THAT WELL KNOWN

LAMB OF MARY'S

Every generation of schoolboys and school-girls has its own version of Mary and her little lamb. We note the following as one version of the present rising citizens:

"Mary had a little lamb;
Her father killed it dead.
It followed her to school one day
Between two hunks of bread."

MADAM:

We're making a specialty of blouses for boys, because our experience has taught us that one can't be too "finicky" when it comes to the selection of wearables for that romping, jumping, fun-loving boy of yours.

These "Bell" Blouses are made of percales and fancy pongees, printed and woven madras, big, full cut and they certainly do fit. Priced moderately so you can say is a good supply for the frequent changes that "regular" Junior Americans require

All the other accessories for boys' wear in abundance. Well worth a trip to our store at your convenience.

WHITE BEARS ON MT. RAINIER

Exploring Party Finds Strange Animals and Other Matters of More Than Passing Interest.

The Landry-Berques party attempting a midwinter ascent of Mount Rainier, made some scientific discoveries while encamped at an altitude of 8,000 feet awaiting improved weather conditions. First, several members of the exploring party discovered that an almost pure white bear of medium size inhabits the big mountain and its environs.

The bear, which appears to be identical in shape and movement to the common black bear of the forests, apparently lives in ice caves and snow fissures.

Another find is the frost flower. This wonderful plant is found only where snow is eternal. Bursting from the frozen snow it grows the first day to the height of three feet, flowers the third day and the fourth day resolves into mysterious seed pods, then as suddenly dissolves itself. The stem, leaves and flowers are white. The stalk is one inch in diameter, the leaves—three in number—in the broadest part are one inch and a half in width, covered with unfilamentous cones of snow. The flower fully expanded is star-shaped. Efforts are to be made to gather seed of this snow plant for propagation in artificially cooled botanical gardens in Washington.

The spiral snowdrifts are another curiosity never before seen. At the 8,000-foot height snow drifts in a circular manner, causing it to pile up in spiral or spring-like columns 10 to 20 feet thick. At the top a wind little curlicue of fresh snow tips the frolicsome drift, making of it a veritable white tonalstool—L'Amourre, Wash., correspondence in New York Sun.

He Had Got Rid of It

Barney Barnard is responsible for the story of the Gentile who bought a packet of cigarettes from Mr. Isaac Isaacstein, his regular tobacco costumer. "Isaac," said the customer, after the purchase had been completed, "you gave me a bad quarter in my change the other night." "Impossible," answered Isaac. "I never took or gave a bad coin away in my life. With my 40 years' experience in handling money, I can tell by the touch at once, physical instinct, my boy. I suppose you managed to get rid of it?" "Yes," was the reply. "I have just paid it to you for these cigarettes."
