca

Electrical storms, with a deluge of rain, did heavy damage here. Sweeping down hillsides into the valley in which the city is located, property was washed away and streets became running streams. On State Park Avenue the farm of Oscar Bliss was hard hit. 300 chickens were drowned and a bee colony was carried away. The basement of the Taylor bakery was flooded and about $3,000 damage done.

The Allegany river rose several inches and the pontoon bridge from Wildwood Avenue to Island Park was broken up.

Street car service was interfered with on account of undergrade crossings being covered with water. Lightning put more than 100 telephones out of service. Crops were washed out in various places.

Debris Blocks Warsaw Streets

Perry Avenue was blocked by fallen trees and debris after the cyclone struck here. Telephone and electric wires were torn down and many trees uprooted. Gangs of firemen worked all day straightening the tangled wires.

Two barns on the farms of Will Chapin and Fayette Schenck, just outside of Warsaw, were blown down. A calf was killed in one of the barns, but other live stock was saved.

Syracuse

Torrential rains swept Syracuse and Central New York early Sunday reached the proportions of a cloudburst in the eastern section of this city, trapped a west bound New York Central passenger train with 200 passengers in its swirling waters, all of whom were rescued, washed out railroad tracks and highways, destroying machinery in factories, flooded basements of business houses and cellars of residences and caused damage roughly estimated at a million dollars.

Oneida Hard Hit

Damage estimated at $500,000 resulted from the flooding of Oneida and Cowaselon Creeks in this city after a cloudburst last night. The entire eastern section of the city was under five feet of water. The flood is said to have been the worst in more than 30 years.

Persons living in the flooded district were taken from their homes in trucks and motor cars. No lives were lost, but many narrow escapes from drowning were reported.

OIL DEAL

Michael Casey has purchased one-fourth interest in ten producing oil wells, on the Tom McAndrew farm, known as the McAndrew Oil Co. This gives him one-half interest in the lease.

FLAG STATION FOR ERIE TRAIN NO. 7.

Will Stop at Andover for Jamestown Fares, and to Let off Passengers From Binghamton and the East

The new time table of the Erie Railroad, effective last Sunday, recognizes the existence of Andover one degree more than formerly by making Andover a flag station for train No. 7, for passengers from Binghamton and parts east and picking up passengers for Jamestown and parts west.

Train No. 7, used always to stop at Andover, and there is no earthly excuse why it does not make a regular stop here daily.

The train service Andover has had for the past five years, has compelled our people to purchase automobiles if they wanted to get out of town and back, and the quicker the Erie resumes her old schedule, the sooner will she again receive patronage that is due from our people.

Following is the letter to President B. S. Brundage of the Chamber of Commerce:

Erie Railroad Company
President, Chamber of Commerce,
Andover, N. Y.

Dear Sir:

In connection with the flag stop of train No. 7, which has heretofore been made at Andover to discharge passengers from New York only.

We are pleased to advise that beginning June 11th, train No. 7 will stop at Andover at 10:30 a. m. to discharge passengers from Binghamton and points east (which includes Albany and other D. & M. points) and to pick up passengers from Jamestown and points west.

We are sure this arrangement will be very acceptable and satisfactory to our Andover patrons, and trust you will give all possible publicity thru your organization and local paper.

Yours very truly,
J. H. WEBSTER,
General Passenger Agent Dept.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Again that relentless visitor death has entered our lodge room and a sister, Mrs. Eleanor Hammond, has gone to the home beyond. Her work in the interest of our beloved Order will cause her name to be cherished in the affectionate memory of our lodge and the teaching of Friendship, Love and Truth, therefore be it

POWER FROM NIAGARA

It Will Not Be Long Before Distribution Lines Will Reach Southern Tier

The Niagara Falls Power Company recently applied to the Public Service Commission of this state for authority to purchase the Olean Electric Light & Power Co. This will mean Niagara Falls power in the Southern Tier, and eventually a distribution line from Olean to Hornell.

If this should come, it will mean a boom for the Southern Tier, for it will give them cheap and dependable power.

A meeting of representatives from all towns between Hornell and Olean, should be held immediately to assist this project to culmination.

