

WESTERN NEW YORK

LEARN HOW is reported shortly at Penn Yan.

Hornell's city playground has opened for the season.

An addition is being built to the fair grandstand at Palmyra.

Napies postoffice has been advanced from third to a second class office.

Kauka college at Penn Yan is now on the list of colleges for state scholarships.

The new home of the Elks' lodge of Tonawanda will be dedicated in October.

Dunkirk locomotive builders refuse to repair engines from roads that men are on strike.

Daniels Shimmers, for 24 years a patrolman in the corner department, has been appointed captain.

The Yates county farm bureau is offering free-fair tickets as an effort to increase its membership.

Drillers are putting down a test well on the Nelson A. Dye farm, three miles from South Dayton.

Manchester residents saw a flock of 19 muskrat ducks feeding in a swamp just outside of the village.

One-man cars on the Olean, Bradford & Salamanca railroad have been a success and will be retained.

The Crystal City Gas company of Corning is seeking to raise the rate from 68 to 78 cents a thousand cubic feet.

Caledonia Tri-County fair officials expect the largest number of entries the fair has ever had for the fall exhibition.

Perry friends of the Warsaw hospital are equipping and completely furnishing a room at the Warsaw hospital.

Nearly $35,000 was raised by the Jamestown Rotary club for crippled children at the big field day at Coler on park.

The golf course at Cascade park, Springville, has been finished and the country club will hold a golf tournament soon.

The New York Central would discontinue the service of a station agent at Child Center, on the West Shore railroad.

A farmer in Ontario county got $1,000 from 12 acres of peas and has now planted the land to cucumbers for the New York market.

The Hamburg Country club has been incorporated. The club property is located on the road between Hamburg and Athol Springs.

The winter wheat yield in the vicinity of Mt. Morris will be large and the same report holds good throughout the Genesee valley.

The old Emery hill, on the main road from Olean to Rochester, which has been a source of trouble to motorists for years, is being cut down.

Pike business men have bought the State Bank building with fixtures. The Warsaw Trust company will open a banking institution in the building.

The Calf Growers' club of Cohocton under the auspices of the Steuben County farm bureau are raising prize calves. Many boys and girls have entered the contest.

Corning's public swimming pool, which always has had two male attendants, is to have a female attendant as the result of activity by the Woman's club of Corning.

The Genesee textile mills at Pike which were closed last winter have reopened with a new superintendent from Philadelphia. Silk and plush goods will be manufactured.

For the fourth time in many years, more than 200 Rochester college and high school girls will spend their vacation picking berries. The party left for Solids and will be gone four or five weeks.

Experienced growers in the vicinity of Naples claim they have never known the grapes to be as far advanced at this time of year as they are now. The fruit is half-grown and in splendid condition.

Esperanza, a beautiful colonial mansion at Penn Yan, has been purchased by the Yates board of supervisors for a county home to take the place of the buildings that were recently destroyed by fire.

Aug. 8 has been set as the date for a special city election at which time it will be decided whether Geneva shall purchase for approximately $25,000 a strip of land at the foot of Seneca lake to be used for park purposes.

Growers of raspberries in the Hudson river valley, Chautauqua and other berry districts of Western New York, as well as from Geneva, gathered at the New York state experimental station, where they inspected the seedling raspberries that have been developed by the station and which are now in prime condition for observation after 12 years of propagation. The raspberries will be ready for distribution throughout the state this fall.

The Corning glass works, now employing nearly 2,000 men at its local plant, has so many orders on hand that it will omit this year for the first time in several years the annual summer shut-down of three weeks or a month.

Workmen are engaged in putting in a $300,000 concrete freight terminal for the Lehigh Valley railroad at Geneva. The terminal when completed will be equipped with all of the modern appliances for handling freight.

The offer of Frank R. Baird of Buffalo to guarantee to Superintendent of Schools Hartwell the difference between the $10,000 salary fixed by the board of education and the $7,000 authorized by the city council was accepted at a meeting of the board.

Investigation of the Best Aurora branch of the state school at Rome for mental defectives, will be welcomed at any time, says Mrs. Jennie B. Johnson, who is in charge of the home. The county grand jury recommended that the conduct of the institution be inquired into.

Twenty-five business and professional men, who are interested in making Genesee more beautiful, will soon wire "the bridge," preparatory to placing running vines and potted flower plants. This is one of the activities inaugurated by the town planning committee of the chamber of commerce.

Managers of the Genesee county fair have decided to regrade the center field within the racetrack so as to improve the display ring for the horse show. A permanent lighting system for the fair grounds was approved by the managers. Both improvements will be ready for the fair in September.

Assessors of Olean have been assigned the odd task of taking a census of bees for the state department of farms and markets. Several residents keep swarms of bees to raise honey. The census is ordered to determine whether the disease known as "foul brood" is prevalent among bees in Orange county.

The New York State Fruit Growers will hold their annual summer meeting at the college of agriculture in Ithaca, Aug. 9. Plans have been made by which the fruit growers of Western New York will attend this summer meeting may have attention should they visit the state agricultural station at Geneva the day before or following the meeting.

The annual tour of the potato growers, under the auspices of the Farming County farm bureau, will be held this year on July 28. Dr. Baird of the department of plant pathology of the state college and other potato specialists will make the tour, which affords an excellent opportunity to look over the potato situation of Wyoming county.

Seneca Falls police, hotel proprietors and business men are taking exception to what is believed an unfriendly attitude on the part of the managers of the Seneca hotel at Geneva for permitting a notice to remain posted in the lobby warning tourists against Seneca Falls because of "strict enforcement of traffic laws" and "unmanly policemen."

The first annual show and field day of the Wyoming-Pavilion Better Cattle club will be held this week at Pavilion. The cattle will be judged by Prof. McLean of Chicago. In connection with the exhibit and field day an auction sale of six pure bulls will be held. Representatives will be present from various dairy farms and will explain the merits of the different breeds.

Word has been received at Niagara Falls that the caravan of the Michigan farmers' tour will arrive in Niagara Falls on Aug. 7. They will come to the Falls from Fredonia, which will be the eastern point of their trip. The caravan was organized several years ago to enable Michigan farmers to see other parts of the country and to study crop and farming conditions first hand.

The wheat harvest is well under way in Genesee county and there has seldom been a better crop than this year's. The grain is tall and the heads are well-filled and even in size. Throughout the year the weather has been favorable to wheat and the crop came through the winter in fine shape. The damage from Hessian fly has been small, largely due to the care exercised by farmers in sowing on the dates recommended by authorities to prevent infestation. The harvest started last week.

To watch the Want Ads is to find a better place to live, now and then.