Before the electric system is satisfactorily arranged the state will take this public commodity over themselves and distribute the electric energy to residents at a nominal figure making good money for their investment and giving a service which is much needed to the interior residents of the state.

At present Andover is well cared for by its splendid industry, The Andover Silk Company. Were it not for the progressiveness of this company we would still be groping in the darkness of half-lighted streets and homes. Our service is good and the price very reasonable. We need, least of all, the Allegany County towns can do about those lots you want to sell.

BRUTAL MURDER AT WELLSVILLE

Jerry Harrington Found With Head Crushed Friday Morning in Island Park. Robbery Motive.

The funeral of Jerry Harrington who was murdered in Wellsville Friday morning or Thursday evening was held at Immaculate Conception Church, Tuesday morning, at 9:30 Rev. Father R. O'Brien officiating.

Friday morning caretaker Foster of Island Park, discovered Jerry Harrington lying near the fountain unconscious. He had evidently been hit over the head with a piece of lead pipe, which was found near him.

Officers, who have been working on the case in an effort to apprehend the murderer, have made little progress, because there is so little evidence to work on. Harrington was taken to the Jones Hospital, where everything was done to save his life but without avail. He died Saturday morning without regaining consciousness.

In searching for evidence, it was learned that Harrington was in Wellsville Thursday and had quite a sum of money with him, but only 45 cents was found in his pockets when discovered Friday. This leads to the conclusion that the crime was committed for the purpose of getting his money. His watch was also missing.

Mr. Harrington was a man of about 50 years. He has been working for Joseph Greenan on South Hill this spring, but was a former employe of the Pure Carbon Works of Wellsville.

Strenuous efforts were made to find relatives of the deceased without effect.

The remains were laid out in rest in Sacred Heart Cemetery, Wellsville.

The Wellsville Reporter of Tuesday says: "The murderer is still at large and no clue has been found to lead, as yet, to his arrest. The officers are still making a search, but there is little likelihood of locating the man or men guilty of the horrible crime."

REPUBLICAN CHIEFS TURN GOLD DIGGERS

Facing Big Deficit and Spectre of Defeat, Party Will Conduct a Drive in Every State

Washington, June 14. — The sky is the limit for contributions to the Republican campaign fund this year. The $1,000,000 deficit established by Will H. Hays for the 1920 campaign, which ran his party into a deficit of $1,500,000, has been entirely abandoned, and a group of the "fat purse boys" of the Republican Party, meeting here with Chairman John W. Adams and Treasurer Fred W. Upham last night, decided to make their appeal to wealthy Republicans this year to "give until it hurts."

Details of the meeting, just leaked out, reveal that the Republican organization is so hard pressed for funds that it will have to conduct a campaign for contributions this year that will be only a little less vigorous than the campaign to elect 34 Senators and 435 Representatives.

The $500,000 deficit remaining unpaid from the 1920 campaign has been virtually abandoned and will be carried for the present on the notes of the prominent Republicans who have underwritten the debt.

Seek to Foil Defeat

All efforts will be concentrated from now on to raise a huge campaign fund for this year to save Republican control of the House and Senate and ward off what appears from here to be a defeat of disastrous proportions.

No precise estimate can be obtained as to the amount of money that will be raised but the general impression is that no less than $1,000,000 will be raised by the National Committee — an extraordinary amount for a Congressional election — and probably as much as $500,000 more for the Senatorial and Congressional committees.

To raise the money, districts will be established, with collectors in charge. Every state will be thoroughly canvassed and the tens of thousands of Republican job holders and prospective job holders will be expected to establish liens on their places by "voluntary" contributions. National headquarters will be maintained at Washington and Chicago, but probably not in New York.

DEACON MORRILL MUSES: no one will believe them even when they tell the truth, but the real guilt of lying lies in the fact that we believe nine-tenths of what we hear no matter who tells it.

DIPLOMAS TO TEN NURSES AT CLINIC

Miss Mary Casey of Andover One of the Graduates. A Fine Program. — Fitzgerald Makes Address

The Olean Times give the following account of the Commencement exercises of the Mountain Clinic Hospital of that city. Miss Mary Casey of Andover, was one of the graduates.

In the second graduating exercises of the Mountain Clinic Hospital Training School, held last evening, ten nurses were graduated. Those receiving diplomas are:

Mabel E. Atwood, Randolph; Mary C. Casey, Andover; Gretchen O. Fritz, Fillmore; Rhoda N. Humphrey, Portville; Ruth Lilly, Fillmore; Martha McViegh, Portage du Fort, Que.; Irene H. Sherlock, Carleton Place, Ont.; Hazel L. Wells, Ceres; Helen B. Whalen, Canadea; Ruth A. Whalen, Black Creek.

A banquet was given to the class of 1922 and the visiting alumnae at 5 o'clock in the nurses' dining hall, which was artistically decorated in the class colors, blue and yellow. At 8 o'clock the Commencement exercises were held in the Clinic auditorium. A fine program was rendered which was well received by an audience that filled the auditorium to its capacity.

The speaker of the evening was Edward W. Fitzgerald. In a very interesting manner he gave the charge to the graduates, especially emphasizing the importance and responsibility in which the profession of nursing is regarded by the laity.

An impressive part of the evening's exercises was the taking of the "Nightingale Pledge" by the entire class. Each address and number evolved about the class motto: "They can who think they can."

In the course of his address Mr. Fitzgerald said:

"To-day is Commencement day for ten of you nurses and I want to say just a word to these young women who have chosen nursing as your career. It is a noble, self-sacrificing labor, but many are the rewards in store for the women who thus consecrate their lives to labor in this part of the Lord's vineyard.

"It will be your chance to distribute sunshine and encouragement to those entrusted to your care, and the great joy of knowing thru the faithful performance of your duty, that you have fairly reached across the great chasm and brought back some soul whose earthly work had not been finished, and the joy and satisfaction of nursing them back to health and happiness again."

The full program was as follows: Address of the Chairman, Dr. S. V. Mountain; chorus, "Song of Spring"; Graduating Class of 1922; Address of the Evening, E. W. Fitzgerald; Salutation, Ruth Lilly; Class Inventory, Rhoda N. Humphrey; Quartette, "Leave Me With a Smile," Misses Helen Whalen, Ruth Whalen, Mabel Atwood and Rhoda Humphrey; Class Motto, "They Can Who Think They Can," Mabel Atwood; Class History, Gretchen O. Fritz; Class Room, Helen Whalen; instrumental, "The Rosary," William Mountain, Jr.; Charge to the Juniors, Ruth Whalen; Class Prophecy, Martha McViegh; solo, "Mother of Mine," Mabel Atwood; Class Diagnosis, Hazel Wells; Class Will, Mary Casey; The Nightingale Pledge, Graduating Class of 1922; Presentation of Diplomas, Dr. S. V. Mountain; Valedictory, Irene Sherlock; Chorus, "Look for the Silver Lining," Graduating Class of 1922.

Rude Rural Rhymes

IN PRAISE OF PLUMBING

I sing the bathtub and its uses, its soap and suds and cleansing juices. How dear to my heart is its porcelain lining when Hannah has scrubbed it all clean and shining, with nowhere upon it a circle of dark, some bather has left for a high water mark. How dear to heart is the hot water faucet, the rack and the towels that spread out across it. I stand awhile on one foot, first, just while the suds are at their worst, then teeter round upon the other to rest and cool its part, boiled brother. As soon as I can stand the heat, I put in both my size-ten feet. The water is still in over hot; I step about before I squat, in hopes to find a cooler spot and waiting wet and one minute, I gingerly settle the rest of me in it. When I was young we had no tubs in which to take our weekly scrubs. If a woman had to bathe had to pitch in and pack some water had to pitch in and pack some water had to pitch in. When that was hot he called for Bub to rustle up a laundry tub. And there with lather overlaid, cold kitchen drafts upon him played. Some folks keep warm with fat and loose flesh, but pa was thin and ran to goose flesh. He sprung the door a cautious crack; his deep base door rang thru the shack and called for ma to wash his back. Then slipping in the soapy juice, he fell and jarred his backbone loose. We have griefs and more are coming, but glory be for modern plumbing. Our lives of weal and we are mixtures but we have all the modern fixtures.
